Rumania Accedes To Territory Demands By Russia

Report Rumania Accepts Demands Made By Soviet

Return Of Bessarabia And Bukovina, War-Lost Provinces Demanded

BERLIN HEARS THAT RUMANIA ACCEDES

No Indication As Yet On Turkey's Attitude On This New Development

BULLETIN
(International News Service)

BERLIN, June 27. — Rumania has decided to accept Soviet Russia's demands for return of Bessarabia and Bukovina, war-lost provinces of Russia and Austria-Hungary, respectively, the official Germany news agency DNB reported in a Budapest dispatch today.

According to DNB's information, the Soviet government served an ultimatum on Rumania through the Rumanian minister to Moscow, in which a reply was demanded by 10 p. m. tonight (4 p. m., E. D. T.).

The ultimatum insisted upon immediate return of the two provinces, as well as cession to Russia of naval bases at Constantza, on the Black Sea and several Danubian ports.

Cabinet Summoned

The Rumanian minister in Moscow immediately flashed word to his capital. King Carol summoned his cabinet into emergency session, and soon afterward DNB heard from Budapest that Rumania had decided to accede, presumably thus preventing a new flare-up of hostilities in Central Europe.

King Carol received the German and Italian ministers before discussing the Russian demands with his crown council.

Soviet possession of a naval base at Constantza and similar establishments on the Danube will give the Russians a commanding position in southeastern Europe. There was no indication as to Turkey's attitude vis-a-vis the new development.

With a circus scheduled for the city during the coming month, it is found that the Rosena furnace grounds, used by circuses for some years, and ideally located close to the center of the city, has passed out of circus grounds availability for all time. Industrial development has taken over the site. The Conn Welding plant is erected and already in use on one part of the tent sites of recent years, while the huge building being built by the Pennsylvania Power company on the same territory is rapidly progressing towards completion. Incidentally, nearby another industrial expansion is to be noted, an addition being built to the Johnson Bronze company plant.

Report Large Portion Of French Fleet Will Continue To Fight

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 27.—The British government appeared to have won the support of a large portion of the French fleet today following reports that several major units had sailed into the North African bases of Cassablanca and Algiers prepared to fight on.

These reports stated that the commanders of the French battle craft had assured General August Nogues, commander in chief of the French North African forces, that they would disregard the armistice with Germany and Italy signed by the government of Premier Marshal Petain.

Blames Marshall Petain

Meanwhile, General Charles De Caulle, former undersecretary of war in the Reynaud cabinet, in a radio address broadcast from London blamed Marshal Petain for France's defeat and called upon all

Donate $500 To Buy Equipment For Playgrounds In City At Once

FURTHER AID IS SEEN IN FUTURE

New Castle's Elks lodge last night voted to dip into its own treasury for $500 for the immediate purchase of five of the most modern six-swing racks for placement at several of the 12 city-sponsored playgrounds.

The lodge action, taken at the recommendation of its active social and community welfare committee, promises that within a short time—as soon as the order can be filled—the play centers will have more of the equipment which for a long time has been lacking.

Through no fault of the city fathers, the playground budget this year has been limited to $750—necessary limitations kept it down. The Elks gift comes when the donation is most needed.

Rumors are still about that other civic organizations plan to make financial contributions.

The new swing racks will provide swing seats for 30 children. Six swings are attached to each of the five large standards.

Expect Dewey Will Have Lead On First Ballot

Taft Appears Favorite To Win Nomination As Balloting Nears

WILLKIE WILL BE STRONG CONTENDER

Expect Breaks Among Delegations After First Ballot Is Taken

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 27. — While his rivals declared they have "stopped Willkie," the Republican national convention today neared its hour of balloting with Senator Robert A. Taft the favorite but with Thomas E. Dewey certain to lead on the first ballot.

The "unbossed" delegates will listen to speeches, placing five more names in nomination—after having four names presented last night—before the balloting starts late this afternoon. In all, first ballot voters will be cast for thirteen Republicans, four of whom forego the pleasure of hearing their own virtues extolled to the nation.

Forecast Of First Ballot

A careful survey by International News Service indicated the first ballot will result as follows:
Dewey, 322.
Taft, 240.
Willkie, 122.
James, of Pennsylvania, 72.
Vandenberg, 60.
Martin, Massachusetts, 34.
Manford MacNider, of Iowa, 22.
Former President Hoover, 22.
Bridges, New Hampshire, 21.
Gannett, 20.
Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas, 18.
Senator Charles L. McNary, of Oregon, 15.
Governor Harlan F. Bushfield, of South Dakota at least 8.
The other 25 votes are classed as doubtful but scattered.

Nazi Raiders Again Swarm Over England

BRITISH FLIERS AGAIN RAID RUHR

Movement Grows To Oust Chamberlain Faction In British Cabinet

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, June 27. — At least two German bombers, and possibly three, were shot down in flames today as a large number of Nazi raiders, screened by heavy banks of clouds, again swarmed over England and Scotland.

In the southeast of England, the raid was described as the most intensive launched by the Germans to date.

Make Raids In Germany

Meanwhile, the Royal Air Force, according to an official communique, carried out violent attacks on military objectives in the German Ruhr valley last night.

There was no official indication that the army and navy, collaborating with the air force, had renewed the offensive against German-held bases on the channel coast of France, disclosure of which electrofied England yesterday.

A brief announcement by the war office then stated that parties of daring raiders had landed at various unspecified points and clashed with German troops, an unannounced number of whom were killed. It was announced that the British returned safely with valuable information. They suffered no casualties.

On Demolition Jobs

Military experts believed the raiders had been assigned to demolition jobs along the channel—possibly to destroy oil depots or ship concentrations being prepared for the imminent Nazi invasion of England.

However, official reports stated no serious damage was done, and casualties were said to be slight.

The German planes were sighted flying at great height over northeast and southwest England and northeast Scotland. British fighters, anti-

President Signs New Relief Bill

Aliens, Communists And Nazis Barred From W. P. A. Work

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 27.—President Roosevelt today signed the $1,766,903,000 supplemental military appropriation bill and the $1,157,711,357 relief bill—both of them designed to bulwark national defense.

The relief bill also bans aliens, Communists and Nazis from W.P.A. work.

The big military supply measures carries funds for 3,000 fighting airplanes, provides for an increase in the standing army from 280,000 to 375,000 troops, and appropriates money for start of work on 68 new naval vessels.

The relief bill carried 975,650,000 for W.P.A. and $50,000,000 for relief of Europe's war refugees. Under the bill, all aliens, Communists and members of Bund groups will be outlawed from W.P.A. employment, effective July 1.

Under the relief bill also, W.P.A. funds can be used on national defense projects. If they are, the usual 25 percent contribution required from local sponsors of projects is waived.

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia, June 27—The 22nd G. O. P. National Convention this afternoon completed the business of nominating candidates and then prepared to take the first ballot on a field of thirteen presidential candidates headed by the current favorites—Taft, Dewey, Willkie and Vandenberg.

Balloting will start when the session resumes at 4:30 p. m., a recess having been declared after nominating speeches were completed this afternoon.

Leaders scheduled the first ballot for 4:30 p. m. (EDT) and advised all candidate managers that the delegates would stay in session tonight until a standard-bearer had been named.

Sidewalks Are To Be Inspected

City Moves To Have Bad Sidewalks Repaired — Price Set For Work

Council in session today in city hall decided to appoint a member of the street department as a sidewalk inspector who, Friday, will begin an inspection of sidewalks in the city for the purpose of forcing owners of hazardous sidewalks and property owners not having sidewalks, and who are able to pay, to lay them.

Council last year launched a sidewalk project. The property owner was required to pay 16 cents a square foot. He was charged for WPA labor. However, many persons who own hazardous sidewalks and are financially able to pay, refused to co-operate and some of those who gave judgment notes in payment have not honored them, council declared.

After deciding upon an inspector from the streets department which is under jurisdiction of W. H. Dunlap, council decided to lay new sidewalks this year at a reduction of two cents a square foot.

However, those who want new sidewalks will be required to pay in advance.

There was no official indication that the army and navy, collaborating with the air force, had renewed the offensive against German-held bases on the channel coast of France, disclosure of which electrofied England yesterday.

A brief announcement by the war office then stated that parties of daring raiders had landed at various unspecified points and clashed with German troops, an unannounced number of whom were killed. It was announced that the British returned safely with valuable information. They suffered no casualties.

On Demolition Jobs

Military experts believed the raiders had been assigned to demolition jobs along the channel—possibly to destroy oil depots or ship concentrations being prepared for the imminent Nazi invasion of England.

However, official reports stated no serious damage was done, and casualties were said to be slight.

Dedicate Memorial At Volant College Reunion

Dedication of a memorial boulder, which stands on the site of the old campus of Volant college, at Volant, marked the 25th anniversary of the reunions of the Volant College Alumni, and brought to a close these gatherings in the name of the association on Wednesday, when many former students of the old college and former residents of the Volant Community gathered to pay their last tribute to the founders of the school.

In spite of the threatening weather during the morning, by eleven o'clock, the Volant Methodist church was thronged with students of the old college and former residents who had gathered for the fellowship of the day.

At noon, the ladies of the Methodist church served a sumptuous dinner, the tables being decorated with a profusion of summer flowers

Reunion Program

Immediately following, the program and business session took place with President Homer C. Drake presiding. The invocation was given by Rev. R. J. Rumbaugh, pastor of the Volant M. E. church. Group singing was enjoyed under the direction of Dr. S. A. Kirkbride of New Wilmington, with Mrs. Stella Allen Hunt as accompanist. Several beautiful solo numbers were given by Mrs. Harvey S. Fouse, of Pittsburgh.

The memory of those who have passed on during the year was honored with the annual memorial ad-

'Rowland's Rangers' Work At Convention To Name Gov. James

By BART RICHARDS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 27.—All the preliminaries are over. The velvet gloves are off and from here the boys are playing for keeps. For three days candidates, their managers and delegates pulled their punches in gentlemanly style but when this article gets to your home the balloting will be under way.

Old time political leaders and observers here say this is the first "unbossed" convention the party has had in years. If anybody can say definitely what will happen on the second ballot he is a soothsayer and a savant of the first water.

President Signs New Relief Bill

Aliens, Communists And Nazis Barred From W. P. A. Work

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 27.—President Roosevelt today signed the $1,766,903,000 supplemental military appropriation bill and the $1,157,711,357 relief bill—both of them designed to bulwark national defense.

The relief bill also bans aliens, Communists and Nazis from W.P.A. work.

The big military supply measures carries funds for 3,000 fighting airplanes, provides for an increase in the standing army from 280,000 to 375,000 troops, and appropriates money for start of work on 68 new naval vessels.

The relief bill carried 975,650,000 for W.P.A. and $50,000,000 for relief of Europe's war refugees. Under the bill, all aliens, Communists and members of Bund groups will be outlawed from W.P.A. employment, effective July 1.

Under the relief bill also, W.P.A. funds can be used on national defense projects. If they are, the usual 25 percent contribution required from local sponsors of projects is waived.

Sidewalks Are To Be Inspected

City Moves To Have Bad Sidewalks Repaired — Price Set For Work

Council in session today in city hall decided to appoint a member of the street department as a sidewalk inspector who, Friday, will begin an inspection of sidewalks in the city for the purpose of forcing owners of hazardous sidewalks and property owners not having sidewalks, and who are able to pay, to lay them.

Council last year launched a sidewalk project. The property owner was required to pay 16 cents a square foot. He was charged for WPA labor. However, many persons who own hazardous sidewalks and are financially able to pay, refused to co-operate and some of those who gave judgment notes in payment have not honored them, council declared.

After deciding upon an inspector from the streets department which is under jurisdiction of W. H. Dunlap, council decided to lay new sidewalks this year at a reduction of two cents a square foot.

However, those who want new sidewalks will be required to pay in advance.

'Anti-War' Label Is Hitched To Party For Coming Campaign By Platform

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia, June 27—The 22nd G. O. P. National Convention this afternoon completed the business of nominating candidates and then prepared to take the first ballot on a field of thirteen presidential candidates headed by the current favorites—Taft, Dewey, Willkie and Vandenberg.

Balloting will start when the session resumes at 4:30 p. m., a recess having been declared after nominating speeches were completed this afternoon.

Leaders scheduled the first ballot for 4:30 p. m. (EDT) and advised all candidate managers that the delegates would stay in session tonight until a standard-bearer had been named.

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia, June 27.—The Republican national convention, having already sewed an "anti-war" label onto the party standard, reconvened today to choose a presidential nominee from a field of 13 hopefuls headed momentarily by Ohio's Senator Taft, youthful racket-busting Tom Dewey, utilities magnate Wendell Willkie and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan.

Before the actual balloting could get under way, however, six candidates remained to be placed in nomination, a formality disposed of last night in behalf of Taft, Dewey, Willkie and the New York state publisher, Frank Gannett.

Nominated Today

Slated to be formally nominated in short order today were Vandenberg, Hanford MacNider, Iowa's favorite candidate, Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, Senator McNary of Oregon, Governor Arthur H. James, of Pennsylvania, and Governor Harlan F. Bushfield of South Dakota.

Most any time it seems to me, it's wise to keep a buttoned lip, but times like these, don't spout too much, and if you want it here's a tip. No matter who you want to win, remember words don't win a war, keep quiet when you're on the street let other people keep the score. Right now America should be alert to foes who lurk within, but idle words lead but to grief, you're simply leading with your chin. So button up and stow your words, and if there's anything you would say, be sure you know what they're about, the weather's 77 today.

Coast Attacks Repulsed Says Berlin

German Troops Move In France

More Of France Being Occupied In Accordance With Armistice Terms

GERMAN ATTACKS MADE ON BRITAIN

(International News Service)

BERLIN, June 27.—Attempts by British naval forces to carry out offensive activities against German positions on the French channel coast were "easily repulsed", the German high command asserted in its official communique today.

(Editor's Note: An official British announcement yesterday stated that raiding British units had landed at several points, inflicting casualties on German troops and returning safely to England with "much valuable information".)

German Communique

The communique said:

"In accordance with the armistice terms, our troops advanced as far as the Dordogne section east of Bordeaux.

(Editors' Note: This indicated the Germans have not yet occupied Bordeaux, last seat of the government of Premier Marshal Henri Phillipe Petain.)

"Reconnoiterings by weaker enemy naval forces on the northern French coast on the night of June 25 were easily repulsed.

"One of our submarines reports that it sank 35,000 tons of shipping.

"On the night of June 26-27, German fighters again attacked docks, piers and aviation plans in England. One German plane failed to return.

"British planes continued bombings of western Germany last night without causing military damage. Several civilians were killed and injured.

"Two British planes were shot down by anti-aircraft and another by chasers."

Continues Fight

Gen. Charles de Gaulle

Despite the terms in the armistice signed by Germany and France to the effect that "no Frenchmen are to serve against Germany," Gen. Charles de Gaulle, former undersecretary of war in Paul Reynaud's cabinet, is forming a French war committee in London to continue the fight against Germany.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Lou Marshall.

Mrs. Lou Marshall, aged 70, of 608 Court street, passed away Wednesday evening at 8:43 o'clock at her residence following a long illness. Mrs. Marshall, the widow of W. J. Marshall, had been confined to bed for about ten months.

She was born in New Castle, February 12, 1870, daughter of Sylvester and E. Mary Morrow Gaston, old time residents of Lawrence County. A member of Epworth Methodist church, she was very active in church work and was largely responsible for the founding of the local Italian Methodist church and Neighborhood House. For 50 years, she was a teacher in the primary department at Epworth church and was a charter member of the Reading Circle of '91.

Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Ira Butler; one brother, John Gaston, and one grandson, William Marshall Lewis. Her husband and a daughter, Mrs. William Lewis, preceded her in death.

The body has been removed to the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, where funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. W. A. Thornton, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, in charge. He will be assisted by Rev. Harold A. McCurdy of Brookville, former Epworth church pastor. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

The family will receive friends at the mortuary this evening and Friday evening between the hours of 7 and 9.

Mrs. Harry McClure.

Mrs. Onnor Varley McClure, aged 53, wife of Harry McClure, Canton, O., passed away Wednesday evening at 6:45 o'clock following a lingering illness.

Mrs. McClure, daughter of Owen and Bridgett Varley, was born in New Castle, and resided here until 20 years ago when she moved to Canton.

Surviving are her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Merle Metlin, Irene and Ruth McClure, one granddaughter, Harriet Metlin, all of Canton, and four sisters, Mrs. Thos. Hickey of Canton, Mrs. Katherine Sprott of New York City, Mrs. Mary McNickle of Everett, Mass., and Mrs Leroy Chapman, New Castle.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Peter's church, Canton, O.

James Savage

James Savage, aged 54, manager of the Savage hotel, East Washington street, passed away Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock in the New Castle hospital. He had been ill for the past year and suffered a heart attack Wednesday morning.

He leaves one son, James, Jr.; four sisters and one brother, all in Connecticut.

Teh body has been removed to the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter. The complete obituary and funeral arrangements will be published in tomorrow's News.

Joseph Isabella.

Complications following an illness of long duration resulted in the death of Joseph Isabella, aged 75, of Taylor township, near West Pittsburg, who passed away this morning at 3:10 o'clock at his home.

Mr. Isabella had been a resident of Taylor township for the past 35 years, where he was well known and well liked. He was a gardener by occupation.

Survivors are his wife, Reggett, the following children, Mrs. A.Blundo, of Mt. Clemens, Mich., John, of Wampum, R. D. 1,, George, of Wampum, R. D. 1, Tony, at home and one brother, Thomas of New York City.

The body will be removed to the residence Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Thompson Funeral Time.

Funeral services for William Egbert Thompson, aged 24, 1200 Woodland avenue, North Side, Pittsburgh, will be conducted from the Campbell funeral home, East North street, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in Fair Oaks cemetery.

Mr. Thompson succumbed Monday evening in Denver, Colo., following an accident. He was in the aerial photography corps at Lowry Field, Denver.

The body will arrive in New Castle late this evening and be taken to the funeral home where friends may call at any time.

Mr. Thompson was born in Pittsburgh, August 14, 1915, son of William A. and Gladys Campbell Thompson, and resided there all his life until he went to Denver. He was a member of the Seventh U. P. church of Pittsburgh.

In addition to his parents, he leaves a brother, Robert Thompson of Pittsburgh. He was a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Thompson and the Misses Anna and Laura Thompson, New Wilmington, and a grandson of R. C. Campbell, West Middlesex.

Mrs. Cameron Funeral.

Funeral services were conducted from the Savannah Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock for Mrs. Dora Cameron, New Castle, R. D. 7, with Rev. Samuel Baker in charge, assisted by Rev. R. H. Eckert, pastor of Savannah church.

Two selections were sung during the services by Mrs. J. A. Baker and Mrs. S. C. Baker, accompanied by Mrs. Ed. Garver.

Pallbearers, nephews of the deceased, were Arthur, Earl, Carl, Clyde, Paul and Warren Wiggley.

Flowerbearers were Garnetta, Dora Irene, Vivian and Harry Cameron, Herold Kline, Henry Edward and Lillie Kirkwood, all grandchildren of the deceased.

Interment was in Savannah cemetery.

Mrs. Reiber Funeral

Largely attended and impressive funeral services for Mrs. Lulah Reiber, wife of Edward G. Reiber, New Castle R. D. 5, were conducted from the late residence Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. Abram P. Shaffer, pastor of the East Brook Methodist church, in charge.

Pallbearers were King, Arthur, Philip and Everett McCreary, Norman and George Young.

Interment was in Brier Hill cemetery.

Reynolds Funeral

Funeral services for Frank G. Reynolds, South Mill street, were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Offutt funeral home, North Mercer street, with Dr. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church, officiating.

Interment was in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Phillips Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. Griff Phillips, 508 Lyndal street, were conducted from the Emmanuel Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. Rees T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational church, in charge. He was assisted by Rev. Thomas Francis.

During the services, the church choir sang two selections with Alva Bluedorn as organist and Charles Richards, leader.

Pallbearers were William Phillips, Tom L. Jones, George Marshall, William Lloyd, Jr.; John Smith and Samuel C. Matthews.

Interment was in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Cooper Funeral

Largely attended funeral services for Mrs. Jacob B. Cooper, 114 North Ray street, were conducted from the late residence Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 with Rev. J. H. Boon, pastor of the Gospel Tabernacle, Christian and Missionary Alliance, in charge.

Pallbearers were George Miller, Paul Brown, Merle Kelly, Frank Kelly, Harold Stevenson and Charles McDevitt.

Interment was in Oak Park cemetery.

REPORT PORTION OF FRENCH FLEET WILL CONTINUE TO FIGHT

Frenchmen outside of the occupied areas to rally to the cause of Great Britain.

The British broadcasting company threw its facilities into the battle for French support with a broadcast to all French naval units to put into Colonial or British ports and join in French resistance.

This broadcast, according to reports, played upon developments in the Far East where, it was claimed, Indo-China is threatened by Japan as the result of the Petain armistice.

To Replace Catroux

From Bordeaux, however, came reports that the Petain government had ordered General Georges Catroux, governor of Indo-China, to return to France. He is to be replaced by Vice Admiral Jean Decoux, an expert on far eastern naval defense.

(Editor's note: A Reuters (British) dispatch from Tokyo quoted the Japanese news agency Domei as stating that Japanese troops had no intention of invading Indo-China.)

General De Gaulle in blaming Petain for France's downfall, declared that lack of French tanks and motorized equipment, which, he said, caused the debacle, was entirely the fault of Petain who as marshal of France, led the armies up to 1935.

dress, delivered by Hon. James A Chambers. He paid special tribute to Mrs. Asher A. Galbreath, wife of the founder of the college, whose death occurred several months ago. Others who passed on during the year, and who were remembered by the association were: Robert Braham, Fannia Graham Collins, Emma McWilliams McDowell, Edward McCormick, Mary Bingham Watson, Charles Reno, Agnes Vosler Cunningham, Mabel Shingledecker Hoovler, Mrs. Catherine McCracken and Dr. G. E. Brenneman.

Reunions Terminated

Chairman Harvey Martin, who was head of a committee to secure the sentiment of the members relative to continuing the reunions, reported that because of the fact that Dr. and Mrs. Galbreath had passed on, and that it was in their honor that the reunions were originated, that the majority felt that the reunions should be terminated and the records of the association turned over to the Galbreath family. This report was concurred in, and the records of the reunions and all data pertaining to the association were presented to Mrs. Edith Elliott, oldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Galbreath for preservation in the family archives.

John B. Shaw, of the Volant community was then named president of the Volant Home Coming and Community Day, which will take over the reunions, to which all former college students will be honor guests. Ralph Watson was named as secretary and treasurer. Ably assisting them will be the following committee: P. M. Cox, Ralph Cunningham, Wendell Allen, F. P. Simpson, Warren J. Wikin, James J. McConnell, Misses Mary Minehan and Olive Clinefelter.

By this time, the weather had cleared, and the group proceeded to the old campus, where the formal unveiling and dedication of the boulder to Dr. and Mrs. Galbreath and the founders of the college took place.

Unveil Memorial

Introductory remarks were given by President Drake, who turned the program over to Frank S. Brenneman who was general chairman of the memorial committee. The invocation was given by Dr. S. A. Kirkbride. Mr. Brenneman read a list containing the names of the first students of the college, many of whom were present yesterday and of those who had contributed.

The monument was unveiled by Little Lowell Kent Leonhardt, great grandson of Thomas Clinfelter, for many years president of the board of trustees of the college.

The tablet and stone was then formally presented to the community of Volant by Attorney Thomas A. Sampson, of Mercer, who gave a history of the college and paid a splendid tribute to the old faculty. Acceptance in behalf of the community was made by Judge W Walter Braham, who paid honor to the faculty, which included Dr. and Mrs. Galbreath, Dr. J. B. Bowman, Dr. G. E. Brenneman, Professors Charles F. Ball, J. D. Hart, M. E. Hess and others.

Special souvenir programs which had been prepared for the occasion were presented to all who attended yesterday's reunion.

headquarters has to say about the strength of the others on the first ballot.

Most G. O. P. master-minds expect a violent change on the second ballot, with Taft taking the lead away from Dewey. This will result, they say, because of Willkie raids on the Dewey following, with Taft also getting a slice out of the Dewey ranks with other gains from the favorite-son group.

Taft managers claim his gains will continue until he is nominated on the fourth or fifth ballot. Taft himself made this claim the other day and his managers say every report since then confirms his prediction.

Dewey Managers Disagree

Dewey managers violently disagreed. They asserted the New Yorker had been given assurances his original strength will hold intact against all assaults from Taft and Willkie and that he will gain, rather than lose after the first ballot.

Dewey himself was cheerful and optimistic, declaring:

"It never looked better at any time. After reviewing the whole situation I am extremely confident. I expect to be nominated on an early ballot."

Willkie, on the eve of balloting, contradicted both Taft and Dewey forecasts. Asked whether he expected to be nominated, Willkie called the query an "academic question" and acted as though he had the nomination "in the bag." He conferred last night with Senator Bridges, leading to rumors of a Willkie-Bridges deal of some sort, but both denied this.

Choice In Doubt

Despite all these claims, the convention's choice remained in doubt. Best opinion was that Taft can win if he forges ahead of Dewey and the Deweyites flock to his banner to carry out their threat to "stop Willkie." On the other hand, Dewey can win if he leads on the first ballot and shows any sign thereafter of gaining strength. Should he gain after the first ballot, a Dewey bandwagon may rattle through Convention Hall.

A sign of the uncertainty about the nominee is the persistence and hopefulness of the other dark horses —men like Senator Vandenberg and MacNider who say they are in this fight to the finish. Only the expectation of a bolt of political lightning can be behind their reasoning.

half of the Presbytery, to the pastor and congregation, bringing greetings and best wishes.

Greetings and Pledges

Dr. J. M. Blackwood read the edict for the installation of Rev. Spear, from the Presbytery. Then followed greetings and pledges of cooperation and support by Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, president, on behalf of the Ministerial Association, and also by organizations of the church.

Dr. J. M. Blackwood welcomed Rev. Spear and family on behalf of the elders; Miss Martha Dodds on behalf of the deacons and deaconesses; Mrs. M. D. Allen for the Women's Missionary society and Jack Pattison for the young people. Rev. Spear responded, thanking them for the advice and good words on his behalf, and for the united support promised by the congregation, and said he looked forward to a successful Christian work in the church and community, and would cooperate with the Ministerial Association and the churches for the best interests of the citizens.

The congregation then came forward to greet the new pastor and his family.

Musical Program

Glenn A. Lemon, chairman of the reception committee, presented a short musical program, assisted by Mrs. John Riley, Jr., who also was the accompanist of the evening. The program included: vocal solos, "The Builder", "Whisper Soft and Light", Chester Kyle; trumpet solo, James Mitchell, accompanied by his mother; vocal solos, Mrs. Chester Reynolds, "The Little Schoolhouse", "Homing"; duet, "Whispering Hope", Rev. and Mrs. Norman F. Spear.

Mr. Lemon thanked all that had participated and helped to make the occasion a success.

Refreshments were served by the committee at the close.

Committees in charge of the event were as follows: reception, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Blackwood, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Pattison, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs H. R. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gaston, Glenn Lemon, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy, Wylie McClelland; ushers, John S. Riley, Jr., Milton Pattison; refreshments, Mrs. R. H. Pattison, Mrs. C. E. May Oust Chamberlain Faction

Impetus was expected to be added today to the growing campaign to oust the Neville Chamberlain faction from the British cabinet and thus strengthen the hand of Prime Minister Winston Churchill and his "defence by attack" policy. It was pointed out that Chamberlain, as lord president of the council, and Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer, control sufficient conservative parliamentary votes to constitute a potential "menace" to Churchill's power and thus make the prime minister's position insecure as Britain faces the battle for her life.

During today J. J. Anderson, laborite, was scheduled to ask Home Secretary Sir John Anderson in the House of Commons whether the government is aware that members of the pro-Nazi organization, "The Link," met in London as recently as last week and "discussed the question of peace terms under a sympathetic government."

RAINBOW GIRLS DANCE AT CASCADE ON FRIDAY

Rainbow Terrace at Cascade park will be a fairyland Friday evening, when the annual summer dance of New Castle Assembly No. 1, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, will take place. This will be in the form of a novelty dance, and many surprises are in store for those who attend, the committee has promised.

The various committees, working under the direction of Miss Beryl Morgan, worthy advisor, and Mrs. John A. Templeton, chairman of the advisory board, have spared no time and effort to make this the most outstanding dance yet held by the order, and the response to the invitations sent out previously indicate that this dance will witness the largest attendance of any of these functions yet held.

The favorite local orchestra of the Rainbow group has been secured for the occasion the committee announces.

In addition to a large attendance of the younger social set from this city, many will be attracted from western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio for the affair.

This dance is strictly invitational, it is announced, and members of the advisory committee will serve as chaperons. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 p. m.

DINNER PARTY HONORS MRS. CHESTER CRAIG

Mrs. Chester Craig, an employe of the Strouss-Hirshberg beauty salon, was honored by several of her co-workers on Wednesday evening when they journeyed to the hotel at Zelienople for dinner. Mrs. Craig is leaving July 7 to make her home in Middle River, Md.

Following dinner, the guests, numbering nine, went to the Craig home on the Butler road where informal pastimes were enjoyed. The honoree was presented with a lovely gift from the group.

Mrs. Howard Lowery of Butler was an out of town guest.

MILDRED G. CONNERLY WEDS REV. E. DOWNING

A pretty wedding this morning took place in the Church of the Nazarene, when Miss Mildred Gwendolyn Connerly, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Connerly of 126 North Beaver street, became the bride of the Rev. Everette G. Downing of Hawthorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Downing of New Castle, R. D. 5.

At 11 o'clock, the vows were exchanged before a beautifully decorated altar. Palms, roses, ferns and summer flowers in a wide variety, were used at either side, with the white theme being featured.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white moire taffeta gown, made with fitted bodice, leg-o-mutton sleeves and full skirt with slight train. Her fingertip veil was cap effect, caught with a half crescent of white roses. She carried an arm bouquet of talisman roses and blue delphinium.

Miss Grace Reynolds of this city, as maid of honor, wore blue chiffon, toe length with full skirt, and a wreath of real flowers adorned her head. Her arm bouquet matched. Bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Hilton of Akron, O., Miss Betty Simpson of Volant, Mrs. Lucian F. Downing of Ellwood City and Mrs. Wilbur Downing of the vicinity. They wore identical gowns in pink chiffon, matching to the maid of honor, and wreaths of flowers were their headdresses. Arm clusters of flowers to harmonize completed their attire.

Merritt Downing, Jr., served his brother as best man, and ushering were Wilbur Downing from here, Lucian F. Downing of Ellwood City, Earl Connerly, brother of the bride, of this city, and Arthur Payne of Akron, O.

The impressive single ring service was used, with the Rev. H. T. Lewis of Grove City, officiating. He was assisted by Rev. Delbert Neuzum, pastor of the local church.

Appropriate nuptial music was played by Miss Jeanette Kulkin, pianist of this city. She contributed a short program preceding the entrance of the bridal party, and accompanied as guest soloist, Miss Anna May Shaw of Warren, O. She sang, "At Dawning," "The Sunshine of Your Smile" and "I Love You Truly."

A congratulatory period ensued, and following, the bridal party, their immediate families and close relatives were served a wedding breakfast at a prominent tea room downtown. The nuptial motif predominated, and places marked for fifty guests.

From 3 until 5 o'clock this afternoon, a reception was held at the bride's home. This evening, the newlyweds will leave early for Hawthorn, Pa., where Rev. Downing is established as pastor of the Nazarene church, for another reception, held by his congregation. Afterwards, the couple will leave on a few days' trip, and upon returning, will take up residence on Chestnut street, at Hawthorn. For traveling, the bride wore a turquoise tailored dress with white accessories, and a shoulder bouquet.

Mrs. Connerly wore for her daughter's wedding, a light blue chiffon dress with white accessories, and Mrs. Downing, the bridegroom's mother, chose a rose lace gown and accompaniments in white. Their shoulder corsages harmonized.

The bride is a graduate of New Castle high, with this last June class, and the bridegroom graduated from East Brook high. He is also a graduate of Eastern Nazarene college at Boston, Mass.

Guests were present from Illinois, Grove City, Akron, O., Volant, Ellwood City, and other nearby and distant cities.

RAINBOW GIRLS DANCE AT CASCADE ON FRIDAY

Rainbow Terrace at Cascade park will be a fairyland Friday evening, when the annual summer dance of New Castle Assembly No. 1, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, will take place. This will be in the form of a novelty dance, and many surprises are in store for those who attend, the committee has promised.

The various committees, working under the direction of Miss Beryl Morgan, worthy advisor, and Mrs. John A. Templeton, chairman of the advisory board, have spared no time and effort to make this the most outstanding dance yet held by the order, and the response to the invitations sent out previously indicate that this dance will witness the largest attendance of any of these functions yet held.

The favorite local orchestra of the Rainbow group has been secured for the occasion the committee announces.

In addition to a large attendance of the younger social set from this city, many will be attracted from western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio for the affair.

This dance is strictly invitational, it is announced, and members of the advisory committee will serve as chaperons. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 p. m.

DINNER PARTY HONORS MRS. CHESTER CRAIG

Mrs. Chester Craig, an employe of the Strouss-Hirshberg beauty salon, was honored by several of her co-workers on Wednesday evening when they journeyed to the hotel at Zelienople for dinner. Mrs. Craig is leaving July 7 to make her home in Middle River, Md.

Following dinner, the guests, numbering nine, went to the Craig home on the Butler road where informal pastimes were enjoyed. The honoree was presented with a lovely gift from the group.

Mrs. Howard Lowery of Butler was an out of town guest.

DEFENSE TAXES MAKE ECONOMY IMPERATIVE

THE huge tax bill just signed by President Roosevelt has a purpose which the American people enthusiastically approve. It is to pay for the greatly expanded program of defense upon which the nation has entered.

The burden will prove heavy to many taxpayers, of whom two million additional will now pay direct levies on their incomes to the federal government for the first time.

But whatever the financial burden, it is not to be compared with the physical and mental hardships and privations—not to mention the personal bereavements now being suffered by millions of our unfortunate fellow creatures across the sea.

If we can prevent the infliction of such calamities upon our own people, no price will be too great to pay.

This defense financing is designed to raise nearly four and three-quarter billion dollars during the next five years. The measure, by raising the national debt limit four billion dollars, will enable the government to borrow enough to meet the cost of the new armaments until the additional revenue is received.

Counting regular taxes, the American people will contribute to their government's support during the next twelve months the largest sum in twenty years. The total will have been surpassed only by that of 1920.

But they will have a double satisfaction: the money, if wisely expended, will make their country reasonably secure from attack from any quarter, and the pay-as-you-go policy should wipe out the new debt incurred for defense.

However, in making provision for the costs of defense, congress has not performed its full duty. This is to institute savings wherever possible on non-military appropriations already voted. This does not mean economizing on defense, but for defense, since further costs are plainly foreshadowed.

Financial preparedness is as vital to this nation as military preparedness. Every dollar diverted to any purpose not absolutely necessary for running the government and meeting the legitimate demands upon it means just that much less for protection against war.

DESIRABLE DOLLARS

The American dollar may not be as almighty as it was in the day when Washington Irving so characterized it and promptly was called down for irreverence, but it is still capable of kicking up considerable dust, as a contemporary Canadian situation demonstrates.

On July 1 the United States intends to tighten its regulations against the admission of aliens seeking asylum in this country without first getting official permission to enter, according to official announcement from Washington.

Immediately a million Americans, more or less, safely on this side of the line, interpreted this to mean that the Canadian government would bar Americans from that country. There was no basis for this supposition, but the Americans believed it.

Now, Canada gets a large dollar revenue from American tourists annually. It must have that revenue this year. It needs dollar exchange to pay for war supplies purchased in the United States. Therefore Canada is calling on all agencies of influence in the United States to assure the American tourists that they will not be turned back at the border. On the contrary.

SIXTY-FOUR YEARS

When the United States was observing its 100th birthday with an exposition in Philadelphia, sixty-four years ago this month, one of the exhibits was a curious toy that had been patented only a few months earlier by Alexander Graham Bell. They called it the telephone because by means of it a couple of persons might converse at some distance apart, the sound waves passing back and forth between them with the aid of an electric current. To the majority of visitors to the fair it was a toy, and no more.

But among the visitors was Dom Pedro, Emperor of Brazil, according to the story, whose imagination was stirred by the curious toy. He became enthusiastic and his enthusiasm was caught by Americans of a practical turn of mind. Two years later a telephone exchange was opened in Chicago. Other cities were quick to follow suit and communication by telephone became a commonplace.

Now, hardly more than half a century later, one can talk to the farthest corner of the United States and even Europe, when and if the war permits.

Where the telephone was in 1876, television and the "electric eye" are today, to cite two of the most modern inventions. What will they be and what will they enable mortals to do in the year 2004?

THE MONTH OF GREATEST PERIL

Here is a report of casualties that makes grim reading: "Deaths, 8800; injuries, 800,000." The war in France? No, peacetime in the United States and in a single month: last July. Why go back to last year? Because of all the months, July records the greatest number of accidents, and this period of peril, as the National Safety Council reminds us, will soon be here again.

Every July for the last five years has shown a record of accidents 22 percent higher than that of the average month. Formerly fireworks were chiefly responsible for this ghastly showing. Now we have a generally safer Fourth, but last July motor accidents alone took nearly 2800 lives. Drownings, falls and other mishaps connected with holiday sports and recreations swelled the total.

According to the Safety Council, about one American in 165 was the victim of an accident last July. It is an ironical fact that the time of year in which the largest number of our people seek rest and relaxation to equip them for their daily work should be the season of the greatest danger to their lives and health.

Nothing is to be gained from contemplating last July's depressing statistics unless they shock the American people into taking thought for their own protection and that of others. The coming three months of outdoor recreation will inevitably take a heavy toll of human lives. But it should be possible, through public co-operation with the concerted campaign the National Safety Council is conducting, to reduce last year's figures, which carry such a grave warning to the country.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SIMPLE THINGS BAFFLE US MOST

We parents or teachers "strain at a gnat and swallow a camel". We are always looking for something hard to understand or do. The simple we despise oft-times. We're like the good woman who, after hearing a lecture said of it, "I don't like it at all. I could understand every bit of it."

It's the simplest things I try to expound in this column that, I fear, are least considered by many of my readers. This applies particularly to arithmetic.

Just as sure as I am that the top of my head is smooth, so sure I am that the most troublesome items in arithmetic for the average child are the simple addition and subtraction facts (as 9 and 6 are 15; 3 from 11 are 8), and there are only 100 of each. I will send you a copy of them if you will write me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp. Of course, you might easily write them down yourself.

Trouble All Ages

These simple facts are troubling not only children in the second or third grade but also children in the upper grades, youths in high school and college, even adults.

These simple number facts, not having been completely mastered at the age of 10, 16 or 22, cause the pupil and student to do hundreds of complicated problems wrong in arithmetic, higher mathematics or physics and also cause hundreds more to seem very slow. Yet almost any youth could learn them all by heart in a few evenings! And then have them all the rest of his life!

Why have so many failed to learn these simple facts? Chiefly because they are so simple.

There's a further explanation. In their earlier years at school they were taught, under the guise of reason, to count them, first using objects, then imagined objects, think-ink, for example, as they add 5 and 8, "6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13". They have, as a rule, continued to do this; many to do it the rest of their lives. Imagine the high school student doing this as he adds or subtracts in trigonometry; the college student doing it with a problem in physics or astronomy; or yourself as you check your grocery bill.

No matter how long you practice on this, you can't do much better at it. Nor can you ever do it very fast.

Never Mind Speed

But every child at school is crowded at times—some with barbarous daily drills at adding or subtracting with a watch held over them. Under the pressure, what does he do? He takes a chance: he guesses, often wrong, practicing on the wrongs as well as the rights, rarely or never attaining a high degree of accuracy. Neither does he get much speed, as a rule, since the errors slow him up.

Here is something any parent can do to help a child at any age who has trouble with these simple number facts. Without haste or rebuke, find out just which of those number facts the child knows by heart or does not know, which he must count out. Then induce him to memorize, without error, those he does not know, attacking only a few at a sitting. But this is so simple that most parents will ignore it; and most teachers will. Some just won't like it because they can understand it, I'm afraid.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. My four-year-old boy after going to bed finds all sorts of ways to call me back to him over a period of an hour or more—every night.

A. As you help him prepare for bed tonight, announce clearly to him that once you leave you are not coming back. Then prove your word is good and act as if you are deaf, no matter how long he calls to you. In order for this to work he must also know that he must not get out of bed to come to you. Better not attack this problem until you have trained him by day in the strict meaning of NO.

SELF-APPRAISEMENT

I do so many foolish things!
At afternoons go roaming far
And think it heart contentment brings
To drive a golf ball straight and far.

And I am vain and think it shame
At night to walk in common dress,
Holding a tail coat linked to fame,
A silk hat joined to happiness.

I often chuckle at myself,
A sorry fool indeed am I!
Books still unread fill every shelf,
Yet book men call and more I buy.

To strangers glib I'll lend an ear
And trust to them for dividends,
Yet, offered four per cent a year,
I will not listen to my friends.

So many foolish blunders made,
So many ventures gone amiss.
For me so many pitfalls made!
'Tis luck I've 'scaped as long as this.

They are those made conspicuous by stripes, other decided contrasts, vivid colors, brilliant shades, fad and ultra styles. A girl who has walked by under my window for months has in her hat of exaggerated style two white arrows crossed and laid on the crown. They interested me for a few weeks, since when they have whizzed at me, as from a bow. A conservative hat I should not have noticed. Another neighbor, across the street, has turned out in the same black and white striped confection day after day until I really wait for those stripes as I would for a line of soldiers. Were her only business dress something conservative, in navy blue, for example, I would be conscious of her—a very attractive woman—instead of the fact that she has to wear her clothes until they get on my nerves.

What's What At A Glance

Youth Training Plan Contraversial
President's Committee To Report Soon
Military Conscription Differs From Draft

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, June 27.—President Roosevelt's plan for the compulsory industrial training of about 2,000,000 youths annually, as a part of Uncle Sam's permanent national defensive program hasn't assumed a sufficiently concrete form yet to have elicited much general comment.

However, the president already has delegated to Sidney Hillman, our National Defense Council's labor co-ordinator, the task of presenting the scheme coherently enough for congressional consideration. The supposition is that Hillman will have it in shape for popular discussion by late July or early August. Thenceforward it's a safe prediction that it will be the subject of plenty of "pro" and "con" argument—preponderantly adverse, I'd judge, from the little I've heard concerning it thus far.

As previously remarked, to date it's too vague for the man in the street to have paid much attention to it, but our legislators on Capitol hill began debating it informally from the minute that the White House tentatively suggested it thru the news correspondents' corps.

Anti-Rooseveltians instantly turned thumbs down on it. Administration leaders, surprised at first, now speak favorably of the scheme, but even they say they think the public will need to be considerably "educated" before it takes to it.

Plain Work vs. Soldiering

Congressional critics refer to military conscription as altogether a different thing from a draft for ordinary industrial training.

Folk doubtless deplore and probably largely resent the forcible mustering of the country's sons into the nation's fighting ranks. Nevertheless, the whole world's more or less accustomed to it. It's been the rule for generations, both in war and in peace time, throughout continental Europe. We've had it in the United States in emergencies. It never has been deemed undemocratic. The freest peoples on earth, like the Swiss, have relied on it.

In fact, it's been rated in some lands, almost as a symbol of their democracy.

In drafting the boys to train 'em into efficient industrial workers is another sort of a proposition. Our youth administration unquestionably has some such end in mind, but it's been purely voluntary. It hasn't conscripted anybody.

Forced Labor?

Many of our lawmakers at Capitol Hill's end of Washington's Pennsylvania avenue—the opposite end from the White House—mention the presidential plan of youth's industrial conscription as smacking strongly of Herr Hitler's compulsory labor training camps—in short, temporarily forced labor—a kind of slavery.

Maybe this is an inexact way of putting it.

Maybe an industrial trainee is no more a slave than is a military trainee.

All the same, we're in the habit of drawing a distinction.

It's true, we have compulsory education in the United States. Our children are required to learn "reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic", as well as a few other fundamentals—or their parents are required to see that their youngsters are so prepared for the future. It's recognized, not only that the kids are entitled to it, but it's for the good of our civilization generally.

What's the Limit?

But is it to be assumed that our rising generation must be trained industrially, as well as clerically and militarily and domestically (for the German system is compulsorily to train little girls, too, as housekeepers) in the public interest?

We don't know yet, since Sidney

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MORE TRAINED ARTISANS

The best-laid plans for national defense, backed by ample funds for financing them, still depend for their execution upon the availability of an adequate labor force. With millions of men unemployed it is a paradoxical fact that the recruitment of a working force capable of turning out modern implements of warfare on a tremendously expanded scale will, nevertheless, be extremely difficult.

Ironical though it seems, the prolonged and widespread depression has already led to labor shortages in many industries requiring the services of skilled men. That is because the depression discouraged the training of apprentices and forced a disproportionably large number of applicants for skilled work into the unskilled labor market. In face of this lingering situation our industrialists are today suddenly confronted by the challenge of a huge defense program.

It is apparent, therefore, that a great deal of time and money will have to be devoted to preliminary training programs in preparation for the plant expansion required to satisfy our defense needs. The main responsibility will have to be assumed by industrial leaders familiar with the problem presented and equipped with facilities for instructing novices. It is encouraging that the problem of man power is already the subject of earnest discussion among industrial experts representing manufacturing companies.

Under the circumstances, it looks as if shortage may well prove the major obstacle to speedy attainment of the goals set by the defense program. That will certainly be the case unless extensive and varied training programs are launched with a minimum of delay.

The Great Game Of Politics

Two Hares And A Tortoise

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.

SO FAR as the nomination is concerned, the Republican situation here is still so cloudy that any forecast is a mere guess and every prediction based on wishful thinking. The leaderless, not to say irresponsible, character of the convention persists, which is as attractive from one point of view as it is appalling from another.

THIS STATE of affairs will continue until the successful aspirant is definitely known. The moment that happens, his friends take charge and it is no longer an unbossed assemblage. However, we are a considerable distance from that stage yet. True, it is clearer than yesterday that the fight is between Senator Taft and Mr. Willkie, with the odds slightly favoring the former. But the extraordinary progress which has marked the Willkie candidacy easily may shift that before a ballot is taken.

NOTHING BETTER shows the instability of the political scenery than the agreement among observers generally that the candidate who will get the most votes on the first ballot—Mr. Dewey—is almost out of the race. Certainly, he will get fewer votes on the second and still fewer on the third ballot than on the first. Two months ago he seemed a sure winner. Today there is a chance that if Mr. Taft and Mr. Willkie kill each other off, Mr. Dewey might recover lost ground. But it is not much of a chance. Despite the Dewey commitments and the big shadow of Mr. Hoover, which after his great speech, looms very large indeed—despite these things, most of the delegates are convinced that either Senator Taft or Mr. Willkie will be their nominee.

THE SITUATION is unlike any that can be recalled by one who has been attending national conventions since McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt were nominated in this city forty years ago. It somehow makes you think of the old fable of the tortoise and the hare. Last spring, in both the polls and the primaries, old tortoise Taft was passed by the leaping Dewey hare, who seemed running away with the prize. Before this convention convened, however, tortoise Taft, plugging steadily along in his methodical way, had passed the Dewey hare and seemed well ahead of the serious competitors. Suddenly from the rear there appeared another hare—the Willkie hare—a higher-leaping, faster-moving, stronger, altogether classier hare, running very fast and full of determination.

THE QUESTION IS, will the Willkie hare be tripped up or knocked off by the missiles being thrown at him from the sidelines, or whether, protected from the snipers by a really phenomenal popular support, he will pass the tortoise in the stretch? No one can tell about that. Beating one hare is one thing, but beating two hares in the same race is quite another. It might be done, but hardly with a hare that does not lie down somewhere along the road to take a nap. And this Willkie hare won't do that. Still, the old tortoise, tireless, steady, reliable, keeps moving along. "Give him time enough," said one of his friends today, "and he is bound to win any race." Perhaps that is true, but the point about this race is that there is a time limit, and it is not very far off now.

IT MAY be that Senator Taft has not got the time he requires to win, but this he has got—to wit, the most effective set of political aides in Philadelphia. Neither Mr. Willkie nor Mr. Dewey nor anyone else has a group comparable in political skill to the quintet around Senator Taft. Mr. Dewey, it is true, has Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick Sims, who is hard to beat, but she is only one person. And he has a number of first-class and experienced men like Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Russell Sprague and Mr. Jaeckel, but they lack the coherence and force of the Taft group. As for Mr. Willkie, his is a one-man show, run almost entirely by amateurs, enthusiastic but inexperienced.

FIRST IN the Taft group is his brother, "Charley" Taft, able, engaging and energetic. Then there is his law partner, former Congressman John Hollister, astute, likable, informed and with the widest kind of political acquaintance. A third is John Marshall, of West

But whatever the financial burden, it is not to be compared with the physical and mental hardships and privations—not to mention the personal bereavements now being suffered by millions of our unfortunate fellow creatures across the sea.

If we can prevent the infliction of such calamities upon our own people, no price will be too great to pay.

This defense financing is designed to raise nearly four and three-quarter billion dollars during the next five years. The measure, by raising the national debt limit four billion dollars, will enable the government to borrow enough to meet the cost of the new armaments until the additional revenue is received.

Counting regular taxes, the American people will contribute to their government's support during the next twelve months the largest sum in twenty years. The total will have been surpassed only by that of 1920.

But they will have a double satisfaction: the money, if wisely expended, will make their country reasonably secure from attack from any quarter, and the pay-as-you-go policy should wipe out the new debt incurred for defense.

However, in making provision for the costs of defense, congress has not performed its full duty. This is to institute savings wherever possible on non-military appropriations already voted. This does not mean economizing on defense, but for defense, since further costs are plainly foreshadowed.

Financial preparedness is as vital to this nation as military preparedness. Every dollar diverted to any purpose not absolutely necessary for running the government and meeting the legitimate demands upon it means just that much less for protection against war.

DESIRABLE DOLLARS

The American dollar may not be as almighty as it was in the day when Washington Irving so characterized it and promptly was called down for irreverence, but it is still capable of kicking up considerable dust, as a contemporary Canadian situation demonstrates.

On July 1 the United States intends to tighten its regulations against the admission of aliens seeking asylum in this country without first getting official permission to enter, according to official announcement from Washington.

Immediately a million Americans, more or less, safely on this side of the line, interpreted this to mean that the Canadian government would bar Americans from that country. There was no basis for this supposition, but the Americans believed it.

Now, Canada gets a large dollar revenue from American tourists annually. It must have that revenue this year. It needs dollar exchange to pay for war supplies purchased in the United States. Therefore Canada is calling on all agencies of influence in the United States to assure the American tourists that they will not be turned back at the border. On the contrary.

SIXTY-FOUR YEARS

When the United States was observing its 100th birthday with an exposition in Philadelphia, sixty-four years ago this month, one of the exhibits was a curious toy that had been patented only a few months earlier by Alexander Graham Bell. They called it the telephone because by means of it a couple of persons might converse at some distance apart, the sound waves passing back and forth between them with the aid of an electric current. To the majority of visitors to the fair it was a toy, and no more.

But among the visitors was Dom Pedro, Emperor of Brazil, according to the story, whose imagination was stirred by the curious toy. He became enthusiastic and his enthusiasm was caught by Americans of a practical turn of mind. Two years later a telephone exchange was opened in Chicago. Other cities were quick to follow suit and communication by telephone became a commonplace.

Now, hardly more than half a century later, one can talk to the farthest corner of the United States and even Europe, when and if the war permits.

Where the telephone was in 1876, television and the "electric eye" are today, to cite two of the most modern inventions. What will they be and what will they enable mortals to do in the year 2004?

THE MONTH OF GREATEST PERIL

Here is a report of casualties that makes grim reading: "Deaths, 8800; injuries, 800,000." The war in France? No, peacetime in the United States and in a single month: last July. Why go back to last year? Because of all the months, July records the greatest number of accidents, and this period of peril, as the National Safety Council reminds us, will soon be here again.

Every July for the last five years has shown a record of accidents 22 percent higher than that of the average month. Formerly fireworks were chiefly responsible for this ghastly showing. Now we have a generally safer Fourth, but last July motor accidents alone took nearly 2800 lives. Drownings, falls and other mishaps connected with holiday sports and recreations swelled the total.

According to the Safety Council, about one American in 165 was the victim of an accident last July. It is an ironical fact that the time of year in which the largest number of our people seek rest and relaxation to equip them for their daily work should be the season of the greatest danger to their lives and health.

Nothing is to be gained from contemplating last July's depressing statistics unless they shock the American people into taking thought for their own protection and that of others. The coming three months of outdoor recreation will inevitably take a heavy toll of human lives. But it should be possible, through public co-operation with the concerted campaign the National Safety Council is conducting, to reduce last year's figures, which carry such a grave warning to the country.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SIMPLE THINGS BAFFLE US MOST

We parents or teachers "strain at a gnat and swallow a camel". We are always looking for something hard to understand or do. The simple we despise oft-times. We're like the good woman who, after hearing a lecture said of it, "I don't like it at all. I could understand every bit of it."

It's the simplest things I try to expound in this column that, I fear, are least considered by many of my readers. This applies particularly to arithmetic.

Just as sure as I am that the top of my head is smooth, so sure I am that the most troublesome items in arithmetic for the average child are the simple addition and subtraction facts (as 9 and 6 are 15; 3 from 11 are 8), and there are only 100 of each. I will send you a copy of them if you will write me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp. Of course, you might easily write them down yourself.

Trouble All Ages

These simple facts are troubling not only children in the second or third grade but also children in the upper grades, youths in high school and college, even adults.

These simple number facts, not having been completely mastered at the age of 10, 16 or 22, cause the pupil and student to do hundreds of complicated problems wrong in arithmetic, higher mathematics or physics and also cause hundreds more to seem very slow. Yet almost any youth could learn them all by heart in a few evenings! And then have them all the rest of his life!

Why have so many failed to learn these simple facts? Chiefly because they are so simple.

There's a further explanation. In their earlier years at school they were taught, under the guise of reason, to count them, first using objects, then imagined objects, thinkink, for example, as they add 5 and 8, "6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13". They have, as a rule, continued to do this; many to do it the rest of their lives. Imagine the high school student doing this as he adds or subtracts in trigonometry; the college student doing it with a problem in physics or astronomy; or yourself as you check your grocery bill.

No matter how long you practice on this, you can't do much better at it. Nor can you ever do it very fast.

Never Mind Speed

But every child at school is crowded at times—some with barbarous daily drills at adding or subtracting with a watch held over them. Under the pressure, what does he do? He takes a chance: he guesses, often wrong, practicing on the wrongs as well as the rights, rarely or never attaining a high degree of accuracy. Neither does he get much speed, as a rule, since the errors slow him up.

Here is something any parent can do to help a child at any age who has trouble with these simple number facts. Without haste or rebuke, find out just which of those number facts the child knows by heart or does not know, which he must count out. Then induce him to memorize, without error, those he does not know, attacking only a few at a sitting. But this is so simple that most parents will ignore it; and most teachers will. Some just won't like it because they can understand it, I'm afraid.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. My four-year-old boy after going to bed finds all sorts of ways to call me back to him over a period of an hour or more—every night.

A. As you help him prepare for bed tonight, announce clearly to him that once you leave you are not coming back. Then prove your word is good and act as if you are deaf, no matter how long he calls to you. In order for this to work he must also know that he must not get out of bed to come to you. Better not attack this problem until you have trained him by day in the strict meaning of NO.

SELF-APPRAISEMENT

I do so many foolish things!
At afternoons go roaming far
And think it heart contentment brings
To drive a golf ball straight and far.

And I am vain and think it shame
At night to walk in common dress,
Holding a tail coat linked to fame,
A silk hat joined to happiness.

I often chuckle at myself.
A sorry fool indeed am I!
Books still unread fill every shelf,
Yet book men call and more I buy.

To strangers glib I'll lend an ear
And trust to them for dividends,
Yet, offered four per cent a year,
I will not listen to my friends.

So many foolish blunders made,
So many ventures gone amiss.
For me so many pitfalls made!
'Tis luck I've 'scaped as long as this.

The girl around the corner from me who can afford but one new outfit a season makes the grave mistake of investing her hard-earned salary in clothes that become tiresome to the eye long before they can be renewed. What clothes are of this category, you ask?

They are those made conspicuous by stripes, other decided contrasts, vivid colors, brilliant shades, fad and ultra styles. A girl who has walked by under my window for months has in her hat of exaggerated style two white arrows crossed and laid on the crown. They interested me for a few weeks, since when they have whizzed at me, as from a bow. A conservative hat I should not have noticed. Another neighbor, across the street, has turned out in the same black and white striped confection day after day until I really wait for those stripes as I would for a line of soldiers. Were her only business dress something conservative, in navy blue, for example, I would be conscious of her—a very attractive woman—instead of the fact that she has to wear her clothes until they get on my nerves.

Youth Training Plan Contraversial
President's Committee To Report Soon
Military Conscription Differs From Draft

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, June 27.—President Roosevelt's plan for the compulsory industrial training of about 2,000,000 youths annually, as a part of Uncle Sam's permanent national defensive program hasn't assumed a sufficiently concrete form yet to have elicited much general comment.

However, the president already has delegated to Sidney Hillman, our National Defense Council's labor co-ordinator, the task of presenting the scheme coherently enough for congressional consideration. The supposition is that Hillman will have it in shape for popular discussion by late July or early August. Thenceforward it's a safe prediction that it will be the subject of plenty of "pro" and "con" argument—preponderantly adverse, I'd judge, from the little I've heard concerning it thus far.

As previously remarked, to date it's too vague for the man in the street to have paid much attention to it, but our legislators on Capitol hill began debating it informally from the minute that the White House tentatively suggested it thru the news correspondents' corps.

Anti-Rooseveltians instantly turned thumbs down on it. Administration leaders, surprised at first, now speak favorably of the scheme, but even they say they think the public will need to be considerably "educated" before it takes to it.

Plain Work vs. Soldiering

Congressional critics refer to military conscription as altogether a different thing from a draft for ordinary industrial training.

Folk doubtless deplore and probably largely resent the forcible mustering of the country's sons into the nation's fighting ranks. Nevertheless, the whole world's more or less accustomed to it. It's been the rule for generations, both in war and in pence time, throughout continental Europe. We've had it in the United States in emergencies. It never has been deemed undemocratic. The freest peoples on earth, like the Swiss, have relied on it.

In fact, it's been rated in some lands, almost as a symbol of their democracy.

In drafting the boys to train 'em into efficient industrial workers is another sort of a proposition. Our youth administration unquestionably has some such end in mind, but it's been purely voluntary. It hasn't conscripted anybody.

Forced Labor?

Many of our lawmakers at Capitol Hill's end of Washington's Pennsylvania avenue—the opposite end from the White House—mention the presidential plan of youth's industrial conscription as smacking strongly of Herr Hitler's compulsory labor training camps—in short, temporarily forced labor—a kind of slavery.

Maybe this is an inexact way of putting it.

Maybe an industrial trainee is no more a slave than is a military trainee.

All the same, we're in the habit of drawing a distinction.

It's true, we have compulsory education in the United States. Our children are required to learn "reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic", as well as a few other fundamentals—or their parents are required to see that their youngsters are so prepared for the future. It's recognized, not only that the kids are entitled to it, but it's for the good of our civilization generally.

What's the Limit?

But is it to be assumed that our rising generation must be trained industrially, as well as clerically and militarily and domestically (for the German system is compulsorily to train little girls, too, as housekeepers) in the public interest?

We don't know yet, since Sidney

MORE TRAINED ARTISANS

The best-laid plans for national defense, backed by ample funds for financing them, still depend for their execution upon the availability of an adequate labor force. With millions of men unemployed it is a paradoxical fact that the recruitment of a working force capable of turning out modern implements of warfare on a tremendously expanded scale will, nevertheless, be extremely difficult.

Ironical though it seems, the prolonged and widespread depression has already led to labor shortages in many industries requiring the services of skilled men. That is because the depression discouraged the training of apprentices and forced a disproportionably large number of applicants for skilled work into the unskilled labor market. In face of this lingering situation our industrialists are today suddenly confronted by the challenge of a huge defense program.

It is apparent, therefore, that a great deal of time and money will have to be devoted to preliminary training programs in preparation for the plant expansion required to satisfy our defense needs. The main responsibility will have to be assumed by industrial leaders familiar with the problem presented and equipped with facilities for instructing novices. It is encouraging that the problem of man power is already the subject of earnest discussion among industrial experts representing manufacturing companies.

Under the circumstances, it looks as if shortage may well prove the major obstacle to speedy attainment of the goals set by the defense program. That will certainly be the case unless extensive and varied training programs are launched with a minimum of delay.

Two Hares And A Tortoise

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.

SO FAR as the nomination is concerned, the Republican situation here is still so cloudy that any forecast is a mere guess and every prediction based on wishful thinking. The leaderless, not to say irresponsible, character of the convention persists, which is as attractive from one point of view as it is appalling from another.

THIS STATE of affairs will continue until the successful aspirant is definitely known. The moment that happens, his friends take charge and it is no longer an unbossed assemblage. However, we are a considerable distance from that stage yet. True, it is clearer than yesterday that the fight is between Senator Taft and Mr. Willkie, with the odds slightly favoring the former. But the extraordinary progress which has marked the Willkie candidacy easily may shift that before a ballot is taken.

NOTHING BETTER shows the instability of the political scenery than the agreement among observers generally that the candidate who will get the most votes on the first ballot—Mr. Dewey—is almost out of the race. Certainly, he will get fewer votes on the second and still fewer on the third ballot than on the first. Two months ago he seemed a sure winner. Today there is a chance that if Mr. Taft and Mr. Willkie kill each other off, Mr. Dewey might recover lost ground. But it is not much of a chance. Despite the Dewey commitments and the big shadow of Mr. Hoover, which after his great speech, looms very large indeed—despite these things, most of the delegates are convinced that either Senator Taft or Mr. Willkie will be their nominee.

THE SITUATION is unlike any that can be recalled by one who has been attending national conventions since McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt were nominated in this city forty years ago. It somehow makes you think of the old fable of the tortoise and the hare. Last spring, in both the polls and the primaries, old tortoise Taft was passed by the leaping Dewey hare, who seemed running away with the prize. Before this convention convened, however, tortoise Taft, plugging steadily along in his methodical way, had passed the Dewey hare and seemed well ahead of the serious competitors. Suddenly from the rear there appeared another hare—the Willkie hare—a higher-leaping, faster-moving, stronger, altogether classier hare, running very fast and full of determination.

THE QUESTION IS, will the Willkie hare be tripped up or knocked off by the missiles being thrown at him from the sidelines, or whether, protected from the snipers by a really phenomenal popular support, he will pass the tortoise in the stretch? No one can tell about that. Beating one hare is one thing, but beating two hares in the same race is quite another. It might be done, but hardly with a hare that does not lie down somewhere along the road to take a nap. And this Willkie hare won't do that. Still, the old tortoise, tireless, steady, reliable, keeps moving along. "Give him time enough," said one of his friends today, "and he is bound to win any race." Perhaps that is true, but the point about this race is that there is a time limit, and it is not very far off now.

IT MAY be that Senator Taft has not got the time he requires to win, but this he has got—to wit, the most effective set of political aides in Philadelphia. Neither Mr. Willkie nor Mr. Dewey nor anyone else has a group comparable in political skill to the quintet around Senator Taft. Mr. Dewey, it is true, has Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick Sims, who is hard to beat, but she is only one person. And he has a number of first-class and experienced men like Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Russell Sprague and Mr. Jaeckel, but they lack the coherence and force of the Taft group. As for Mr. Willkie, his is a one-man show, run almost entirely by amateurs, enthusiastic but inexperienced.

FIRST IN the Taft group is his brother, "Charley" Taft, able, engaging and energetic. Then there is his law partner, former Congressman John Hollister, astute, likable, informed and with the widest kind of political acquaintance. A third is John Marshall, of West

ANNIVERSARY PARTY AT D'CARBO RESIDENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeGegory, 139 Market street, Williamsport, are visiting the former's only sister, Mrs. Concetta DeCarbo of 10 Maitland street. The latter entertained recently in her home, a group of immediate relatives, for the purpose of honoring Mr. DeGegory on his 64th birthday anniversary.

A varied program of entertainment was featured, with all participating, and a humorous playlet was presented by two of the assemblage, Mrs. Louise DeMucco and Mrs. Edith Audino.

During the evening, Mr. and Mrs. James DeCarbo, nee Marian Casbero, son and daughter-in-law of the hostess, returned from their wedding trip, their marriage having taken place several days ago. They too shared, in being given special recognition by the assemblage.

Refreshments were served afterwards, with Mrs. Anna Alfano, Mrs. Louise DeMuccio and Christina Catalano, aiding Mrs. DeCarbo.

In remembrance of his anniversary, Mr. DeGegory was presented with many handsome gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. DeGegory will remain in New Castle as guests at the DeCarbo residence, until after the marriage of another member of the family, that of Michael DeCarbo, which takes place on Monday. The wedding party will be announced.

RETURN HOME FROM STATE CONVENTION

Mrs. Lillian Falls, president of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary, and Mrs. Evelyn Woods, district president, have returned home from York, Pa., where they attended the state convention of the V. F. W. and auxiliary last week.

While there, Mrs. Woods received first prize for the best Americanism report and the Corporal Harry L. McBride auxiliary received first prize for rehabilitation work.

Mrs. Woods was re-elected district president at DuBois in May 19 and her election was ratified at the encampment for two years.

D'MARZIO-COLELLA WEDDING IN CHURCH

Quiet and impressive was the ceremony performed this morning in St. Vitus church, uniting in marriage Miss Ann DiMarzio, daughter of Frank DiMarzio, 937 South Mill street, and Leonard Colella, son of Mrs. Marie Colella, of Youngstown, O. The vows were exchanged before a decorated altar of flowers, at 9:30 o'clock, with Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita officiating, and using the single ring service. A period of organ music was heard preceding the approach of the bridal party.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white dotted net gown, made entrain, with sweetheart neckline and full skirt. Her tulle veil was trimmed with lace and caught with a peaked crown covered with rhinestones. As her only jewelry she wore a gold cross, a gift from the groom, and carried an arm bouquet of valley lilies and orchids.

Miss Rose Leone, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor wore a blue dotted net gown, made with full skirt. Her accessories were of pink and she carried pink roses. Joseph DiMarzio served the groom as best man.

Bridesmaids, Rose Colella, Annette Giancola, Eleanore Rubbo, Mary Millione, Mary Nuzzo and Vincie Chirumbolo, all wore pink dotted net gowns with blue accessories. Their bouquets were of Johanna Hill roses. Ushering were John Colella, Joseph Colella, Joseph Giancola, Frank Leone, Ted Rubbo and Mario DiMarzio. Little Virginia DiMarzio, as ring bearer wore a white dotted net gown.

A wedding dinner was served to members of the immediate family in the King Humbert hall, and this evening a reception will be held for friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Colella will depart later on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. For traveling the bride has chosen a poudre blue ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of orchids. They will be "at home" at 43 Morley street to their friends and relatives upon their return.

Mrs. Colella is a graduate of the local high school in the year of 1935. Mr. Colella is employed at the Sharon steel corporation at Lowellville, Ohio.

Guests attended the wedding from Youngstown, Greenville, Chicago and South Bend, Ind.

P. M. CLUB GUESTS AT AFTERNOON PARTY

Mrs. Andrew Krestel of West State street, entertained the P. M. club membership in her home Wednesday afternoon at their usual biweekly social event.

The serving of a delicious luncheonette launched festivities and attention was given to card playing afterwards. Mrs. Lale Christy and Mrs. G. R. Weber won the prizes. Aiding throughout the afternoon was Mrs. Christy and Mrs. Fred Singer.

On July 10, Mrs. G. H. Weber of East Wallace avenue, will entertain at her home.

NEW-CASTLE CHAPTER OUTING AT CATHEDRAL

Due to the downpour of rain on Wednesday, the New Castle Chapter, No. 105, Order of the Eastern Star, took their annual picnic event to the Scottish Rite Cathedral, instead of Cascade Park, where is was originally scheduled to be held. Mrs. Mary Buzard is worthy matron of the chapter.

At 6:15 o'clock, a delicious picnic supper was served. This took place in the West dining room, which was graciously shared by The Builders, inasmuch as it was their regular meeting night. Places marked for 150 guests, including members and their families. Informal pastimes followed.

On the dinner committee were, Mesdames Ada Jackson, chairman, Ann Harris, Jennie Martin, Winella Mullen, Lottie Bowman, Catherine Watkins, Anna Plush, Mabel Lohrman, Lucille Ruehle and Sara Clark. Entertainment was under the direction of Mrs. Mary B. Jarrett, chairman, Mrs. Myrtle Keifer and Mrs. Celia Gowell.

Entertain At Shower

Honoring Mrs. Everett G. Downing, nee Mildred Connerly, whose marriage took place this morning to the Rev. Everette G. Downing in the Church of the Nazarene, a lovely party was given on a recent evening, in the Lakewood home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kelly.

The occasion was in the form of a miscellaneous shower, the honoree receiving a collection of many lovely gifts to use in her new home. Twenty participated, and after a social period, the hostess served a delicious repast. Mrs. Omar Fink aided with the menu.

Out of town guests included Fred Schuler of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Merle Stetson and Stanley Stetson of Girard, O.

Since the engagement of the honoree was announced, a series of entertainments have been given in honor of both Rev. and Mrs. Downing.

Welcome Party

Miss Teresa Cassella entertained a group of friends and relatives at her home, 711 South Mill street, Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Charles Casalandra, nee Teresa Pascioneri of Akron, O., a bride of recent date, who will reside at 712 South Mill street, this city.

The event was also held in the form of a get-acquainted party for the honored guest and her new friends. Games were played and later tables of 500 were in session, the high score trophy going to Carmela DeGilio.

Casbero Receives Degree In Music

New Castle Young Man Makes Fine Progress As Violinist

ANTHONY P. CASBERO

Anthony P. Casbero, 2 South Ashland avenue, received his bachelor's degree in music from the University of Pittsburgh this month.

High school students of several years back recall Casbero's successive violin triumphs. He was graduated with Senior high's January 1935 class.

At his high school commencement he received the award presented to the most distinguished musician of the class. He also won others during his school career.

But high school graduation only marked the beginning of his violin study. He entered Chicago Musical college and studied there under Max Fischel. Later he came to Pittsburgh and entered Pittsburgh Musical Institute, where he studied under Gaylord Yost. He entered the University of Pittsburgh at the same time to further his academic work.

While in Pittsburgh he become prominent in musical affairs about the city just as he had here. Now he plays with the Youngstown Symphony orchestra.

Casbero is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Casbero of the Seventh ward.

LOLETA BUTTS IS HONORED AT SHOWER

Miss Loleta Butts, of the Harbor road, a bride-elect of July, was pleasantly entertained Wednesday evening at a variety shower party held at the residence of Ruth Metzler of 514 West Cherry street.

Informal diversions were enjoyed with games and contests, high score prizes falling to Vyda Mullen and Pearl Kerr. Other prizes were also distributed.

At an appropriate hour, the hostess with the assistance of her mother Mrs. R. J. Metzler, Dorothy Metzler and Mrs. Dick Stewart, served a delicious lunch. Pretty appointments in green and yellow marked the places.

The honoree received a lovely collection of beautiful gifts in remembrance of the happy day.

On July 6, Miss Butts will become the bride of Claude Geyser of Akron,O.

Methodist Picnic Is Held Indoors

Inclement Weather Wednesday Fails To Dampen Spirits Of Church Group

Stormy weather of Wednesday afternoon and evening prevented the Mahoning Methodist church congregation from holding their planned outing at the New Wilmington Community Park, but it failed to keep the church group from having a good time.

The outing was turned into an indoor picnic, in the basement of the church, with a regular picnic dinner menu being served at 6 o'clock. Indoor games were enjoyed during the hours following the dinner.

Members of the McCoy Bible class, the Look-Out Bible class, Virginia McClurg's class and members of the contest committee, aided by Maurice A. Boyd, Wendell McClurg and Q. E. Davy were responsible for the success of the affair.

A trophy was presented to the Men's class of the church for that group having won the recent attendance contest.

Plan Reception For Rev. Myers

Plans have been made for a reception Friday night, honoring Rev. John E. Myers, Jr., pastor-elect of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church.

The reception will be held in the Presbyterian church parlors and will follow the formal installation service by the Shenango Presbytery.

NEWS BRIEFS IN WARD DISTRICT

Wednesday turned out to be rather a wet day for the scheduled Mahoning Methodist church picnic, planned for the New Wilmington community park.

An automobile, bearing license tags from Ontario, Canada, was parked along North Liberty street Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Rose Simonis, resident director of the Crawford-Oakridge Resident Center has stressed the fact that young people of the community are more than welcome to use the playground at the Center.

There are many vacant lots in the district that are badly overgrown with weeds that should be cut. The weeds make a property very unattractive.

What's What At A Glance

Hillman hasn't come across with his practical digest of the entire Roosevelt an program.

However, there's some advance congressional suspicion that it'll be too totalitarian (for individualistic America.

Sidney Hillman's under the spotlight.

Sidney always has been assessed as an ultra-liberal, but these times, it's hard to tell who's a liberal, who's a conservative and who's totalitarian.

Their philosophies mix and conflict.

There ought to be some new classification.

Virginia, shrewd and experienced. He is credited with having rounded up the Southern delegates for Senator Taft. Fourth, is Senator Taft's cousin, David Ingalls, who has a natural aptitude for politics and unquestioned and unusual charm. Finally, there is Col R. B. Creager, of Texas, the Taft floor manager, a party veteran of great popularity who knows convention politics well enough to write a book about them.

THIS IS the group which almost from the start has managed the Taft candidacy. It works like a machine and it is extremely effective. If Mr. Willkie had that kind of a machine working for him, with what he has, he could not be beaten. What these five men have been doing for weeks for Senator Taft, Mr. Willkie has been doing for himself. Nevertheless, he has done an amazing job and if he wins it will be the most signal triumph of sheer personality in the history of American politics.

VICTIM OF STOMACH DISTRESS TELLS OF RESCUE BY "VENDOL"

Local resident has gas, sourness, acid risings, palpitation, headaches, heavy feelings, associated with constitpation. Got amazing relief from Vendol.

MRS. ARTHUR McKIBBEN

"My health was not bad enough to have me down where I couldn't keep going, but many days found me very miserable and upset," declares Mrs. Arthur McKibben, 212 S. Walnut Street, New Castle, Pa.

"I was constipated almost every day unless I took medicine, and when I neglected this I would suffer so badly from acid indigestion, gas, pains, bloating, hot liquid rising in my throat, and a feeling like a heavy lump lay on my chest, that I could hardly bear it. This made my nerves quiver and sometimes I'd have swimming headaches and little spots darting before my eyes.

"I had tried different things, but one day my druggists told me he never sold a better medicine than Vendol for these troubles, so I got some, and it proved to be everything he said. Vendol relieved my constipation giving full, complete, easy action; then all signs of upset, distressed stomach disappeared, the little spots before my eyes, swimming in the head, and jumpy nerves were relieved; in fact, Vendol made me feel better than in years, so I am glad to recommend it to others."

Vendol is sold and displayed by all leading druggists, and is highly recommended here by Eckerd's of New Castle, 118 E. Washington Street.

PROPERTY-OWNERS COST, $162,124

In The American City, a publication devoted to improvements, there is an article written by Glenn R. Throop, city engineer, which deals with Relief Paving by Assessment. According to Throop, this city has during a four year program, paved 58 streets at a cost of $13,103 to the city and property-owners for materials, $162,124.

Throop says the city in 1934, was faced with the task of maintaining approximately 55 miles of earth street out of a total of 120 miles. Maintenance of the earth streets was difficult owing to the topography, Throop explained. He described the residential sections lies on hills and grades are as high as 18 to 20 percent.

He said that after each rain numerous streets in and near the business district which lies between the Shenango river and Neshannock creek are filled from curb to curb with debris washed in from side streets and very costly to remove.

Throop asserted that as the entire cost of paving, except for street intersections, must be borne by the property-owners through assessments, it was necessary to investigate types of paving that would be low enough to make it attractive for property-owners to petition for the work.

He declared that following investigation, it was decided to use some form of bituminous concrete wearing surface. The factor governing this was that this city is located near sandstone deposits which could be readily utilized for base and it would require unskilled labor in quarries.

He reported the new street cross-section has a 10-inch broken sandstone base, a two-course plant mixed bituminous binder course and wearing surface and concrete curbs. With this section adopted, an estimate was prepared based on a 36-foot pavement.

Cost Per Foot Front

Throop explained a cost of $1.65 per front foot was publicized, which was the cost of the material and assessed against property-owners. Arrangements for payment was made by allowing the amount to be paid at face value for a period of 30 days after notification.

After this period, he added, quarterly payments with interest at six percent could be made for a two years' period, at the end of which the balance, if any, would be filed against the property as a municipal lien.

His article reports the proposition was received enthusiastically. He declared the announcement of the probable cost was made late in December, 1935, and by March 1, 1936, petitions were received from property-owners on 25 different streets.

One of the requirements under an existing New Castle ordinance, was that all petitions for paving must have signatures of a majority of owners in both number and interest in front feet. These petitions as presented averaged 75 percent in both figures.

After receipt of the petition for paving, detailed surveys were made and drawings made. When the first 10 streets had been drawn up and estimates of material requirements made, they were submitted to what at that time was RWD and later WPA. Project was approved in May 1935, and work started in June, 1935.

Unskilled Labor

To conform with government requirements for percentage of sponsor's contribution and man month cost, the entire project operation was set up to use as much as possible of unskilled labor. The fact was favorable to the city in that equipment furnished by the WPA was based on a percentage of the total labor cost. This made enough money available for trucks—the largest equipment item.

Hand labor excavated the first streets to a depth of 18 inches. It soon became apparent the cost of trucking due to length of time required to load was becoming excessive and a gas shovel was rented and the cost was added to the material cost to be paid by the property-owners.

After roadway excavation was completed, ditches for under-curb drains were dug by hand, filled with broken stone and well tamped. Steel forms for concrete curbs were then set to line and grade. The concrete for curbs was dry batched at a central point, hauled to the job and delivered to a two-bag, city-owned mixer, after which it was distributed to the curb forms by wheelbarrows.

After the forms were filled and screeded, they were covered with wet burlap. The forms were stripped the next morning and reset for the day's run, usually 600 feet. The curbs were covered with burlap and kept wet for five days and after having become thoroughly cured are rubbed with Carborundum blocks and water.

Throop then said that upon completion of the curbs the sandstone for the base was delivered in one man size. Following this crew, a second crew using a crown board, level and naps stone to crown and grade. Then a preliminary pass was made with a two-ton, 3-wheel roller. The stone base was then choked with bank run sand, swept into stone with stable brooms. Rolling continued until crevices were filled. The entire surface then was thoroughly broomed and given a final longitudinal check.

Work All Year

Upon this base, Throop wrote, 2x1-4 inch rods, 12 feet long, were placed longitutlinally at about 2-foot centers transversely for screed strips for the bituminous binder course. The material was dumped from the trucks onto iron sheets and shoveled by hand onto the guide strips. All level was done by hand rakers and when about 200 was completed, rolling was begun with a 10-ton, 3-wheel roller.

When the binder bituminous concrete course has been completed, 1-inch bars were set in place and the wearing course of bituminous material was spread. After this operation the surface was thoroughly rolled and then opened to traffic.

The paving project was operated all year round, Throop declared. The quarries are on property on lease to the city. Stone cost five cents per ton. Most of the quarrying is by hand, although there was some drilling and shooting.

During 1936, six streets were improved for a total length of 1,620 feet, of 32,000 square yards. In 1937, 10 streets, 10,038 feet or 34,277 square yards were completed. In 1938, 22 streets, 26,225 feet or 78,213 square yards were done. During 1939, 17 streets, 14,111 lineal feet or 45,164 square yards were improved.

The summary Throop reports shows for four years 58 streets completed for a length of 59,299 feet totalling 189,656 square yards. The total cost of the work to the city, that is, for materials only, has been $162,124 of which 92 per cent has been assessed to the property, leaving eight per cent or $13,103, as the cost to the city. The cost per square yard over the period has been 92 cents.

ANNIVERSARY PARTY AT D'CARBO RESIDENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeGegory, 139 Market street, Williamsport, are visiting the former's only sister, Mrs. Concetta DeCarbo of 10 Maitland street. The latter entertained recently in her home, a group of immediate relatives, for the purpose of honoring Mr. DeGegory on his 64th birthday anniversary.

A varied program of entertainment was featured, with all participating, and a humorous playlet was presented by two of the assemblage, Mrs. Louise DeMucco and Mrs. Edith Audino.

During the evening, Mr. and Mrs. James DeCarbo, nee Marian Casbero, son and daughter-in-law of the hostess, returned from their wedding trip, their marriage having taken place several days ago. They too shared, in being given special recognition by the assemblage.

Refreshments were served afterwards, with Mrs. Anna Alfano, Mrs. Louise DeMuccio and Christina Catalano, aiding Mrs. DeCarbo.

In remembrance of his anniversary, Mr. DeGegory was presented with many handsome gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. DeGegory will remain in New Castle as guests at the DeCarbo residence, until after the marriage of another member of the family, that of Michael DeCarbo, which takes place on Monday. The wedding party will be announced.

RETURN HOME FROM STATE CONVENTION

Mrs. Lillian Falls, president of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary, and Mrs. Evelyn Woods, district president, have returned home from York, Pa., where they attended the state convention of the V. F. W. and auxiliary last week.

While there, Mrs. Woods received first prize for the best Americanism report and the Corporal Harry L. McBride auxiliary received first prize for rehabilitation work.

Mrs. Woods was re-elected district president at DuBois in May 19 and her election was ratified at the encampment for two years.

D'MARZIO-COLELLA WEDDING IN CHURCH

Quiet and impressive was the ceremony performed this morning in St. Vitus church, uniting in marriage Miss Ann DiMarzio, daughter of Frank DiMarzio, 937 South Mill street, and Leonard Colella, son of Mrs. Marie Colella, of Youngstown, O. The vows were exchanged before a decorated altar of flowers, at 9:30 o'clock, with Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita officiating, and using the single ring service. A period of organ music was heard preceding the approach of the bridal party.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white dotted net gown, made entrain, with sweetheart neckline and full skirt. Her tulle veil was trimmed with lace and caught with a peaked crown covered with rhinestones. As her only jewelry she wore a gold cross, a gift from the groom, and carried an arm bouquet of valley lilies and orchids.

Miss Rose Leone, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor wore a blue dotted net gown, made with full skirt. Her accessories were of pink and she carried pink roses. Joseph DiMarzio served the groom as best man.

Bridesmaids, Rose Colella, Annette Giancola, Eleanore Rubbo, Mary Millione, Mary Nuzzo and Vincie Chirumbolo, all wore pink dotted net gowns with blue accessories. Their bouquets were of Johanna Hill roses. Ushering were John Colella, Joseph Colella, Joseph Giancola, Frank Leone, Ted Rubbo and Mario DiMarzio. Little Virginia DiMarzio, as ring bearer wore a white dotted net gown.

A wedding dinner was served to members of the immediate family in the King Humbert hall, and this evening a reception will be held for friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Colella will depart later on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. For traveling the bride has chosen a poudre blue ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of orchids. They will be "at home" at 43 Morley street to their friends and relatives upon their return.

Mrs. Colella is a graduate of the local high school in the year of 1935. Mr. Colella is employed at the Sharon steel corporation at Lowellville, Ohio.

Guests attended the wedding from Youngstown, Greenville, Chicago and South Bend, Ind.

P. M. CLUB GUESTS AT AFTERNOON PARTY

Mrs. Andrew Krestel of West State street, entertained the P. M. club membership in her home Wednesday afternoon at their usual biweekly social event.

The serving of a delicious luncheonette launched festivities and attention was given to card playing afterwards. Mrs. Lale Christy and Mrs. G. R. Weber won the prizes. Aiding throughout the afternoon was Mrs. Christy and Mrs. Fred Singer.

On July 10, Mrs. G. H. Weber of East Wallace avenue, will entertain at her home.

NEW-CASTLE CHAPTER OUTING AT CATHEDRAL

Due to the downpour of rain on Wednesday, the New Castle Chapter, No. 105, Order of the Eastern Star, took their annual picnic event to the Scottish Rite Cathedral, instead of Cascade Park, where is was originally scheduled to be held. Mrs. Mary Buzard is worthy matron of the chapter.

At 6:15 o'clock, a delicious picnic supper was served. This took place in the West dining room, which was graciously shared by The Builders, inasmuch as it was their regular meeting night. Places marked for 150 guests, including members and their families. Informal pastimes followed.

On the dinner committee were, Mesdames Ada Jackson, chairman, Ann Harris, Jennie Martin, Winella Mullen, Lottie Bowman, Catherine Watkins, Anna Plush, Mabel Lohrman, Lucille Ruehle and Sara Clark. Entertainment was under the direction of Mrs. Mary B. Jarrett, chairman, Mrs. Myrtle Keifer and Mrs. Celia Gowell.

SAD FISHING TALE

(International News Service)

CARBONDALE, Pa.—A hard luck story is told by three men who went fishing. They didn't get a nibble in 10 hours, accidentally dropped their lunch in the lake, ran out of matches and had a difficult time finding their car in the darkness, their motor wouldn't start and they were forced to walk five miles for gasoline and when they got home, it was time to go to work.

MYSTERIOUS MOVES OF U. S. FLEET PART OF DEFENSE PLAN

the navy department advanced the opinion that the big battlewagons would move soon into New York harbor.

His information was that the administration, worried over the possible defeat or immobilization of the British fleet, was preparing to thwart any contemplated German attempt to seize Iceland or Greenland.

Greenland particularly is considered by the administration as within the defensive scope of the Monroe Doctrine. Officials have indicated that the United States would resist, with force if necessary, any attempt to seize it. It might be used as an enemy air base for attacks upon the United States.

More Ships Sent South

Likewise, as is known, this government is concerned with reported German-Italian fifth column activities in South America. Latest evidence of this concern was dispatch yesterday of three more navy ships to South American waters.

Marking the first time that the west coast of South America has been selected for any of the current "good will visits" by naval craft, the light cruiser Phoenix was ordered to Valparaiso, Chile; the gunboat Erie was commanded to proceed to Guayaquil, Ecuador, and the survey ship Bushnell was ordered to leave Panama Saturday "to survey the Ecuadorean coast".

Meantime, administration officials are giving serious consideration to the problem raised by hundreds of millions of dollars worth of French gold and the French merchant ships presently held in the United States.

Under the armistice terms France signed with Germany, the Reich claimed authority over both the gold and merchant vessels of its defeated enemy.

Delicate Question

A conference at the state department last night between Secretary Hull, Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau, Attorney General Jackson and their technical experts, was understood to have considered these questions.

According to the U. S. Maritime Commission, there are now nine French ships in American ports. They are: The Normandie, San Francisco and Leopold L. D., all in New York; the tanker Merope at Chester, Pa.; the tanker Sheherazade at Corpus Christi, Tex.; the freighters Vannes and Wisconsin at Los Angeles; the freighter Michigan at New Orleans, and the freighter Winnipeg at Miami.

If Germany should demand, thru the French government that it now controls, that the gold deposits and ships be returned to France, subject to possible German confiscation, the United States would be faced with a delicate problem. Legally, they belong to France. Yet, knowing that they might fall into German hands and be used in the prosecution of the war with Great Britain, the administration is loath to take any action that would work against the London government, to whom it has promised full aid by measures "short of war".

MODERN MAN IS LOSING HIS BITE DOCTOR ASSERTS

(International News Service)

CHICAGO—Modern man is losing his bite, Dr. Meyer Klatsky, of New York told the 38th annual meeting of the American Association of Othodontists at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

According to Dr. Klatsky measurements of the strength of the human jaw show that the average white American's bite has decreased some 50 pounds in pressure in the last 45 years. The average maximum pressure today is only 120 pounds. He said, that compared with the Eskimo's average of 300 pounds this is very little.

"This," he added, "can be accounted for only by the fact that the Eskimo develops his masticatory apparatus by use, while the white man suffers from lack of use of his chewing mechanism."

CLINIC FOR SEWING MACHINES IS THE LATEST IN FADS

(International News Service)

DURHAM, N. H.—A clinic for sewing machines is the latest popular fad.

Sixteen sewing machine clinics will be held in New Hampshire during June and July. The object of the clinic, says Miss Hazel E. Hill, extension clothing specialist, is to make home sewing less of a burden by teaching women how to keep their sewing machines in good running order. Those attending will learn how to clean and oil the machine and to make simple adjustment of the tension, length of stitches, etc.

In 1939, at ten clinics, in eight counties, 112 machines were reconditioned. These clinics prove so popular, that this year sixteen will be held in ten counties.

Throop Explains Paving Plan For Past Four Years

PROPERTY-OWNERS COST, $162,124

In The American City, a publication devoted to improvements, there is an article written by Glenn R. Throop, city engineer, which deals with Relief Paving by Assessment. According to Throop, this city has during a four year program, paved 58 streets at a cost of $13,103 to the city and property-owners for materials, $162,124.

Throop says the city in 1934, was faced with the task of maintaining approximately 55 miles of earth street out of a total of 120 miles. Maintenance of the earth streets was difficult owing to the topography, Throop explained. He described the residential sections lies on hills and grades are as high as 18 to 20 percent.

He said that after each rain numerous streets in and near the business district which lies between the Shenango river and Neshannock creek are filled from curb to curb with debris washed in from side streets and very costly to remove.

Throop asserted that as the entire cost of paving, except for street intersections, must be borne by the property-owners through assessments, it was necessary to investigate types of paving that would be low enough to make it attractive for property-owners to petition for the work.

He declared that following investigation, it was decided to use some form of bituminous concrete wearing surface. The factor governing this was that this city is located near sandstone deposits which could be readily utilized for base and it would require unskilled labor in quarries.

He reported the new street cross-section has a 10-inch broken sandstone base, a two-course plant mixed bituminous binder course and wearing surface and concrete curbs. With this section adopted, an estimate was prepared based on a 36-foot pavement.

Cost Per Foot Front

Throop explained a cost of $1.65 per front foot was publicized, which was the cost of the material and assessed against property-owners. Arrangements for payment was made by allowing the amount to be paid at face value for a period of 30 days after notification.

After this period, he added, quarterly payments with interest at six percent could be made for a two years' period, at the end of which the balance, if any, would be filed against the property as a municipal lien.

His article reports the proposition was received enthusiastically. He declared the announcement of the probable cost was made late in December, 1935, and by March 1, 1936, petitions were received from property-owners on 25 different streets.

One of the requirements under an existing New Castle ordinance, was that all petitions for paving must have signatures of a majority of owners in both number and interest in front feet. These petitions as presented averaged 75 percent in both figures.

After receipt of the petition for paving, detailed surveys were made and drawings made. When the first 10 streets had been drawn up and estimates of material requirements made, they were submitted to what at that time was RWD and later WPA. Project was approved in May 1935, and work started in June, 1935.

Unskilled Labor

To conform with government requirements for percentage of sponsor's contribution and man month cost, the entire project operation was set up to use as much as possible of unskilled labor. The fact was favorable to the city in that equipment furnished by the WPA was based on a percentage of the total labor cost. This made enough money available for trucks—the largest equipment item.

Hand labor excavated the first streets to a depth of 18 inches. It soon became apparent the cost of trucking due to length of time required to load was becoming excessive and a gas shovel was rented and the cost was added to the material cost to be paid by the property-owners.

After roadway excavation was completed, ditches for under-curb drains were dug by hand, filled with broken stone and well tamped. Steel forms for concrete curbs were then set to line and grade. The concrete for curbs was dry batched at a central point, hauled to the job and delivered to a two-bag, city-owned mixer, after which it was distributed to the curb forms by wheelbarrows.

After the forms were filled and screeded, they were covered with wet burlap. The forms were stripped the next morning and reset for the day's run, usually 600 feet. The curbs were covered with burlap and kept wet for five days and after having become thoroughly cured are rubbed with Carborundum blocks and water.

Throop then said that upon completion of the curbs the sandstone for the base was delivered in one man size. Following this crew, a second crew using a crown board, level and naps stone to crown and grade. Then a preliminary pass was made with a two-ton, 3-wheel roller. The stone base was then choked with bank run sand, swept into stone with stable brooms. Rolling continued until crevices were filled. The entire surface then was thoroughly broomed and given a final longitudinal check.

Work All Year

Upon this base, Throop wrote, 2x1-4 inch rods, 12 feet long, were placed longitudinally at about 2-foot centers transversely for screed strips for the bituminous binder course. The material was dumped from the trucks onto iron sheets and shoveled by hand onto the guide strips. All level was done by hand rakers and when about 200 was completed, rolling was begun with a 10-ton, 3-wheel roller.

When the binder bituminous concrete course has been completed, 1-inch bars were set in place and the wearing course of bituminous material was spread. After this operation the surface was thoroughly rolled and then opened to traffic.

The paving project was operated all year round, Throop declared. The quarries are on property on lease to the city. Stone cost five cents per ton. Most of the quarrying is by hand, although there was some drilling and shooting.

During 1936, six streets were improved for a total length of 1,620 feet, of 32,000 square yards. In 1937, 10 streets, 10,038 feet or 34,277 square yards were completed. In 1938, 32 streets, 26,225 feet or 78,213 square yards were done. During 1939, 17 streets, 14,111 lineal feet or 45,164 square yards were improved.

The summary Throop reports shows for four years 58 streets completed for a length of 59,299 feet totalling 189,656 square yards. The total cost of the work to the city, that is, for materials only, has been $162,124 of which 92 per cent has been assessed to the property, leaving eight per cent or $13,103, as the cost to the city. The cost per square yard over the period has been 92 cents.

Four Candidates In Nomination On Wednesday Night

Dewey - Gannet - Taft - Willkie Placed Before G. O. P. Convention Session

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 27—The first four hopeful's nominated for the Republican presidential candidacy basked today in the warm glow of twenty nominating speeches praising them for ability, leadership and the power to build defenses at home and keep Uncle Sam out of wars abroad.

Dewey-Gannett-Taft-Willkie —in that order were presented last night to 14,000 spectators and 1,000 delegates the candidates really phenomenal. Reactions of spectators and delegates differed, but the candidates' backers didn't.

Each nominee was "big enough for the job." Each was a tower of strength against the vagaries of an unsettled world. Each would quickly put the army and navy in shape to wale the daylight out of any invader; and would see to it that unless an enemy approached the new world, the United States wouldn't get involved in war.

NOT DOOR-MATS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—A wife may be many things, but she is definitely not a "door-mat", according to Magistrate Joseph D'Andrea, who decided that "you shouldn't wipe your feet on her". And to a Brooklyn husband whose wife charged that he beat her, threw a blanket over her head, tossed her on a bed and sat on her, the magistrate gave a suspended sentence of 90 days.

Polish Collect $2106 For Relief

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—The Central Council of Polish Organizations, New Castle, had collected $2106 in war relief funds through May, the state department reports.

This was earmarked for relief in Poland, England and France. Of the collections, $1,700 had been actually spent on such relief. Administration expenses had aggregated $35.55, leaving an unexpended balance of $370.

SAD FISHING TALE

(International News Service)

CARBONDALE, Pa.—A hard luck story is told by three men who went fishing. They didn't get a nibble in 10 hours, accidentally dropped their lunch in the lake, ran out of matches and had a difficult time finding their car in the darkness, their motor wouldn't start and they were forced to walk five miles for gasoline and when they got home, it was time to go to work.

MYSTERIOUS MOVES OF U. S. FLEET PART OF DEFENSE PLAN

the navy department advanced the opinion that the big battlewagons would move soon into New York harbor.

His information was that the administration, worried over the possible defeat or immobilization of the British fleet, was preparing to thwart any contemplated German attempt to seize Iceland or Greenland.

Greenland particularly is considered by the administration as within the defensive scope of the Monroe Doctrine. Officials have indicated that the United States would resist, with force if necessary, any attempt to seize it. It might be used as an enemy air base for attacks upon the United States.

More Ships Sent South

Likewise, as is known, this government is concerned with reported German-Italian fifth column activities in South America. Latest evidence of this concern was dispatch yesterday of three more navy ships to South American waters.

Marking the first time that the west coast of South America has been selected for any of the current "good will visits" by naval craft, the light cruiser Phoenix was ordered to Valparaiso, Chile; the gunboat Erie was commanded to proceed to Guayaquil, Ecuador, and the survey ship Bushnell was ordered to leave Panama Saturday "to survey the Ecuadorean const".

Meantime, administration officials are giving serious consideration to the problem raised by hundreds of millions of dollars worth of French gold and the French merchant ships presently held in the United States.

Under the armistice terms France signed with Germany, the Reich claimed authority over both the gold and merchant vessels of its defeated enemy.

Delicate Question

A conference at the state department last night between Secretary Hull, Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau, Attorney General Jackson and their technical experts, was understood to have considered these questions.

According to the U. S. Maritime Commission, there are now nine French ships in American ports. They are: The Normandie, San Francisco and Leopold L. D., all in New York; the tanker Merope at Chester, Pa.; the tanker Scheherazade at Corpus Christi, Tex.; the freighters Vannes and Wisconsin at Los Angeles; the freighter Michigan at New Orleans, and the freighter Winnipeg at Miami.

If Germany should demand, thru the French government that it now controls, that the gold deposits and ships be returned to France, subject to possible German confiscation, the United States would be faced with a delicate problem. Legally, they belong to France. Yet, knowing that they might fall into German hands and be used in the prosecution of the war with Great Britain, the administration is loath to take any action that would work against the London government, to whom it has promised full aid by measures "short of war".

MODERN MAN IS LOSING HIS BITE DOCTOR ASSERTS

(International News Service)

CHICAGO—Modern man is losing his bite, Dr. Meyer Klatsky, of New York told the 38th annual meeting of the American Association of Othodontists at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

According to Dr. Klatsky measurements of the strength of the human jaw show that the average white American's bite has decreased some 50 pounds in pressure in the last 45 years. The average maximum pressure today is only 120 pounds. He said, that compared with the Eskimo's average of 300 pounds this is very little.

"This," he added, "can be accounted for only by the fact that the Eskimo develops his masticatory apparatus by use, while the white man suffers from lack of use of his chewing mechanism."

CLINIC FOR SEWING MACHINES IS THE LATEST IN FADS

(International News Service)

DURHAM, N. H.—A clinic for sewing machines is the latest popular fad.

Sixteen sewing machine clinics will be held in New Hampshire during June and July. The object of the clinic, says Miss Hazel E. Hill, extension clothing specialist, is to make home sewing less of a burden by teaching women how to keep their sewing machines in good running order. Those attending will learn how to clean and oil the machine and to make simple adjustment of the tension, length of stitches, etc.

In 1939, at ten clinics, in eight counties, 112 machines were reconditioned. These clinics prove so popular, that this year sixteen will be held in ten counties.

1940 Dodge Luxury Liner, 6-Passenger, 2-Door Sedan $815, delivered in Detroit.*

Big Dodge Luxury Liner Costs Only Few Dollars More Than Smaller, Low-Priced Cars

RIGHT now, just picture yourself behind the wheel of this big, handsome Dodge—pointing its proud bonnet wherever your heart desires!

Not so hard to imagine, is it? Nor is it hard to do! For never before have your car-dollars bought so much in eye-filling beauty, in imposing style, in luxurious appointments and refinements!

Think of it! For just a few dollars more than the smaller, low-priced cars, you get the biggest and finest car Dodge ever built! A full 119½-inch wheelbase, wider seats both front and rear, gorgeous upholstery, new engineering ideas galore!

In addition, you get the savings on gas and oil for which Dodge has long been famous. You get the low-cost upkeep and high trade-in value that mean money in your pocket!

And here's the best news of all! Right now your Dodge dealer is making it so easy—and profitable—for you to own a big 1940 Dodge that you surely won't want to miss this money-saving opportunity! Drive in today and ask for an appraisal on your present car. Very likely it will cover the full down-payment on a 1940 Dodge—balance on easy budget terms!

Girl Scout Day Camp Staff To Meet On Friday

Ten Days Of Outdoor Activity To Open At Cascade Park On July 8

First staff meeting for the Day Camp will be held Friday afternoon at the New Castle Girl Scout office in the Greer building, to discuss final plans for the opening in Cascade Park, July 8.

Special program features for the summer will be discussed and traditional customs passed on from former members to new ones. Campers will be glad to know that Mrs. George Ward, Mrs. Charles L. Goodman, Jr., and Mrs. Travis French will be on hand to welcome them back, as well as a goodly number of other scout friends, who have joined Day Camp ranks this year.

Mrs. Rebecca Horner Johnston, who just returned from an American Red Cross institute, will be in charge of all water-front activities. Swimming periods are divided to allow for both practice and fun, and it is perfectly possible for a scout to make progress in the 10 days, Mrs. Johnston states. Life saving classes will be held if interest warrants.

Indian projects will include experimenting with clay pottery and Indian music for the Hobby Unit under the direction of Mrs. French. Rumor has it the Campcraft Unit is going in for plain and fancy outdoor cooking during their stay at camp.

Red Cross Plans Knitting Classes Of War Relief Work

Of special interest here in the vicinity is the announcement which was made today by Miss Margaret F. Bodenstein, executive secretary of the American Red Cross local chapter, which concerned the fact that the chapter had been granted floor space in the Frew Furniture store, over Strouss-Hirshberg's store, on North Mill street, to be used for knitting of war relief work.

Mrs. Robert Garland, chairlady of war relief knitting, will have charge and has appointed supervisors to attend each session. The sessions will take place every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 11 to 2.

Any woman of Lawrence county, who is at all interested, will be welcome to come to the assemblages and receive free instruction in any form of knitting. There will be work provided for any individual wishing to assist with any war relief knitting.

RHEUMATIC RELIEF A WELCOME BLESSING

American Window Glass Employee Finds Welcome Relief From Aching Rheumatic Pains With RUX Compound

Mr. Earl T. Hale, 532 Chestnut St., Greensburg, Pennsylvania is happy to tell his friends his true experience with RUX Compound, which is bringing such fine relief to thousands of Rheumatic, Neuritic, Neuralgic Pain Sufferers all over the country.

An Amazing Experience

"The Pains in my hands really interferred with my work for a while, and I was beginning to wonder just what I would do if they became worse.

"I had tried several different medicines, but didn't get much relief from any of them, until I began taking RUX Compound.

"I could notice a difference after only a few doses, and as I continued to take it the pain lessened a great deal. "You can bet your life" that I'm not going to quit taking it now, for it is certainly making my work a lot easier for me.

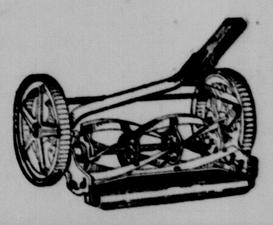

"My friends and neighbors have all heard of this wonderful medicine, RUX Compound, for I can't 'sing its praises' too highly."

If you are a Rheumatic Sufferer—if your body is racked with sharp, stabbing muscular pain attacks that make life a torment—if you roll and toss through sleepless nights, feel unfit for work or pleasure because of cruel Rheumatic, Neuralgic or Neuritic pains, you should get a bottle of this remarkable medicine, RUX, today. Three convenienet sizes—for economy get the larger size, at all good drug stores. Insist on genuine RUX COMPOUND (Liquid), in the brown and yellow carton. Accept no substitutes. Four Candidates In Nomination On Wednesday Night

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 27—The first four hopeful's nominated for the Republican presidential candidacy basked today in the warm glow of twenty nominating speeches praising them for ability, leadership and the power to build defenses at home and keep Uncle Sam out of wars abroad.

Dewey-Gannett-Taft-Willkie —in that order were presented last night to 14,000 spectators and 1,000 delegates the candidates really phenomenal. Reactions of spectators and delegates differed, but the candidates' backers didn't.

Each nominee was "big enough for the job." Each was a tower of strength against the vagaries of an unsettled world. Each would quickly put the army and navy in shape to wale the daylight out of any invader; and would see to it that unless an enemy approached the new world, the United States wouldn't get involved in war.

Polish Collect $2106 For Relief

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—The Central Council of Polish Organizations, New Castle, had collected $2106 in war relief funds through May, the state department reports.

This was earmarked for relief in Poland, England and France. Of the collections, $1,700 had been actually spent on such relief. Administration expenses had aggregated $35.55, leaving an unexpended balance of $370.

Girl Scout Day Camp Staff To Meet On Friday

Ten Days Of Outdoor Activity To Open At Cascade Park On July 8

First staff meeting for the Day Camp will be held Friday afternoon at the New Castle Girl Scout office in the Greer building, to discuss final plans for the opening in Cascade Park, July 8.

Special program features for the summer will be discussed and traditional customs passed on from former members to new ones. Campers will be glad to know that Mrs. George Ward, Mrs. Charles L. Goodman, Jr., and Mrs. Travis French will be on hand to welcome them back, as well as a goodly number of other scout friends, who have joined Day Camp ranks this year.

Mrs. Rebecca Horner Johnston, who just returned from an American Red Cross institute, will be in charge of all water-front activities. Swimming periods are divided to allow for both practice and fun, and it is perfectly possible for a scout to make progress in the 10 days, Mrs. Johnston states. Life saving classes will be held if interest warrants.

Indian projects will include experimenting with clay pottery and Indian music for the Hobby Unit under the direction of Mrs. French. Rumor has it the Camperaft Unit is going in for plain and fancy outdoor cooking during their stay at camp.

Red Cross Plans Knitting Classes Of War Relief Work

Of special interest here in the vicinity is the announcement which was made today by Miss Margaret F. Bodenstein, executive secretary of the American Red Cross local chapter, which concerned the fact that the chapter had been granted floor space in the Frew Furniture store, over Strouss-Hirshberg's store, on North Mill street, to be used for knitting of war relief work.

Mrs. Robert Garland, chairlady of war relief knitting, will have charge and has appointed supervisors to attend each session. The sessions will take place every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 11 to 2.

Any woman of Lawrence county, who is at all interested, will be welcome to come to the assemblages and receive free instruction in any form of knitting. There will be work provided for any individual wishing to assist with any war relief knitting.

RHEUMATIC RELIEF A WELCOME BLESSING

American Window Glass Employee Finds Welcome Relief From Aching Rheumatic Pains With RUX Compound

Mr. Earl T. Hale, 532 Chestnut St., Greensburg, Pennsylvania is happy to tell his friends his true experience with RUX Compound, which is bringing such fine relief to thousands of Rheumatic, Neuritic, Neuralgic Pain Sufferers all over the country.

An Amazing Experience

"The Pains in my hands really interferred with my work for a while, and I was beginning to wonder just what I would do if they became worse.

"I had tried several different medicines, but didn't get much relief from any of them, until I began taking RUX Compound.

"I could notice a difference after only a few doses, and as I continued to take it the pain lessened a great deal. "You can bet your life" that I'm not going to quit taking it now, for it is certainly making my work a lot easier for me.

"My friends and neighbors have all heard of this wonderful medicine, RUX Compound, for I can't sing its praises too highly."

If you are a Rheumatic Sufferer—if your body is racked with sharp, stabbing muscular pain attacks that make life a torment—if you roll and toss through sleepless nights; feel unfit for work or pleasure because of cruel Rheumatic, Neuralgic or Neuritic pains, you should get a bottle of this remarkable medicine, RUX, today. Three convenient sizes—for economy get the larger size, at all good drug stores. Insist on genuine RUX COMPOUND (Liquid), in the brown and yellow carton. Accept no substitutes. New Citizens To Be Honored Here On Monday

Perry S. Gaston Post Sponsoring Ceremony In Ben Franklin High School

Arrangements have been completed for the New Citizens Day ceremonies, which will take place in the Ben Franklin high school auditorium on Monday evening, July 1, at 8 o'clock, when the 395 persons who have been naturalized during the past year, as well as all young men and women, becoming citizens by reason of their reaching the age of 21 years, will be honored.

The Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, is sponsoring the celebration locally, and in this, they are being joined by the Exchange Club.

Attorney Clarence A. Patterson, who is in charge of the arrangements for the occasion, states that a splendid program, appropriate to the occasion has been planned. This will include addresses by President Judge W. Walter Braham, of the Lawrence county courts, and Superintendent of Schools, Dr. C. C. Green.

All newly naturalized citizens as well as those who have made application for citizenship have also been issued an invitation to attend, and a record throng is expected present for the occasion.

Pennsy Directors Vote $10,000,000 For New Equipment

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Wednesday authorized the placing of orders for $10,000,000 worth of new equipment including 2,545 freight cars of various types and 20 tenders for heavy freight locomotives.

With the $17,000,000 program of equipment and property improvement begun last fall, the new order brings to $600,000,000 the money spent by the road in the last 10 years on additions and improvements, according to Martin W. Clement, Pennsylvania president.

The board also authorized the construction of two high-speed coal-burning steam passenger locomotives of a new design and eight ultra-modern type passenger cars for the new Chicago-Miami luxury coach train service to be inaugurated next fall.

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

SUMMER CARE

No advice on the care of babies in summer is more important than this: keep flies away from him and everything he eats, or touches, or wears. This is particularly important during July and August.

I believe that if by some miracle we could eliminate flies, the dreaded intestinal toxaemia or summer complaint which kills so many children would just about disappear.

When I first began to practise in my part of Northern Ontario, summer complaint was very prevalent. My first summer here I had case after case of the disease, and a great many of the children died. Most were breast-fed babies, too, and summer complaint deaths among breast-fed babies are normally less numerous than among bottle-babies, as I explained yesterday.

In those days here, flies were accepted as a necessary evil. Screens on doors and windows were almost unknown. It quickly became apparent to me that flies were an undoubted factor in the disease, for the height of the diarrhea epidemics in the region always came at the height of the fly season. Flies would walk over the nipple through which baby was given his water, flies lit on baby's face, walked over his mouth. Flies had the run of the kitchens and the sleeping rooms.

I started a campaign against flies. In every home to which I was called, I gave the mother a talk about flies and tried to make her see to it that her children and house were protected against them.

But, I didn't make headway easily. Usually I didn't get to reach families with my warnings against flies until a baby was already sick—until the damage had been done. All I could do then was forewarn the family against future infections. And some were not disposed to accept my word that flies were such troublemakers, and some simply didn't pay any attention to my efforts. So I sought aid in my campaign.

The pioneer people here in those days were mostly French Canadians, all devout Roman Catholics with whom their padre's word was law. I went to see the parish priest. He was a good deal older than I, and I was just apprehensive of what he might say of my plan to make him my "policeman." I began by asking, "Father, you have been burying a lot of babies lately, haven't you"

"Yes, doctor, I have," he replied. "There was the Desjardins child last Tuesday, the Couture infant on Saturday—yes, there have certainly been more than usual. I suppose it is the hot summer."

"Father," I replied, "I believe flies killed all those children."

I think the kindly old man thought I was touched, until I went ahead and explained summer complaint, how it came through contamination and infection, and these could be spread by flies. When I finished, the padre promised his wholehearted cooperation. From his pulpit, in his visits throughout the parish, he talked against flies and the necessity of eliminating fly-breeding spots and of screening houses.

From that day on, the mortality rate from summer complaint fell in his parish.

Tomorrow: more about Summer Care of Babies.

Registrations listed for the week ending June 22, included 12 new registrations of Republicans and seven new registrations of Democrats. Four Democrats changed their party affiliation, while four Republicans did likewise, Chief Clerk of the Registration Bureau, Charles D. Ross, announces.

The new lawn about the court house has gotten a good start with the rainy weather this spring, and a good catch of grass has resulted. The evergreens and roses planted about the court house and annex also add to the attractiveness of the setting, the appearance of the county building being quite different from what it was a few years ago.

Mrs. Reid will present her talk on the Jew in the light of the Bible teachings. This service will commence at 9:45 o'clock.

AROUND CITY HALL

Bridgeport, Conn., police have four motorcycles, radio- equipped. . . . When a citizen of Pontiac, Mich., gets his first driver's license, the police department sends him a letter welcoming him as a member of the driving public and soliciting his co-operation in law observance. . . . Since warning by Police Chief W. G. McMullen that cyclists would be punished for traffic violations there has been a break-down in bicycle accidents. . . . Chief W. G. McMullen, Detectives Chief R. A. Criswell, Radio Technician Wayne Sines, Lieutenant James Steiner, Sergeant Dent Shields, Sergeant G. C. Syling, Sergeant William Smith and Patrolman Thomas Boyles are licensed to broadcast police calls. No code is in effect here and any message sent over WPGT may be heard on some radios. . . . A three-cent rate prevails on rides at Cascade Park for children and also in the pool every Monday. Indications point to a big crowd next Kiddies day, Monday. . . . The city has been free of major crime, only one house burglary in which a thief got $282 having arisen to nettle police. . . . Lifeboat is available at city hall for rescuers in time of need. Chief of Police W. G. McMullen has a list of expert swimmers who are available. In case of water accidents call No. 8. Police will do the rest.

Missing Army Flier Is Safe

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 27. — An army air corps training plane, feared lost on a flight from Hagerstown, Md., to Pittsburgh, landed safely at Marietta, O., the air corps station here learned Wednesday after a regional search for the craft had been launched.

The pilot, Lieut. Dow, apparently had been forced off his course by severe storms which raged over the Maryland-Pennsylvania area Tuesday. Pittsburgh air corps officers were advised by the Middletown air depot near Harrisburg that Dow had landed at Marietta.

Leaders Hail Republican Party As "Peace Party"

Platform Aims At Peace For U. S.

New Deal Foreign Policy Is Stingingly Renounced In Platform

HOME DEFENSE IS STRONGLY APPROVED

By GRIFFING BANCROFT, Jr.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 27—The Republican party was hailed by its leaders today as the "peace party" following adoption of a platform which stingingly renounces new deal foreign policy, charges it is leading the country dangerously close to war.

Alf M. Landon, the party's 1936 nominee, endorsed the outspoken foreign plank, terming it, "one that takes into consideration the realities of the situation."

"It will allow our candidate to campaign effectively in view of changing world conditions on the foreign issue—the greatest issue before the people today," the former Kansas governor added.

Peace Vs. War Issue

Both Senator Nye of North Dakota and Rep. Fish of New York, leading congressional isolationists, hailed the plank as setting up the peace versus war issue for the fall election.

The platform, subject to ten days committee debate, was adopted unanimously by the GOP convention last night.

The party's foreign stand was summarized officially by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, in the following words:

"The party stands for Americanism, preparedness and peace. No foreign war. An army and navy so strong that no unfriendly power can successfully attack America or its essential outposts.

"National defense is vital to our existence as a nation of free people. A free economy is neccessary in war as in peace. People of the United States feel and express a sympathetic interest in all oppressed peoples everywhere who are struggling to establish or maintain their homes and their liberties."

About 3500 Words

In the body of platform—which was to have been of "post card" length but turned out to run 3500 words—the new deal is charged with responsibility for our unpreparedness and "the consequences of involvment in war."

Virtually the only point on which isolationists failed to write all their ideas into the platform, was the section which favors extension of aid to "all people's fighting for liberty or whose liberty is threatened."

But even this clause was carefully qualified by the Anti-intervention bloc so as to restrict such aid to that which "is not in violation of international law or inconsistent with the requirements of our own national defense."

New Deal Has Failed

On domestic issues, the platform sweepingly declares that "the new deal administrationn has failed America." The sense of the platform however, was not to wreck much of the new deal legislation, but rather a promise to better and to strengthen it.

Such administration pets as the Wagner labor act and the securities exchange commission were inferentially endorsed when the platform suggested merely their revision and not their extinction.

Indicating another campaign issue provided President Roosevelt runs again—was a plank in the platform calling for an amendment to the constitutionn to bar third terms.

Other highlights of the platform were:

Local control of relief with elimination of "waste and politics'.'

Increased old age pensions, if financially possible and broadening of social security legislation.

Continuance of farm benefits as an emergency, with reclamation, soil conservation and "sound rural credit."

Require congressional approval of reciprocal trade treaties. Though endorsement of "the principle of reciprocity."

Reduction in government expenditures and steps to lead to "a sounder fiscal policy."

An anti-fifth column section, "pledging the Republicans "to get rid of the borders from within" and calling for strict enforcement of laws against undesirable aliens.

RAILROAD MAN'S 'SEWED ON' FINGER IS GOOD AS EVER

(International News Service)

BROWNSVILLE, Tex.—When Jack Hollingsworth looks at the little finger of his left hand, it's hard for him to believe that they were once 34 miles apart.

Hollingsworth, a railway brakeman, got his hand caught in the coupling of two cars and was rushed to the hospital at Harlingen for treatment, his finger missing.

His brother Willard came to the scene of the accident a short time later and found Jack's glove, with the finger in it. He rushed to Harlingen, found his brother had been taken to Brownsville, and went on there.

A surgeon sewed the missing digit back in place. Today Hollingsworth has almost as much use of it as he had before the accident.

Mrs. Grace Todd-Hunter, 72, is shown above, in a Boston court where she is contesting divorce proceedings of her 36-year-old husband, George, lower photo, who claims she deserted him. The 72-year-old wife testified that her young husband left her after she had spent the money she inherited from her first husband.

ODD OCCUPATION MAY EARN COLLEGE BOY AN EDUCATION

(International News Service)

BURLINGTON, Vt.—From a few handfuls of maple seedlings a boy's college expenses may grow.

Robert L. Bickford, University of Vermont freshman, planted seeds for a thousand maple trees for a high school vocational agriculture project. In a few years it may be the source of enough maple syrup and sugar to pay his college expenses.

While in high school Bickford was chosen as one-half of a two-man poultry judging team to represent Vermont at the Eastern States exposition in Springfield, Mass. They topped eight teams in the New England competition winning the right to represent Vermont at the National Convention of the Future Farmers of America in Kansas City, Mo. Here in a field drawn from all sections of the country, his team placed fourth in a total of 100 contests.

TOKYO FACES FIRE HAZARD DUE TO A WATER SHORTAGE

(International News Service)

TOKYO—The world's second largest city is facing one of its most dangerous months and the enemy is fire.

An acute shortage of water caused by an extended drought has dropped the city water pressure so low that fire hoses of the equipment responding to frantic alarms find only bubbles emerging from the nozzles.

Alarmed by the situation and with the year's fire records showing an increase in blazes the Metropolitan Police Board has issued a warning to people to prevent fires at all costs and instituted a campaign to conserve water.

PARDON SAVES CITIZENSHIP OF DENVER MAN

(International News Service)

DENVER.—The possibility of having been barred forever from the United States was overcome for Ernest S. Hilliker, 28, when he was granted a complete pardon by Governor Ralph L. Carr of Colorado.

Hilliker, three years ago pleaded guilty in Denver district court to a charge of forgery, and confidence game by his employer, J. B. Montgomery, head of a trucking firm.

Since that time, Hilliker has developed a highly successful business as a partner in a trucking firm that hauls between Denver and Chicago.

His little empire appeared about to fall apart when federal immigration authorities accussed him of entering the United States illegally from Canada, and ordered him back to his native land.

After a study of the case, Governor Carr expressed belief Hilliker had rehabilitated himself and that he had granted the pardon to enable him to make application to re-enter the United States.

CONVENTION SCENE: TOM AND GENE

Thomas E. Dewey James J. Tunney

"I won a fight here once," James J. (Gene) Tunney, right, appears to be telling Thomas E. Dewey, "perhaps you will, too." The former heavyweight champion and the New York district attorney are pictured above as they met at the Republican national convention in Philadelphia. Dewey seeks the Republican presidential nomination.

PRISONER BROUGHT BACK FROM OHIO

Donald Kromer, wanted in Lawrence county to answer a charge of F. and B., and who refused to waive extradition when County Detective Paul Welsh went after him last week, demanding a hearing on the charges, was brought back to Lawrence county Wednesday and placed in the county jail. Following the hearing before Judge McGill, who ruled in favor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Kromer was returned here and incarcerated.

New Citizens To Be Honored Here On Monday

Perry S. Gaston Post Sponsoring Ceremony In Ben Franklin High School

Arrangements have been completed for the New Citizens Day ceremonies, which will take place in the Ben Franklin high school auditorium on Monday evening, July 1, at 8 o'clock, when the 395 persons who have been naturalized during the past year, as well as all young men and women, becoming citizens by reason of their reaching the age of 21 years, will be honored.

The Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, is sponsoring the celebration locally, and in this, they are being joined by the Exchange Club.

Attorney Clarence A. Patterson, who is in charge of the arrangements for the occasion, states that a splendid program, appropriate to the occasion has been planned. This will include addresses by President Judge W. Walter Braham, of the Lawrence county courts, and Superintendent of Schools, Dr. C. C. Green.

All newly naturalized citizens as well as those who have made application for citizenship have also been issued an invitation to attend, and a record throng is expected present for the occasion.

Pennsy Directors Vote $10,000,000 For New Equipment

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Wednesday authorized the placing of orders for $10,000,000 worth of new equipment including 2,545 freight cars of various types and 20 tenders for heavy freight locomotives.

With the $17,000,000 program of equipment and property improvement begun last fall, the new order brings to $600,000,000 the money spent by the road in the last 10 years on additions and improvements, according to Martin W. Clement, Pennsylvania president.

The board also authorized the construction of two high-speed coal-burning steam passenger locomotives of a new design and eight ultra-modern type passenger cars for the new Chicago-Miami luxury coach train service to be inaugurated next fall.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

SUMMER CARE

No advice on the care of babies in summer is more important than this: keep flies away from him and everything he eats, or touches, or wears. This is particularly important during July and August.

I believe that if by some miracle we could eliminate flies, the dreaded intestinal toxaemia or summer complaint which kills so many children would just about disappear.

When I first began to practise in my part of Northern Ontario, summer complaint was very prevalent. My first summer here I had case after case of the disease, and a great many of the children died. Most were breast-fed babies, too, and summer complaint deaths among breast-fed babies are normally less numerous than among bottle-babies, as I explained yesterday.

In those days here, flies were accepted as a necessary evil. Screens on doors and windows were almost unknown. It quickly became apparent to me that flies were an undoubted factor in the disease, for the height of the diarrhea epidemics in the region always came at the height of the fly season. Flies would walk over the nipple through which baby was given his water, flies lit on baby's face, walked over his mouth. Flies had the run of the kitchens and the sleeping rooms.

I started a campaign against flies. In every home to which I was called, I gave the mother a talk about flies and tried to make her see to it that her children and house were protected against them.

But, I didn't make headway easily. Usually I didn't get to reach families with my warnings against flies until a baby was already sick—until the damage had been done. All I could do then was forewarn the family against future infections. And some were not disposed to accept my word that flies were such troublemakers, and some simply didn't pay any attention to my efforts. So I sought aid in my campaign.

The pioneer people here in those days were mostly French Canadians, all devout Roman Catholics with whom their padre's word was law. I went to see the parish priest. He was a good deal older than I, and I was just apprehensive of what he might say of my plan to make him my "policeman." I began by asking, "Father, you have been burying a lot of babies lately, haven't you "

"Yes, doctor, I have," he replied. "There was the Desjardins child last Tuesday, the Couture infant on Saturday—yes, there have certainly been more than usual. I suppose it is the hot summer."

"Father," I replied, "I believe flies killed all those children."

I think the kindly old man thought I was touched, until I went ahead and explained summer complaint, how it came through contamination and infection, and these could be spread by flies. When I finished, the padre promised his wholehearted cooperation. From his pulpit, in his visits throughout the parish, he talked against flies and the necessity of eliminating fly-breeding spots and of screening houses.

From that day on, the mortality rate from summer complaint fell in his parish.

Missing Army Flier Is Safe

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 27. — An army air corps training plane, feared lost on a flight from Hagerstown, Md., to Pittsburgh, landed safely at Marietta, O., the air corps station here learned Wednesday after a regional search for the craft had been launched.

The pilot, Lieut. Dow, apparently had been forced off his course by severe storms which raged over the Maryland-Pennsylvania area Tuesday. Pittsburgh air corps officers were advised by the Middletown air depot near Harrisburg that Dow had landed at Marietta.

Large American Losses Seen In Nazi-Dominated Territories Of Europe

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 27.—American financial losses in Nazi-dominated territories in Europe may reach $500,000,000, commerce department officials estimated today.

These losses are expected to result from German control of American long-term investments in plants, securities and various real properties in various European countries which have been conquered by the Nazi war machine.

Officials predict that American business probably will be forced to "write off" these investments since German economy does not make any concessions to foreign capital.

Amounts of investments which may be classified as losses, in the opinion of commerce officials, include: Germany, $228,000,000; Austria, $6,000,000; Czecho-Slovakia, $5,000,000; Poland, $34,000,000; Denmark, $14,000,000; Norway, $27,000,000; Holland, $19,000,000; Belgium, $35,000,000 and possibly France, $146,000,000.

No Currency To Foreigners

American industry has received no financial return on its investments in Germany for some years, since the Nazi system of exchange control permits practically no currency to be paid out to foreigners. Up to the end of last year, the United States has received in the neighborhood of $75,000,000 annually on American investments in Europe.

A possibility exists that the United States government may take steps to offset any American losses by taking possession of foreign assets held in this country.

American assets of Belgium, Denmark, Norway, Holland and France at present are in control of the treasury and release of any of these assets may only be effected under government license. These assets total more than $2,000,000,000.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said a study is being made of possible American losses abroad. He emphasized, however, that no decision had been reached concerning possible seizure of foreign funds to pay for American losses.

Belgium Cannot Withdraw Funds From U. S. Banks

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 27.—In another move to prevent Germany from seizing funds of conquered countries, the U. S. Treasury today issued an order revoking the privilege of the Belgium government and the Bank of Belgium to withdraw funds from this country.

At the time Belgium assets in this country were frozen after the German invasion, the government and the Belgium bank were exempted. It was believed the treasury acted Wednesday so that all transactions revolving about Belgium funds or assets in this country could be scrutinized. In this manner, it was explained, the treasury can halt any transactions withdrawing funds if it appears the action is the result of duress from Germany.

Nature heals our wounds in amazing manner.

Pare, early French surgeon, recognized Nature's ability.

"I dressed his wounds, and God healed him," he said.

Before Pare, wounds were treated with boiling oil.

It was a cruel, stupid, unsatisfactory treatment.

Today's surgeons clean out the wound, let Nature help.

Pasteur and Lister laid the foundation for modern surgery.

Pasteur proved that infections were due to germs.

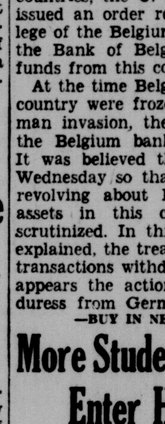

Lister proved the need for antisepsis and asepsis.

Surgeons gradually changed their methods of treatment.

They keep the operative field clean and free from germs.

Nature is then able to do its brilliant work.

Platform Aims At Peace For U. S.

By GRIFFING BANCROFT, Jr.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 27—The Republican party was hailed by its leaders today as the "peace party" following adoption of a platform which stingingly renounces new deal foreign policy, charges it is leading the country dangerously close to war.

Alf M. Landon, the party's 1936 nominee, endorsed the outspoken foreign plank, terming it, "one that takes into consideration the realities of the situation."

"It will allow our candidate to campaign effectively in view of changing world conditions on the foreign issue—the greatest issue before the people today," the former Kansas governor added.

Peace Vs. War Issue

Both Senator Nye of North Dakota and Rep. Fish of New York, leading congressional isolationists, hailed the plank as setting up the peace versus war issue for the fall election.

The platform, subject to ten days committee debate, was adopted unanimously by the GOP convention last night.

The party's foreign stand was summarized officially by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, in the following words:

"The party stands for Americanism, preparedness and peace. No foreign war. An army and navy so strong that no unfriendly power can successfully attack America or its essential outposts.

"National defense is vital to our existence as a nation of free people. A free economy is neccessary in war as in peace. People of the United States feel and express a sympathetic interest in all oppressed peoples everywhere who are struggling to establish or maintain their homes and their liberties."

About 3500 Words

In the body of platform—which was to have been of "post card" length but turned out to run 3500 words—the new deal is charged with responsibility for our unpreparedness and "the consequences of involvment in war."

Virtually the only point on which isolationists failed to write all their ideas into the platform, was the section which favors extension of aid to "all people's fighting for liberty or whose liberty is threatened."

But even this clause was carefully qualified by the Anti-intervention bloc so as to restrict such aid to that which "is not in violation of international law or inconsistent with the requirements of our own national defense."

New Deal Has Failed

On domestic issues, the platform sweepingly declares that "the new deal administrationn has failed America." The sense of the platform however, was not to wreck much of the new deal legislation, but rather a promise to better and to strengthen it.

Such administration pets as the Wagner labor act and the securities exchange commission were inferentially endorsed when the platform suggested merely their revision and not their extinction.

Indicating another campaign issue provided President Roosevelt runs again—was a plank in the platform calling for an amendment to the constitutionn to bar third terms.

Other highlights of the platform were:

Local control of relief with elimination of "waste and politics'."

Increased old age pensions, if financially possible and broadening of social security legislation.

Continuance of farm benefits as an emergency, with reclamation, soil conservation and "sound rural credit."

Require congressional approval of reciprocal trade treaties. Though endorsement of "the principle of reciprocity."

Reduction in government expenditures and steps to lead to "a sounder fiscal policy."

An anti-fifth column section, "pledging the Republicans "to get rid of the borders from within" and calling for strict enforcement of laws against undesirable aliens.

RAILROAD MAN'S 'SEWED ON' FINGER IS GOOD AS EVER

(International News Service)

BROWNSVILLE, Tex.—When Jack Hollingsworth looks at the little finger of his left hand, it's hard for him to believe that they were once 34 miles apart.

Hollingsworth, a railway brakeman, got his hand caught in the coupling of two cars and was rushed to the hospital at Harlingen for treatment, his finger missing.

His brother Willard came to the scene of the accident a short time later and found Jack's glove, with the finger in it. He rushed to Harlingen, found his brother had been taken to Brownsville, and went on there.

A surgeon sewed the missing digit back in place. Today Hollingsworth has almost as much use of it as he had before the accident.

TOKYO—The world's second largest city is facing one of its most dangerous months and the enemy is fire.

An acute shortage of water caused by an extended drought has dropped the city water pressure so low that fire hoses of the equipment responding to frantic alarms find only bubbles emerging from the nozzles.

Alarmed by the situation and with the year's fire records showing an increase in blazes the Metropolitan Police Board has issued a warning to people to prevent fires at all costs and instituted a campaign to conserve water.

PARDON SAVES CITIZENSHIP OF DENVER MAN

(International News Service)

DENVER.—The possibility of having been barred forever from the United States was overcome for Ernest S. Hilliker, 28, when he was granted a complete pardon by Governor Ralph L. Carr of Colorado.

Hilliker, three years ago pleaded guilty in Denver district court to a charge of forgery, and confidence game by his employer, J. B. Montgomery, head of a trucking firm.

Since that time, Hilliker has developed a highly successful business as a partner in a trucking firm that hauls between Denver and Chicago.

His little empire appeared about to fall apart when federal immigration authorities accussed him of entering the United States illegally from Canada, and ordered him back to his native land.

After a study of the case, Governor Carr expressed belief Hilliker had rehabilitated himself and that he had granted the pardon to enable him to make application to re-enter the United States.

Dewey seeks the Republican presidential nomination.

PRISONER BROUGHT BACK FROM OHIO

Donald Kromer, wanted in Lawrence county to answer a charge of F. and B., and who refused to waive extradition when County Detective Paul Welsh went after him last week, demanding a hearing on the charges, was brought back to Lawrence county Wednesday and placed in the county jail. Following the hearing before Judge McGill, who ruled in favor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Kromer was returned here and incarcerated.

FLOWER MISSION DAY

Members of the Frances Williard Union entertained ladies of the Almira Home for their regular Flower Mission Day celebration on June 21. Mrs. C. N. Moore led the assemblage in devotionals and used "Flowers" as the theme.

Mrs. W. E. McKee had charge of the program and featuring was the consecration of two Temperance Light Bearers, who were Marjorie Lach and Evelyn Chapel.

Mrs. Grant Fisher gave several of her original poems. Mrs. W. J. Caldwell, accompanied at the piano by Miss Leslie, sang several pleasing selections. Mrs. Kathryn Nessle Allen played the accompaniment for both Mrs. Fisher and Miss Leslie, who sang a lovely duet.

Following the presentation of flowers to each lady guest, tasty refreshments were served. Mrs. J. E. Rodgers, Mrs. H. R. Armstrong, Mrs. E. C. McCracken, Mrs. Howard Reynolds, Mrs. William Scott, Mrs. Edward Mayberry and Mrs. H. G. Voorhees composed the committee.

SCOTLAND UNION

Scotland Union members gathered Monday evening in the home of Mrs. S. L. Wilson, New Bedford road. Mrs. Wilson had charge of the devotionals and used the theme, "What the Cross Should Mean to Christians".

Following a period devoted to prayer, Elizabeth Taylor had charge of the business routine. Mrs. Wylie Wallace was chairlady of the program, whose topic was "Movies". Mrs. J. D. Pattison gave a report of the state motion picture census of 1939.

A nominating committeee, composed of Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Pearl Cochran and Elizabeth Wallace, was appointed to select candidates for the annual election of officers, which will take place at the next meeting. Plans were formed for the showing of the picture, "A Beneficient Reprobate".

Tasty refreshments were served and Mrs. Bert Coates, Sr., aided.

Cole Bros. Circus With Ken Maynard Is Coming Soon

KEN MAYNARD AND HIS HORSE TARZAN WILL APPEAR HERE WITH COLE BROS. CIRCUS

Ken Maynard has galloped his way into the hearts of over twenty million American boys and girls mainly through his efforts on the silver screen, but now the Cole Bros. Circus brings him in person to New Castle, where he and his famous horse "Tarzan" will be seen for two performances on Tuesday, July 9.

The Cole Bros. Circus this year has been greatly enlarged by the addition of a huge double menagerie and arrangements will be made to open the doors to the big tent one hour in advance of the starting time of the circus to allow patrons to inspect the animals.

Over 200 acts are with the circus this year and these include The Escalante Troupe of acrobats, aerialists and fliers, The Loyal-Repenski Family of bareback riders, twelve brothers and sisters, who have grown up with the circus and whose forbears for five generations were connected with foreign circuses. The Skating Rockets from Oslo, Norway, Joan Spalding, world's greatest lady gymnast. The Brannock Troupe, high wire thrillers, Alonzo Family, five herds of elephants, hundreds of high school horses, camels, zebras, monkeys, and other domestic animals.

The two performances in New Castle, on Tuesday, July 9, at the Cedar street grounds, will start promptly at 2 and 8 p. m.

PASTURE WEEDS PASS GRASSES IN GROWTH

HARRISBURG.—The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture says the late, cool, wet spring has retarded pasture grasses but many pasture weeds have kept on growing.

"Bluegrass will start heading soon and unless grazing is heavy during the next two weeks, clipping will be necessary to keep weeds and bluegrass under control, the Department advises.

"The mower may be set to clip closely. This will encourage the white clover, help scatter droppings and promote more uniform grazing. The best way to control weeds in pastures is to crowd them out by good treatments which encourage the bluegrass and white clover.

West Virginia Slayer Awaiting Death On Gallows

(International News Service)

WHEELING, W. Va., June 27—Each tick of the clock brought death closer today to 28 year old Byzantine Hartman, Upshur county ex-convict who is scheduled to be hanged tomorrow evening in West Virginia state penitentiary at Moundsville. He apparently has given up hope that Gov. Homer Holt will intervene.

Hartman pleaded guilty to the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Wilbur Gruber last April. He has shown little or no concern over his impending doom, and calmly discussed the pending execution with his guards in the death row, it was learned.

Large American Losses Seen In Nazi-Dominated Territories Of Europe

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 27.—American financial losses in Nazi-dominated territories in Europe may reach $500,000,000, commerce department officials estimated today.

These losses are expected to result from German control of American long-term investments in plants, securities and various real properties in various European countries which have been conquered by the Nazi war machine.

Officials predict that American business probably will be forced to "write off" these investments since German economy does not make any concessions to foreign capital.

Amounts of investments which may be classified as losses, in the opinion of commerce officials, include: Germany, $228,000,000; Austria, $6,000,000; Czecho-Slovakia, $5,000,000; Poland, $34,000,000; Denmark, $14,000,000; Norway, $27,000,000; Holland, $19,000,000; Belgium, $35,000,000 and possibly France, $146,000,000.

No Currency To Foreigners

American industry has received no financial return on its investments in Germany for some years, since the Nazi system of exchange control permits practically no currency to be paid out to foreigners. Up to the end of last year, the United States has received in the neighborhood of $75,000,000 annually on American investments in Europe.

A possibility exists that the United States government may take steps to offset any American losses by taking possession of foreign assets held in this country.

American assets of Belgium, Denmark, Norway, Holland and France at present are in control of the treasury and release of any of these assets may only be effected under government license. These assets total more than $2,000,000,000.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said a study is being made of possible American losses abroad. He emphasized, however, that no decision had been reached concerning possible seizure of foreign funds to pay for American losses.

GARDNER

Mrs. Wesley Fombelle, of the old Pittsburgh road, has gone to Pittsburgh.

Ruthana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gillespie, of Ellwood City, is spending a vacation with Gardner friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brenner, of Rose Stop, are having a vist from their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Zeigler, of New Haven, Conn.

Ernest Sorbo, of Gardner, who just graduated at the Bible school at Springfield, Mo., preached last Sunday at the Pentecostal church in DuBois.

Rev. and Mrs. Earl B. Austin, joint pastors of the Church of God, at Struthers, O., Rev. Bessie Suit, and Mrs. Redman spent a little while with Gardner friends on Monday.

Eleanor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Benson, of Gardner, fell out of the car when her mother was driving thirty miles an hour and has a number of bruises and cuts, but is recovering as well as can be expected.

Mrs. L. M. Reed, left the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Reed, of the old Pittsburgh road, and took her grandson, Joseph, with her to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mayberry, in Aliquippa, where Joseph will visit for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Headland, of the Ellwood road, their son, Bruce, and Miss Marjorie Hildebrand, of New Castle, spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Headland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. White, of Pitcairn. Mr. Headland made a business trip to Pittsburgh on Monday.

Johnson Bronze's New Building To Be 100x150 Feet Dimensions

Section lying south of the Neshannock River is much busier now than some months ago because of industrial expansion. This is evidenced by the announcement of the construction by the Johnson Bronze company of a new addition to their plant of a 100x150 building; erection of a service building by the Pennsylvania Power company and the Conn Machine shop.

The bronze company addition will be for the further production of steel back bearings made from strip for use in automotive and aviation motors.

The electric company building will house various departments, now situated in different sections of the city and the Conn machine company building already has been completed.

Nature heals our wounds in amazing manner.

Pare, early French surgeon, recognized Nature's ability.

"I dressed his wounds, and God healed him," he said.

Before Pare, wounds were treated with boiling oil.

It was a cruel, stupid, unsatisfactory treatment.

Today's surgeons clean out the wound, let Nature help.

Pasteur and Lister laid the foundation for modern surgery.

Pasteur proved that infections were due to germs.

Lister proved the need for antisepsis and asepsis.

Surgeons gradually changed their methods of treatment.

They keep the operative field clean and free from germs.

Belgium Cannot Withdraw Funds From U. S. Banks

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 27.—In another move to prevent Germany from seizing funds of conquered countries, the U. S. Treasury today issued an order revoking the privilege of the Belgium government and the Bank of Belgium to withdraw funds from this country.

At the time Belgium assets in this country were frozen after the German invasion, the government and the Belgium bank were exempted. It was believed the treasury acted Wednesday so that all transactions revolving about Belgium funds or assets in this country could be scrutinized. In this manner, it was explained, the treasury can halt any transactions withdrawing funds if it appears the action is the result of duress from Germany.

Cole Bros. Circus With Ken Maynard Is Coming Soon

Ken Maynard has galloped his way into the hearts of over twenty million American boys and girls mainly through his efforts on the silver screen, but now the Cole Bros. Circus brings him in person to New Castle, where he and his famous horse "Tarzan" will be seen for two performances on Tuesday, July 9.

The Cole Bros. Circus this year has been greatly enlarged by the addition of a huge double menagerie and arrangements will be made to open the doors to the big tent one hour in advance of the starting time of the circus to allow patrons to inspect the animals.

Over 200 acts are with the circus this year and these include The Escalante Troupe of acrobats, aerialists and fliers, The Loyal-Repenski Family of bareback riders, twelve brothers and sisters, who have grown up with the circus and whose forbears for five generations were connected with foreign circuses. The Skating Rockets from Oslo, Norway, Joan Spalding, world's greatest lady gymnast. The Brannock Troupe, high wire thrillers, Alonzo Family, five herds of elephants, hundreds of high school horses, camels, zebras, monkeys, and other domestic animals.

The two performances in New Castle, on Tuesday, July 9, at the Cedar street grounds, will start promptly at 2 and 8 p. m.

PASTURE WEEDS PASS GRASSES IN GROWTH

HARRISBURG. — The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture says the late, cool, wet spring has retarded pasture grasses but many pasture weeds have kept on growing.

"Bluegrass will start heading soon and unless grazing is heavy during the next two weeks, clipping will be necessary to keep weeds and bluegrass under control, the Department advises.

"The mower may be set to clip closely. This will encourage the white clover, help scatter droppings and promote more uniform grazing. The best way to control weeds in pastures is to crowd them out by good treatments which encourage the bluegrass and white clover.

West Virginia Slayer Awaiting Death On Gallows

(International News Service)

WHEELING, W. Va., June 27—Each tick of the clock brought death closer today to 28 year old Byzantine Hartman, Upshur county ex-convict who is scheduled to be hanged tomorrow evening in West Virginia state penitentiary at Moundsville. He apparently has given up hope that Gov. Homer Holt will intervene.

Hartman pleaded guilty to the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Wilbur Gruber last April. He has shown little or no concern over his impending doom, and calmly discussed the pending execution with his guards, in the death row, it was learned.

Builders Welcome New Candidates At Cathedral Meeting

Thirty-Three Taken Into Builders Wednesday Night; Installation July 10

New Castle Chapter No. 1, Order of Builders, held their stated meeting on Wednesday evening in the Cathedral East Lodge room. Master Builder, Dewayne S. Gibson, presided.

Following the opening, fathers of candidates were introduced and obligated.

Three degrees were presented under the direction of Earl C. Moffatt and Lloyd M. Thompson, the latter, a past master of the Builders. During this procedure, the Builders' theme song, "My Task," was contributed by David W. Rees. This selection, adopted by the Builders throughout, is a composition of the grand master of the United States, Arthur M. Milard, with headquarters in Chicago, Ill.

Following degree, Rev. G. S. Bennett gave an inspiring address on "Our Bible." Thirty-three candidates were each given a Bible. Offering the welcome speech to candidates and fathers alike, divisional deputy grand master, Owen G. Thomas was introduced. His message was most appropriate.

In closing chapter activities, refreshments were served in the West dining room, with a committee of ten, in charge. They were: Walter Carr, chairman, Henry Groomes, Edward Foster, Samuel Jones, Paul Rowland, Charles Walters, James Ingham, Donald M. Rosenthall, George Truby and Dale Woodruff.

The next meeting of The Builders will be an installation assembly, on July 10, to be conducted in the Cathedral at 7:30 o'clock. It will be a closed meeting, however, with fathers of members, and masons, being given a special invitation to attend.

Dewey Nomination Signal For Demonstration

East Brook Alumni Frolics At Reunion

Gay Graduate Host Names "Billy" Bilger President For Coming Year

William "Billy" Bilger was chosen to head the East Brook high school alumni organization during the coming year when 120 East Brook graduates—representing almost all of the classes since 1907—returned to the high school building last night for their annual reunion.

With Bilger the grads of other years chose Neale Edie as vice president; Madia Ellis, recording secretary; Victoria Scott, corresponding secretary, and Mabel Sickafuse, treasurer.

After a dinner of delicious scalloped chicken, prepared and served by the East Brook Women's Christian Temperance Union, the alumni enjoyed, and vigorously applauded, the antics of New Castle's versatile entertainer, Amil Lelenko. Dancing to music of Victor Wagner's recording records followed.

Bilger, the new president, is employed at McKelvey's in Youngstown. He succeeds Omar Fink, president during the past year and general chairman of this year's reunion. The 1941 get-together will take place the last Wednesday in June.

DELEGATES WILL START BALLOTING FOR CANDIDATES

speeches, demonstrations, etcetera—were former President Herbert Hoover, permanent chairman, Jos. W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, and Senator Capper, the veteran Agrarian from Kansas.

In the down town hotels, a Taft fever was on the rise, Dewey backers were fighting to hold a formidable array of delegates calculated to give him the lead on the first ballot, the Willkie star had lost some, but far from all its glitter, while the Vandenberg, Bridges and Gannett camps were talking deadlock and how good their candidates would look when it came.

Session Opens

The convention today was—as usual—tardy in getting under way. Scheduled to open at ten a. m., Chairman Martin kept the tardiness record intact by ignoring the clock while the delegates sat and fanned or milled in the aisles.

At exactly 10:45 a. m., Chairman Martin started pounding his gavel. The delegates, however, having been left waiting, took their time getting into their seats.

Finally at 10:50 Martin got things under way and the invocation was delivered by Dr. Frank Forest Bunker, C. S., former superintendent of the Berkeley California city schools, now an official of the Christian Science church in Washington, D C. In the manner of his faith, Dr. Bunker offered no prayer himself but called for two minutes of silent communion and then led the delegates in the Lord's Prayer.

MacNider And Vandenberg Named

The first to be nominated at the morning session was Hanford MacNider, World War veteran and former national commander of the American Legion. The nominating speech was made by Verne Marshall, who four years ago achieved national recognition when the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Gazette, which he publishes, won the Pulitzer prize.

Vanderberg was the next to be nominated for president. His name was offered by Congressman Roy O. Woodruff of Michigan, who departed from his prepared text right off the bat to give this bit of wisdom to his listeners:

"There has been much talk of 'stopping' this candidate or 'stopping' that candidate for the Republican nomination. I'm not interested in that. I'm interested in what my man (Vandenberg) can stop, and I am here to tell you that he can 'stop' that man down in Washington (Roosevelt)."

Other Candidates Busy

As he spoke, the aisles continued to teem with soliciting candidate managers. Senator Jim Davis of Pennsylvania, who is running the show for Governor James, held a lengthy conference under the Keystone State standard with Bert Snell of New York who voluntarily retired from congress and his post of house minority leader two years ago

Willkie managers, headed by Indiana's youthful-looking representative Halleck were wearing out plenty of shoe leather, as were those for Taft and Dewey. It was Halleck who put Willkie in nomination last night.

When Woodruff completed his nomination of Vandenberg he got a big hand but true to the senator's request is backers made no move to start a demonstration.

But the Michigan delegation shot to its feet waving flags and barrel-chested Harry McDonald, a Detroit song leader, strode to the rostrum and led the convention in "God Bless America," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and the University of Michigan song "Hail to the Victor."

More Nominations

Representative Foster Stearns of New Hampshire whose father was once a close friend and White House adviser to Calvin Coolidge, placed the name of Senator Styles Bridges in nomination.

The name of the astute minority leader of the senate, Charles L. McNary of Oregon was the next to be put in nomination. The nominating speech was made by Judge William A. Edwall, a former member of congress from McNary's state.

The judge found much to praise in McNary's record on farm legislation (he was co-author of the famous McNary-Haugen farm bill,) the senator's well-established reputation for political sagacity and his wily handling of the tiny G. O. P. minority in the senate through the new deal's halcyon days

The first real fire-works of today's opening session came at 1:30 p. m. when Senator James J. Davis of Pennsylvania nominated Governor Arthur H. James, of Pennsylvania. The local gentry had turned out full force, filling a good portion of the gallery and willingly exercising all lungs in behalf of Pennsylvania's favorite son.

At the conclusion of Senator Davis' speech the entire house—delegates and spectators alike—gave the nomination a standing ovation, but in keeping with the governor's request, no prolonged demonstration was tried. The Pennsylvania delegation, with former United States Senator George Wharton Pepper, stripping off his coat to lead the cheers, set up a cry of "We Want James!"

Hitler Made Visit To Napoleon's Tomb

(International News Service)

BERLIN, June 27.—A visit by Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler to the tomb of Napoleon in the Hotel Des Invalides in Paris was officially revealed today.

Soon after the famous tomb was cleared of the sandbags protecting it, the Fuehrer inspected the whole building. He then ascended the Eiffel Tower just like any tourist, visited the opera, the Palace of Versailles and other famous buildings and drove around the boulevards near the Place De La Concorde.

Builders Welcome New Candidates At Cathedral Meeting

Thirty-Three Taken Into Builders Wednesday Night; Installation July 10

New Castle Chapter No. 1, Order of Builders, held their stated meeting on Wednesday evening in the Cathedral East Lodge room. Master Builder, Dewayne S. Gibson, presided.

Following the opening, fathers of candidates were introduced and obligated.

Three degrees were presented under the direction of Earl C. Moffatt and Lloyd M. Thompson, the latter, a past master of the Builders. During this procedure, the Builders' theme song, "My Task," was contributed by David W. Rees. This selection, adopted by the Builders throughout, is a composition of the grand master of the United States, Arthur M. Milard, with headquarters in Chicago, Ill.

Following degree, Rev. G. S. Bennett gave an inspiring address on "Our Bible." Thirty-three candidates were each given a Bible. Offering the welcome speech to candidates and fathers alike, divisional deputy grand master, Owen G. Thomas was introduced. His message was most appropriate.

In closing chapter activities, refreshments were served in the West dining room, with a committee of ten, in charge. They were: Walter Carr, chairman, Henry Groomes, Edward Foster, Samuel Jones, Paul Rowland, Charles Walters, James Ingham, Donald M. Rosenthall, George Truby and Dale Woodruff.

The next meeting of The Builders will be an installation assembly, on July 10, to be conducted in the Cathedral at 7:30 o'clock. It will be a closed meeting, however, with fathers of members, and masons, being given a special invitation to attend.

Dewey Nomination Signal For Demonstration

East Brook Alumni Frolics At Reunion

Gay Graduate Host Names "Billy" Bilger President For Coming Year

William "Billy" Bilger was chosen to head the East Brook high school alumni organization during the coming year when 120 East Brook graduates—representing almost all of the classes since 1907—returned to the high school building last night for their annual reunion.

With Bilger the grads of other years chose Neale Edie as vice president; Madia Ellis, recording secretary; Victoria Scott, corresponding secretary, and Mabel Sickafuse, treasurer.

After a dinner of delicious scalloped chicken, prepared and served by the East Brook Women's Christian Temperance Union, the alumni enjoyed, and vigorously applauded, the antics of New Castle's versatile entertainer, Amil Lelenko. Dancing to music of Victor Wagner's recording records followed.

Bilger, the new president, is employed at McKelvey's in Youngstown. He succeeds Omar Fink, president during the past year and general chairman of this year's reunion. The 1941 get-together will take place the last Wednesday in June.

speeches, demonstrations, etcetera—were former President Herbert Hoover, permanent chairman, Jos. W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, and Senator Capper, the veteran Agrarian from Kansas.

In the down town hotels, a Taft fever was on the rise, Dewey backers were fighting to hold a formidable array of delegates calculated to give him the lead on the first ballot, the Willkie star had lost some, but far from all its glitter, while the Vandenberg, Bridges and Gannett camps were talking deadlock and how good their candidates would look when it came.

Session Opens

The convention today was—as usual—tardy in getting under way. Scheduled to open at ten a. m., Chairman Martin kept the tardiness record intact by ignoring the clock while the delegates sat and fanned or milled in the aisles.

At exactly 10:45 a. m., Chairman Martin started pounding his gavel. The delegates, however, having been left waiting, took their time getting into their seats.

Finally at 10:50 Martin got things under way and the invocation was delivered by Dr. Frank Forest Bunker, C. S., former superintendent of the Berkeley California city schools, now an official of the Christian Science church in Washington, D. C. In the manner of his faith, Dr. Bunker offered no prayer himself but called for two minutes of silent communion and then led the delegates in the Lord's Prayer.

MacNider And Vandenberg Named

The first to be nominated at the morning session was Hanford MacNider, World War veteran and former national commander of the American Legion. The nominating speech was made by Verne Marshall, who four years ago achieved national recognition when the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Gazette, which he publishes, won the Pulitzer prize.

Vandenberg was the next to be nominated for president. His name was offered by Congressman Roy O. Woodruff of Michigan, who departed from his prepared text right off the bat to give this bit of wisdom to his listeners:

"There has been much talk of 'stopping' this candidate or 'stopping' that candidate for the Republican nomination. I'm not interested in that. I'm interested in what my man (Vandenberg) can stop, and I am here to tell you that he can 'stop' that man down in Washington (Roosevelt)."

Other Candidates Busy

As he spoke, the aisles continued to teem with soliciting candidate managers. Senator Jim Davis of Pennsylvania, who is running the show for Governor James, held a lengthy conference under the Keystone State standard with Bert Snell of New York who voluntarily retired from congress and his post of house minority leader two years ago.

Willkie managers, headed by Indiana's youthful-looking representative Halleck were wearing out plenty of shoe leather, as were those for Taft and Dewey. It was Halleck who put Willkie in nomination last night.

When Woodruff completed his nomination of Vandenberg he got a big hand but true to the senator's request is backers made no move to start a demonstration.

But the Michigan delegation shot to its feet waving flags and barrel-chested Harry McDonald, a Detroit song leader, strode to the rostrum and led the convention in "God Bless America." "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and the University of Michigan song "Hail to the Victor."

More Nominations

Representative Foster Stearns of New Hampshire whose father was once a close friend and White House adviser to Calvin Coolidge, placed the name of Senator Styles Bridges in nomination.

The name of the astute minority leader of the senate, Charles L. McNary of Oregon was the next to be put in nomination. The nominating speech was made by Judge William A. Edwall, a former member of congress from McNary's state.

The judge found much to praise in McNary's record on farm legislation (he was co-author of the famous McNary-Haugen farm bill,) the senator's well-established reputation for political sagacity and his wily handling of the tiny G. O. P. minority in the senate through the new deal's halcyon days.

The first real fire-works of today's opening session came at 1:30 p. m. when Senator James J. Davis of Pennsylvania nominated Governor Arthur H. James, of Pennsylvania. The local gentry had turned out full force, filling a good portion of the gallery and willingly exercising all lungs in behalf of Pennsylvania's favorite son.

At the conclusion of Senator Davis' speech the entire house—delegates and spectators alike—gave the nomination a standing ovation, but in keeping with the governor's request, no prolonged demonstration was tried. The Pennsylvania delegation, with former United States Senator George Wharton Pepper, stripping off his coat to lead the cheers, set up a cry of "We Want James!"

Four Armed Bandits Rob Eastern Bank; Secure About $15,000

(International News Service)

RIEGELSVILLE, Pa., June 27.—Four armed bandits today held up the president and cashier of the First National bank at Riegelsville and escaped in an automobile with a reported $10,000 to $15,000 taken from the bank's cages, officials of the institution reported.

The bandits herded William L. Leattor, president, and Raymond Phillips, assistant cashier, into a vault with five customers and rifled the cages. They left the vault unlocked but warned the prisoners not to notify police until they had made their getaway.

Phillips said one bandit stood guard with a machine gun while the others snatched up the loot. The men entered the bank shortly before noon while shoppers passed on the street unaware of the robbery.

State police said the robbers escaped in a car bearing New Jersey license plates, the number on which was jotted down by a spectator.

Riegelsville is located on route 611 leading from Philadelphia, about nine miles north of Easton, Northampton county.

Big Brick Order Being Made Here

The Pearson Brick Co. plant here is supplying a 500,000-brick order for three separate construction jobs on the Grove City college campus, it was learned today. Manufacture of the brick has been under way for some time and delivery is now in progress.

The brick is being provided for the new men's dormitory, as yet unnamed, and the additions to Ketler hall and the Mary Anderson Pew Memorial dormitory.

'ROWLAND'S RANGERS' WORK AT CONVENTION TO NAME GOV. JAMES

stead of inviting delegates up to the Pennsylvania headquarters to talk things over, Cap organized "Rowland's Rangers," an outfit of several hundred James rooters.

The Rangers have been roaming the hotels like a bunch of house detectives and the delegate who hasn't been seen isn't here. When Cap first started his Rangers some of the old timers looked down their noses. Now they realize it has been the one thing that has kept James in the picture. James is still less than an even bet for the nomination but he will come out of this convention with a national acquaintanceship and an enhanced political value.

May Jump On Second Ballot

Not all of the Pennsylvania delegation will stick to the James candidacy after the first ballot. State Senator Frank J. Harris of Pittsburgh said this afternoon that he was leaving James for Willkie on the second ballot. Thompson Bradshaw of Beaver will probably do the same thing as will Jerome Loucheim of Philadelphia. Col. Samuel B. Wolfe, commander of the 103rd Cavalry, may hold off for a ballot or two after the first but when he is convinced James cannot make it he will likely go Willkie.

Parades are the order of the hour not the day. On the downtown streets you could pick up one most any time Wednesday and preparations are being made for those "spontaneous" ovations in the convention hall.

Parades Numerous

Outside the hall Wednesday afternoon I saw four piles of huge Gannet banners each about six by four, mounted on heavy wooden frames. Who is going to carry all of them is a question, but there they were.

The Dewey people staged a last minute drive late Wednesday with apparently all the good looking girls in Philadelphia passing out buttons. Taft's crowd was still passing out carnations and silk ribbons and the Willkie crowd was passing out enthusiasm and confidence.

The convention will not last long after the nomination of a presidential candidate. If a western man gets the nomination for president, Gannet or Bridges will be in line for the vice presidency, it is predicted. If an easterner gets the nomination for president Governor Nels Smith of Wyoming is being held in reserve just in case.

SOME HIGH LIGHTS

From a taxi standpoint, placing the convention hall away out in the University of Pennsylvania district as a stroke of genius. All afternoon and evening long strings of taxis wend their way to the hall and back, looking like a string of yellow ants carrying loads to the ant hill.

Carl Anderson of Butler, is one of the Rowland Rangers and has had charge of seeing the delegates of several states. With Anderson is a group of Butler county Republicans.

One of the busy spots of the convention scene is the International News Service headquarters in the Bellevue Stratford hotel. Barry Faris is in charge and the big room looks like the city room of a newspaper.

Admission to the convention hall gets tougher. You have to have your credentials in order. B. N. Hanlon of New Castle, an honorary assistant sergeant at arms, has his badges but not his card. Through error the card was not given to him. For the first two days he got in all right. Tuesday night he was refused. However other folks got the same treatment, among them Mayor Robert E. Lamberton of Philadelphia.

The Pennsylvania delegation is holding a lot of caucuses and always the theme is "Stick with James." The caucus Wednesday morning brought out a number of stirring speeches especially by Adjutant General Edward Martin, ex-senator David A. Reed and Mrs. Marjorie Scranton. As he brought the meeting to a close Chairman James J. Davis said "this caucus has been on a spiritual plane, let's sing 'America' before we adjourn."

The chief justice of the eighth ward, Alderman B. J. Biondi, got in late Tuesday night. He's having ticket trouble also and at noon Wednesday hadn't been able to locate a ducat.

Attorney Charles R. Davis has been farther away from the convention than if he had stayed in New Castle. Charley has been working for the state committee down here and hadn't even seen the convention hall, Wednesday.

Wednesday and Thursday marked the high spots in attendance at the convention hall. Everybody attending a convention wants to hear some of the nominating speeches and see a few ballots taken. By Friday morning there should be some tickets loose.

Tuesday night the Young Republicans of Minnesota held a reception and party in the Penn A. C. club house for all visiting Young Republicans. Pennsylvania had a number present, among them State President Frank C. Hilton, James F. Malone of Pittsburgh, and Miss Alelaide Rigby of Pittsburgh.

The candidacies of a number of the dark horses have died on the vine apparently. While the backers of Frank E. Gannett, Styles Bridges still maintain a show enthusiasm their booms have collapsed and the boom of Senator Arthur Vandenburg is about in the same shape.

The Dewey people haven't seemed to be able to generate much new enthusiasm since the convention opened if indeed they haven't lost a lost of strength. The two booms that seem to be standing up are those of Wendell Willkie, who seems to gain every hour, and Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

The possibilities of Governor Arthur H. James lie in a protracted convention. If the other three candidates stalmate the convention, it is not beyond the realm of possibility that James could be nominated. If a decision is reached on the fourth ballot it looks as though Governor James would not be the nominee.

Philadelphia has made many friends through its treatment of the convention visitors. There has been little if any price raising, and the citizens here seem to have made it a personal responsibility to see that the visitors go away pleased.

Weather Hampers Highway Building, May Delay Opening

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 27—Engineers indicated today that the partly completed express highway between Harrisburgh and Pittsburgh may not be opened to motorists until late in the summer, probably after Labor Day.

Adverse weather conditions continued to hamper construction of the 160-mile "dream" highway, Samuel W. Marshall, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, pointed out.

Marshall declined to guess when the highway would be dedicated and opened for travel, adding: "With weather conditions what they are, there's no telling when the highway will be finished."

BAD INJUN

PORTLAND, Ore.—Recalling colorful frontier days, E. D. Wertz, ex-army man, recently told how he disciplined Geronimo, the rebellious Apache chieftatin. "Geronimo was a mean-looking Indian," Wertz said. "One time he was jailed for beating his three wives. Then he broke all the window panes, tipped his bunk and smashed all the furniture in his cell. He was placed in solitary until he said, 'Me good Indian now'."

INCREASED INTEREST IN WILD FLOWERS NOTED

HARRISBURG.—People apparently are taking more interest in cultivation and growth of wild flowers, according to correspondence received recently by the State Department of Agriculture.

This month brings out a great many beautiful wild flowers and they seem to be coming into their own because of the many letters that have been received by the seed laboratory of the Bureau of Plant industry of the Department which receives requests for information on wild flowers. These requests particularly concern how wild flowers may be picked, preserved and protected.

Hitler Made Visit To Napoleon's Tomb

(International News Service)

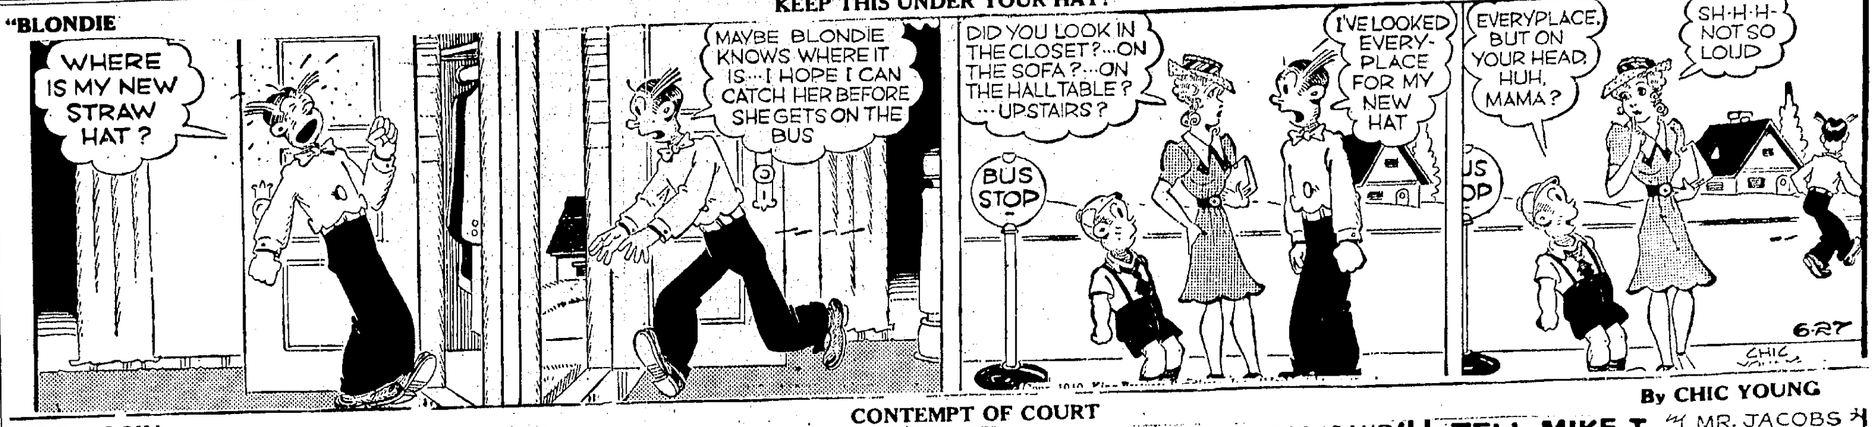

BERLIN, June 27.—A visit by Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler to the tomb of Napoleon in the Hotel Des Invalides in Paris was officially revealed today.

Soon after the famous tomb was cleared of the sandbags protecting it, the Fuehrer inspected the whole building. He then ascended the Eiffel Tower just like any tourist, visited the opera, the Palace of Versailles and other famous buildings and drove around the boulevards near the Place De La Concorde.

Pirates-Cards Make It Tough

Lopez And Southworth Have Given Second-Division Teams New Pep

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 27.—The mad scramble known as the National League pennant race is about to get even wilder by virtue of the fact that, as of today, the two fastest travelling clubs are the Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals, which are deep in the second division but threatening to do something about it, according to statistics gathered by Bill Brandt, head of the league's service bureau. The Pirates and Cardinals probably are too far back to win as the clubs head toward July 4, traditional gauge on probable outcome of the race, but they are not too far back to get in the battle.

Play Good Ball

Oddly enough these two laggards, which were figured among the contenders at the start of the season, have put on their spurt with the aid of additions. The Pirates started when Catcher Al Lopez was lured away from the Boston Bees and the Cardinals did an abrupt about face with the switch in managers which put Billy Southworth in the pilot's seat previously occupied by Ray Blades.

Whether the injection of new blood into the situation caused the sudden uplift, Mr. Brandt nor we wouldn't know, but Lopez began working with the Pirate pitchers on June 16 and Southworth took over for the Cards just two days sooner and the teams immediately went into high. Since then the Pirates have won eight out of 11 and the Cards seven out of 12.

This, mind you, by clubs which all season have been mired to their briskets in defeats. They could come on and toughen things up.

Pirates Need Pitchers

Manager Frankie Frisch, hard-fighter of the old school, was expected to do wonders with the Pirates, but found them so totally inept that the club hasn't yet found the rarified atmosphere of the first division. Addition of Lopez should accomplish at least that, the answer being that when your pitchers go bad hire a catcher.

The Cardinal situation is even more striking, inasmuch as they were favored to win the pennant, but were completely confused instead by the strange tactics of Manager Blades. Southworth seems to have proved that the club can play ball.

And if you think the National League race has been a honey up to now, watch it from here on, regardless of which club may eventually win.

Elders To Play West Pittsburg

Final Regular Games Of First-Half Tonight In City Baseball League

The first-half schedule in the City Baseball League comes to a close tonight with the playing of four regularly scheduled battles, the feature game taking the second-place Elder team to West Pittsburg. All of the games will start at 6 o'clock (weather permitting).

Manager Danny DeGenova of the "Gas House team said today that his pitching selection will be Brakyovich or Tonsetic. The Elders according to Manager Joe O'Leary will use either Hartman or Dory Gunnett. The "Gas Housers" hope to upset the Elders and cut off their pennant bid, while at the same time the West Pittsburg team is not out of the race yet and a win tonight will enhance their pennant hopes greatly.

The league leading Lawrence Indies are slated to appear at the Washington High Field to oppose the Red Sox, and should take it. The St. Joseph's team will be over at Ryantown.

The Moose and Slovaks will battle at Clifton Flats Field. The Croton A. C. and West Side Tigers will be idle tonight but will play Friday at Croton Field as part of a social benefit feature. The Tigers are playing the West Side A. C. tonight at Lee avenue in a exhibition game.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Teddy Yarosz, ex-champion middleweight, and a youngster, Bud Mignault, New England, meet in a 10-round bout tonight in East Liverpool. Mike Raffa, former amateur, will battle Pete DeGrasse, Canadian lightweight. Raffa has boxed here. Another once local performer, Ossie Harris, Pittsburgh, will tackle Milo Theodorescu, Rumanian welterweight. And, by the way, Sammy Crocetti, who got his first tutoring from Jimmie Dime, is battling in New York City nowadays.

Johnny Dean, local middleweight, is on the inactive list, not because he wants to be but because bookings have not come his way. Johnny is a conscientious slugger, and Jake Mintz, Pittsburgh, and Ray Foutts, East Liverpool, could do worse than book J. D. for a battle. There ought not be much difficulty lining Johnny up for a fight with Mintz. True, he may not get the high spot on the card, but could be sandwiched in somewhere, and if Dean is in condition the fans would get their money's worth.

James J. Braddock, former world's heavyweight champion and often referred to as the Cinderella man of fistania, may be the third man in the ring when Max Baer, also exking of heavyweights, meets Tony Galento, once a titular contender, next week in Jersey City. Max's manager, Ancil Hoffman, believs that, because James J. is a promoter in Paterson, he may be banned from arbitrating. The Baer-Galento brawl may be a wild affair. Neither is scientific and depend upon haymakers to bring down opponents.

David Davies, 15, captured the fifth annual Greensburg, Pa., Country club junior golf crown with a net 131 for 36 holes....Seymour Greenberg, Northwestern U, scored a surprise third round victory over William Gillespie, Miami U, at Haverford, Pa., Wednesday, as the field in the national intercollegiate tennis championship narrowed to 16.... Mary Morrison, Hershey, Pa., entered the final of the central Pennsylvania women's golf meet, southern division, at Carlisle, Pa., with a 7 and 6 win over Mary DeLong of Reading, Pa., yesterday. She will defend her 1939 crown today against Joanne Yost, Harrisburg, Pa., star.

The trotters and pacers are racing at Indianapolis. Blackstone, driven by "Doc" Parshall, trotted the fastest mile of the year Wednesday in taking a split-heat decision over The Widower in the $2,400 trotting club stake of the Grand Circuit harness race program at the Indiana State fair grounds. The Trotting club stake, estimated purse $2,000, went to Spud Hanover in two straight heats, Stewart and Peter Silk each took a heat in the 2:24 trot, purse $600, and Adam Volo and Lena Cash performed likewise in the 2:24 pace, purse $600.

SONS OF ITALY WIN LOOP GAME

Defeat Gus Big Ten 8 To 6 At Rose Avenue, Civics Defeat Valentinos

The Sons of Italy won a Class A softball league game last night at Rose Avenue field over the Gus Big Ten 8 to 6. On the hill for the winners was Tony Capp. The losing pitcher was "Heinie" Gunther.

Alfera and J. Fava did the heaviest hitting. Sammy Ciazza again put up a sparkling exhibition in the field.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.

RHODES HURLS TWO-HITTER

"Muddy" Rhodes on the hill for the East Side Civics last night, hurled a swell two-hit game to defeat the Valentinos 6 to 0. This was the second shutout in three games for the Rhodes boy. The losing hurler was Latess.

The Civics had two big innings, the fourth and eighth, to tally five of their runs. Eackles, "Peaches" Koltz and Rhodes had two hits apiece for the Civics. Only four of the Valentino players got to first base.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.
Civics 001 300 020	6	9	1

Class A trapshoot high, T. C. Post, 24 out of 25; second, W. Henry Rodgers, 23 of 25. Beginners high, Tom Kelley, 10 of 25. Ladies event, high, Mrs. Wiley Cooper, New Bedford, 8 of 25.

Skeet shoot high, Frank Molner, Akron. Beginners high, George Duncan.

The crowd which witnessed the trap and skeet shoots last night was the largest ever in the history of the city. The next shoot will be held July 10.

Sports World Ramblings

Sports potpourri:—Norman Robinson, star center-fielder for the Ryantown club, is slated to receive a tryout with the Butler Yankees of the Penn-State circuit. The youth, about 19 and blessed with diamond talent, stands an excellent chance of advancing, according to local sandlot bigwigs. . . .

What's this game of baseball coming to, a cry babies' game? Events of the past few weeks indicate that the majors are over-crowded with prima donnas who have unusually touchy feelings. Unless something is done to alleviate the latest condition, baseball is slated for a series of headaches which deserve no place in the game. . . .

In the near future, a manager will have to study the disposition of every player, to learn the things that might offend a player. Offending the player may mean that he will quit the team, go home and stay there. Why not break up the practice of catering to players? . . .

If a player has a legitimate beef, he has a right to do something about it. But, when a player gets sore because a manager looks cross or does not smile at him sincerely, that has no place in baseball. A few disciplinary measures would soon cause some of the players to realize that it's about time to put away the toys. . . .

The Booklyn Dodgers are living up to their monicker—the dizziest team in baseball. One of the most popular clubs, Brooklyn is proving a cross word puzzle. An almost unbeatable aggregation on the road, the Dodgers can't find the winning formula at home. To date, Brooklyn has copped 16 against 16 defeats at Ebbets Field. On foreign terrain, the Dodgers have tucked in 18 triumphs against five setbacks. . .

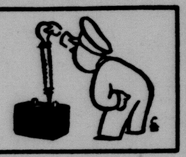

Although little mention is made of the fact, "Ham" Schulte, second sacker for the lowly Phillies, is one of the slickest infielders in the big show. He covers more ground than a circus tent. He was charged with his first miscue last Saturday. He had accepted 200 chances before making an error. . . .

The word is out that American League teams fear the Brownies. Hitherfore a "pop-in", the St. Loos are considered formidable foes. Fred Haney seems to have injected hustle into the club, a trait unknown in the Brownie set up in past seasons. With Radcliff, Hoag, McQuinn, Berardino and Clift murdering the ball, the Browns may even elevate themselves, especially if they get a bit of pitching support. The Browns already have clouted more than 50 homers. . .

According to Manhattan drum beaters, fans throughout the country are having a Roman holiday at the expense of Joe McCarthy, Yankee pilot. After the champs lose, which is a habit anymore, fans wait in the stands while the Yanks and their foreman walk across the field. Then comes a cacaphony of genuine Bronx cheers. McCarthy is taking it like a trouper. . . .

Four Armed Bandits Rob Eastern Bank; Secure About $15,000

(International News Service)

RIEGELSVILLE, Pa., June 27.—Four armed bandits today held up the president and cashier of the First National bank at Riegelsville and escaped in an automobile with a reported $10,000 to $15,000 taken from the bank's cages, officials of the institution reported.

The bandits herded William L. Leattor, president, and Raymond Phillips, assistant cashier, into a vault with five customers and rifled the cages. They left the vault unlocked but warned the prisoners not to notify police until they had made their getaway.

Phillips said one bandit stood guard with a machine gun while the others snatched up the loot. The men entered the bank shortly before noon while shoppers passed on the street unaware of the robbery.

State police said the robbers escaped in a car bearing New Jersey license plates, the number on which was jotted down by a spectator.

Riegelsville is located on route 611 leading from Philadelphia, about nine miles north of Easton, Northampton county.

'ROWLAND'S RANGERS' WORK AT CONVENTION TO NAME GOV. JAMES

stead of inviting delegates up to the Pennsylvania headquarters to talk things over, Cap organized "Rowland's Rangers," an outfit of several hundred James rooters.

The Rangers have been roaming the hotels like a bunch of house detectives and the delegate who hasn't been seen isn't here. When Cap first started his Rangers some of the old timers looked down their noses. Now they realize it has been the one thing that has kept James in the picture. James is still less than an even bet for the nomination but he will come out of this convention with a national acquaintanceship and an enhanced political value.

May Jump On Second Ballot

Not all of the Pennsylvania delegation will stick to the James candidacy after the first ballot. State Senator Frank J. Harris of Pittsburgh said this afternoon that he was leaving James for Willkie on the second ballot. Thompson Bradshaw of Beaver will probably do the same thing as will Jerome Loucheim of Philadelphia. Col. Samuel B. Wolfe, commander of the 103rd Cavalry, may hold off for a ballot or two after the first but when he is convinced James cannot make it he will likely go Willkie.

Parades are the order of the hour not the day. On the downtown streets you could pick up one most any time Wednesday and preparations are being made for those "spontaneous" ovations in the convention hall.

Parades Numerous

Outside the hall Wednesday afternoon I saw four piles of huge Gannet banners each about six by four, mounted on heavy wooden frames. Who is going to carry all of them is a question, but there they were.

The Dewey people staged a last minute drive late Wednesday with apparently all the good looking girls in Philadelphia passing out buttons. Taft's crowd was still passing out carnations and silk ribbons and the Willkie crowd was passing out enthusiasm and confidence.

The convention will not last long after the nomination of a presidential candidate. If a western man gets the nomination for president, Gannet or Bridges will be in line for the vice presidency, it is predicted. If an easterner gets the nomination for president Governor Nels Smith of Wyoming is being held in reserve just in case.

SOME HIGH LIGHTS

From a taxi standpoint, placing the convention hall away out in the University of Pennsylvania district as a stroke of genius. All afternoon and evening long strings of taxis wend their way to the hall and back, looking like a string of yellow ants carrying loads to the ant hill.

Carl Anderson of Butler, is one of the Rowland Rangers and has had charge of seeing the delegates of several states. With Anderson is a group of Butler county Republicans.

One of the busy spots of the convention scene is the International News Service headquarters in the Bellevue Stratford hotel. Barry Faris is in charge and the big room looks like the city room of a newspaper.

Admission to the convention hall gets tougher. You have to have your credentials in order. B. N. Hanlon of New Castle, an honorary assistant sergeant at arms, has his badges but not his card. Through error the card was not given to him. For the first two days he got in all right. Tuesday night he was refused. However other folks got the same treatment, among them Mayor Robert E. Lamberton of Philadelphia.

The Pennsylvania delegation is holding a lot of caucuses and always the theme is "Stick with James." The caucus Wednesday morning brought out a number of stirring speeches especially by Adjutant General Edward Martin, ex-senator David A. Reed and Mrs. Marjorie Scranton. As he brought the meeting to a close Chairman James J. Davis said "this caucus has been on a spiritual plane, let's sing 'America' before we adjourn."

The chief justice of the eighth ward, Alderman B. J. Biondi, got in late Tuesday night. He's having ticket trouble also and at noon Wednesday hadn't been able to locate a ducat.

Attorney Charles R. Davis has been farther away from the convention than if he had stayed in New Castle. Charley has been working for the state committee down here and hadn't even seen the convention hall, Wednesday.

Wednesday and Thursday marked the high spots in attendance at the convention hall. Everybody attending a convention wants to hear some of the nominating speeches and see a few ballots taken. By Friday morning there should be some tickets loose.

Tuesday night the Young Republicans of Minnesota held a reception and party in the Penn A. C. club house for all visiting Young Republicans. Pennsylvania had a number present, among them State President Frank C. Hilton, James F. Malone of Pittsburgh, and Miss Alelaide Rigby of Pittsburgh.

The candidacies of a number of the dark horses have died on the vine apparently. While the backers of Frank E. Gannett, Styles Bridges still maintain a show enthusiasm their booms have collapsed and the boom of Senator Arthur Vandenburg is about in the same shape.

The Dewey people haven't seemed to be able to generate much new enthusiasm since the convention opened if indeed they haven't lost a lot of strength. The two booms that seem to be standing up are those of Wendell Willkie, who seems to gain every hour, and Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

The possibilities of Governor Arthur H. James lie in a protracted convention. If the other three candidates stalmate the convention, it is not beyond the realm of possibility that James could be nominated. If a decision is reached on the fourth ballot it looks as though Governor James would not be the nominee.

Philadelphia has made many friends through its treatment of the convention visitors. There has been little if any price raising, and the citizens here seem to have made it a personal responsibility to see that the visitors go away pleased.

Weather Hampers Highway Building, May Delay Opening

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 27—Engineers indicated today that the partly completed express highway between Harrisburgh and Pittsburgh may not be opened to motorists until late in the summer, probably after Labor Day.

Adverse weather conditions continued to hamper construction of the 160-mile "dream" highway, Samuel W. Marshall, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, pointed out.

Marshall declined to guess when the highway would be dedicated and opened for travel, adding: "With weather conditions what they are, there's no telling when the highway will be finished."

BAD INJUN

PORTLAND, Ore.—Recalling colorful frontier days, E. D. Wertz, ex-army man, recently told how he disciplined Geronimo, the rebellious Apache chieftatin. "Geronimo was a mean-looking Indian," Wertz said. "One time he was jailed for beating his three wives. Then he broke all the window panes, tipped his bunk and smashed all the furniture in his cell. He was placed in solitary until he said, 'Me good Indian now'."

INCREASED INTEREST IN WILD FLOWERS NOTED

HARRISBURG.—People apparently are taking more interest in cultivation and growth of wild flowers, according to correspondence received recently by the State Department of Agriculture.

This month brings out a great many beautiful wild flowers and they seem to be coming into their own because of the many letters that have been received by the seed laboratory of the Bureau of Plant industry of the Department which receives requests for information on wild flowers. These requests particularly concern how wild flowers may be picked, preserved and protected.

Athletics Trim Hustling Browns

Browns Slide Out Of First Division As Yanks Defeat Cleveland

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 27.—If the Browns continue to flirt with the first division as they have been doing lately, they will almost surely succeed in having their pilot, little Fred Haney, named as the manager of the year.

Fred has done a remarkable job with the club. When the season opened, the baseball wise men took a look at Fred's nice assortment of cast-offs, promptly picked them to wind up in the American league cellar and bookies immediately quoted 100 to 1 against their chances.

"What," everybody asked, "is poor Haney going to use for pitchers?"

Well, Fred's pitchers may be nothing to write home about but he has them turning in an occasional good game and when they do his club wins. What's more to the point, the Browns are improving all the time under Fred's guidance and if they finish fifth he will have worked wonders.

Pirates-Phils Split

His charges didn't do so well yesterday when George Caster, the losingest pitcher in either league, set them down, 9 to 4, largely by virtue of Sam Chapman's base-clogged homer.

The defeat dropped them out of the first division and sent the Yanks up there. With Red Ruffing giving only six hits and Joe DiMaggio driving in all the runs, the Yanks trimmed the Indians, 3-1. The White Sox came from behind in the ninth to nose out the Senators, 7-6, and when young Johnny Gorsica blew in the ninth, the Red Sox beat the Tigers, 3-1.

The only daylight games in the National were played by the Phils and Pirates, the Phils taking the opener, 4-2, and dropping the nightcap, 11-6. The Giants topped the Cards 10 to 9 in the 10th inning of a night game.

TIGERS DEFEAT ST. JOSEPH 6-3

The West Side Tigers defeated the St. Joseph team last night 6 to 3 in a postponed City league game at Lee avenue field. Smith on the hill for the Tigers allowed the Saints but four hits. The Tigers only had six hits off of Father Schirra.

The game was a pitching battle all the way, with the McCormickmen having three big innings, the first, second and sixth to tally all of their runs. Paul Morrison with a homer was the feature hitter in the game. Other extra-base hitters were Bevan, Magusiak and Carey.

MAN INNOCENTLY USED MARIHUANA IN REGULAR DIET

(International News Service)

SAN JOSE, Cal.—This is the sad story of Louie Devich, 65, and "Mary Huana".

Devich found some strange, spicy weeds growing in his back garden. Experimentation disclosed that the weeds, when ground up, mingled well with the sauce on the Devich macaroni, spaghetti and ravioli. Soon the weed was a staple product in the Devich menu.

Came a state narcotic agent, Leo Rice.

"Where's the marihuana?" demanded Rice.

"Mary Huana, Mary Huana? Never heard of her," replied Devich promptly. "You must have the wrong house."

Rice located two jars full of the pulverized weed and arrested Devich.

Before a jury, Devich told his sad tale. He said he had no idea that the weed was the powerful drug, marihuana.

The jury acquitted him.

BRUCELLOSIS IS GROWING HEALTH MENACE TO U. S.

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—A rapidly growing health menace in the United States today is brucellosis or undulant fever—an ailment caused by drinking infected milk or handling infected cattle.

There have been 20,000 cases of the disease recorded in this country during the last 10 years—1,000 of them in Pennsylvania. But only 112 cases were reported in the United States in 1927.

Warning of spread of the fever most common in rural areas where milk may not be pasteurized, was sounded by Dr. Harrison F. Flippin of the University of Pennsylvania Medical school.

Brucellosis is often confused with tuberculosis, Dr. Flippin said, because of parallel symptoms such as running fever, weakness, sweating and loss of weight. Fever sufferers have been sent to tuberculosis sanatoriums by mistake in some instances, he added.

AMBULANCE HITS BUMP AND BABY COUGHS UP PIN

(International News Service)

OAKLAND, Cal.— June 19—Baby Richard swallowed two pins,
And forthwith cried in pain,
Bound for the doctor, the car hit a bump,
And he coughed them right up again.

This little jingle tells the adventure of Richard French, 11-month old son of Mrs. Ann French.

While his mother was dressing him he reached and grabbed not one, but two safety pins, swallowed them both. Frantic with fear, Mrs French called a police ambulance to rush the baby to the county hospital.

Sirens screaming, the ambulance raced through the street, suddenly the ambulance hit a bump, Richard coughed—out came a pin. The ambulance hit another bump, Richard coughed once more, and out came the other pin.

PLEA FOR BETTER ANESTHETISTS IS MADE BY DOCTOR

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O.—A plea for better anesthetists has been made by Dr. M. I. Alexrod, head of the department of anesthesia, Detroit osteopathic hospital.

Speaking before the convention of the Ohio Society of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, Dr. Axelrod said some hospital patients may suffer as long as six months after surgical operations because of improper administration of anesthetics.

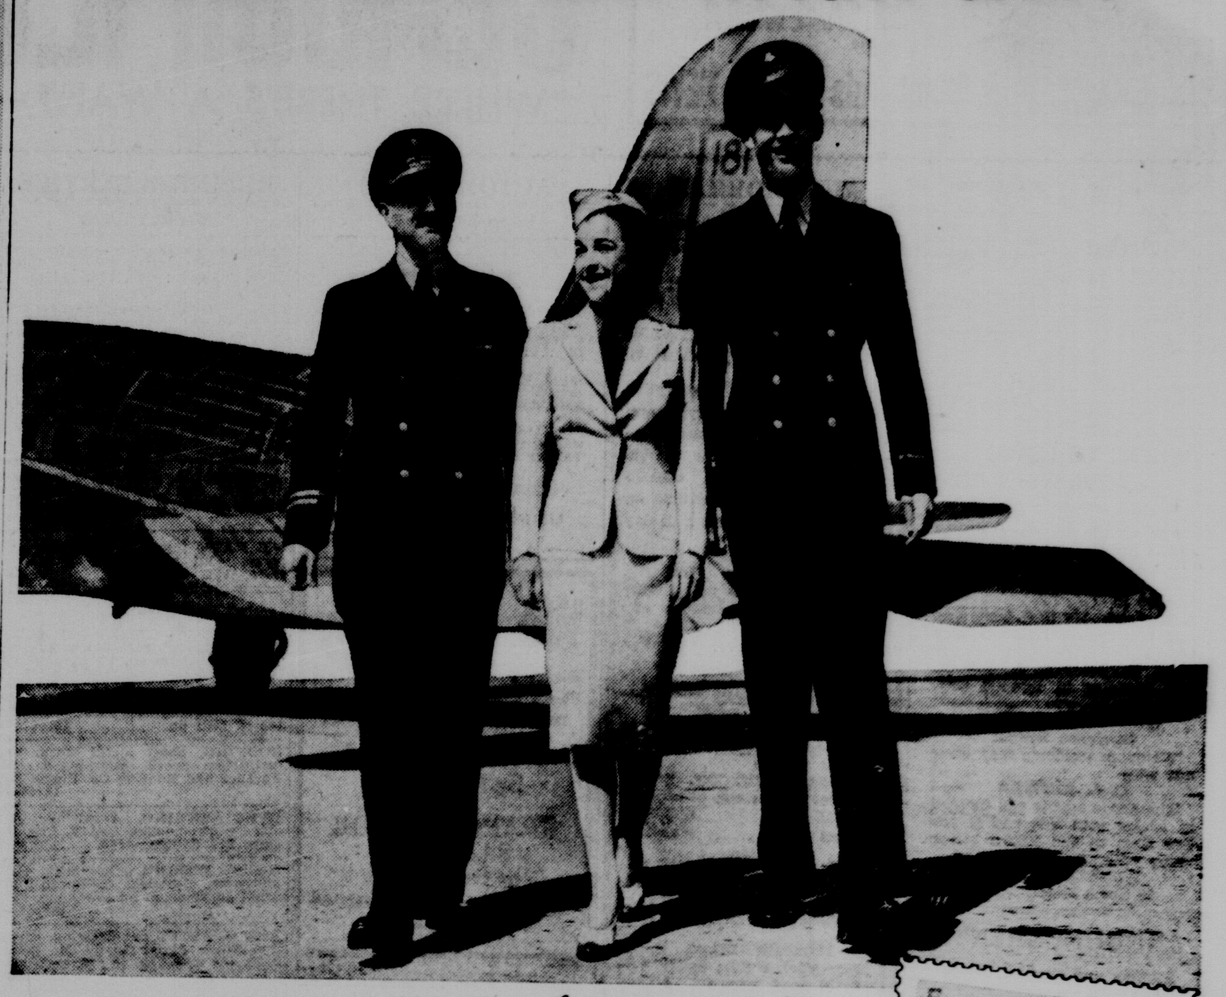

Tremendous advances in anesthesia during the last decade have made possible many types of chest and brain surgery, he said, and have enabled surgeons to perform operations requiring a great length of time.

Pirates-Cards Make It Tough

Lopez And Southworth Have Given Second-Division Teams New Pep

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 27.—The mad scramble known as the National League pennant race is about to get even wilder by virtue of the fact that, as of today, the two fastest travelling clubs are the Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals, which are deep in the second division but threatening to do something about it, according to statistics gathered by Bill Brandt, head of the league's service bureau. The Pirates and Cardinals probably are too far back to win as the clubs head toward July 4, traditional gauge on probable outcome of the race, but they are not too far back to get in the battle.

Play Good Ball

Oddly enough these two laggards, which were figured among the contenders at the start of the season, have put on their spurt with the aid of additions. The Pirates started when Catcher Al Lopez was lured away from the Boston Bees and the Cardinals did an abrupt about face with the switch in managers which put Billy Southworth in the pilot's seat previously occupied by Ray Blades.

Whether the injection of new blood into the situation caused the sudden uplift, Mr. Brandt nor we wouldn't know, but Lopez began working with the Pirate pitchers on June 16 and Southworth took over for the Cards just two days sooner and the teams immediately went into high. Since then the Pirates have won eight out of 11 and the Cards seven out of 12.

This, mind you, by clubs which all season have been mired to their briskets in defeats. They could come on and toughen things up.

Pirates Need Pitchers

Manager Frankie Frisch, hard-fighter of the old school, was expected to do wonders with the Pirates, but found them so totally inept that the club hasn't yet found the rarified atmosphere of the first division. Addition of Lopez should accomplish at least that, the answer being that when your pitchers go bad hire a catcher.

The Cardinal situation is even more striking, inasmuch as they were favored to win the pennant, but were completely confused instead by the strange tactics of Manager Blades. Southworth seems to have proved that the club can play ball.

And if you think the National League race has been a honey up to now, watch it from here on, regardless of which club may eventually win.

Elders To Play West Pittsburg

Final Regular Games Of First-Half Tonight In City Baseball League

The first-half schedule in the City Baseball League comes to a close tonight with the playing of four regularly scheduled battles, the feature game taking the second-place Elder team to West Pittsburg. All of the games will start at 6 o'clock (weather permitting).

Manager Danny DeGenova of the "Gas House team said today that his pitching selection will be Brakyovich or Tonsetic. The Elders according to Manager Joe O'Leary will use either Hartman or Dory Gunneth. The "Gas Housers" hope to upset the Elders and cut off their pennant bid, while at the same time the West Pittsburg team is not out of the race yet and a win tonight will enhance their pennant hopes greatly.

The league leading Lawrence Indies are slated to appear at the Washington High Field to oppose the Red Sox, and should take it. The St. Joseph's team will be over at Ryantown.

The Moose and Slovaks will battle at Clifton Flats Field. The Croton A. C. and West Side Tigers will be idle tonight but will play Friday at Croton Field as part of a social benefit feature. The Tigers are playing the West Side A. C. tonight at Lee avenue in a exhibition game.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Teddy Yarosz, ex-champion middleweight, and a youngster, Bud Mignault, New England, meet in a 10-round bout tonight in East Liverpool. Mike Raffa, former amateur, will battle Pete DeGrasse, Canadian lightweight. Raffa has boxed here. Another once local performer, Ossie Harris, Pittsburgh, will tackle Milo Theodorescu, Rumanian welterweight. And, by the way, Sammy Crocetti, who got his first tutoring from Jimmie Dime, is battling in New York City nowadays.

Johnny Dean, local middleweight, is on the inactive list, not because he wants to be but because bookings have not come his way. Johnny is a conscientious slugger, and Jake Mintz, Pittsburgh, and Ray Foutts, East Liverpool, could do worse than book J. D. for a battle. There ought not be much difficulty lining Johnny up for a fight with Mintz. True, he may not get the high spot on the card, but could be sandwiched in somewhere, and if Dean is in condition the fans would get their money's worth.

James J. Braddock, former world's heavyweight champion and often referred to as the Cinderella man of fistania, may be the third man in the ring when Max Baer, also exking of heavyweights, meets Tony Galento, once a titular contender, next week in Jersey City. Max's manager, Ancil Hoffman, believs that, because James J. is a promoter in Paterson, he may be banned from arbitrating. The Baer-Galento brawl may be a wild affair. Neither is scientific and depend upon haymakers to bring down opponents.

David Davies, 15, captured the fifth annual Greensburg, Pa., Country club junior golf crown with a net 131 for 36 holes....Seymour Greenberg, Northwestern U, scored a surprise third round victory over William Gillespie, Miami U, at Haverford, Pa., Wednesday, as the field in the national intercollegiate tennis championship narrowed to 16.... Mary Morrison, Hershey, Pa., entered the final of the central Pennsylvania women's golf meet, southern division, at Carlisle, Pa., with a 7 and 6 win over Mary DeLong of Reading, Pa., yesterday. She will defend her 1939 crown today against Joanne Yost, Harrisburg, Pa., star.

LEAGUE MEETING

Officials and managers meet on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A.

Plans will be outlined for the second half race, Carm DeLone, president, announced today.

SHORT SPORTS

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Eddie Riska, high-scoring forward and captain-elect, is the sixth Chicagoan in eight years to lead Notre Dame passers.

CHICAGO — Glen Russell, Cub first baseman, is an expert whistler and can imitate birds so well even the birds are fooled.

Robert Shurilla, Marquette U. senior, led the track team in scoring this year with 79 points. He performed in the hurdles and the broad jump.

Remember way back when flaming youth spent Sunday afternoons in lazy canoes—and there were baseball games in which the starting pitchers finished the nine innings?

Schuster, Archie and Vanni, the three leading base stealers of the Pacific Coast League, are all with the same club, Seattle.

Joe Krakauskas, Washington southpaw, is for trade. Clark Griffith thinks the once brilliant pitcher may do better elsewhere.

Hugh Casey, Brooklyn pitcher, has a younger brother catching for Newport of the Northeast Arkansas League.

First Half Race Not Yet Decided

Bessemer and Ellwood City game was rained out yesterday. It would have decided the first half race of the Lawrence league in Bessemer's favor if Bessemer had won. Bessemer will be idle today. However, Ellwood City will play today at New Galilee and tomorrow New Galilee (New Castle Hot Tops) will play at Bessemer.

Utility League Playing Tonight

The Utility softball league will go back into action tonight with the playing of three games at 6 o'clock. The All-Stars meet the Engineers at the Gaston Park Field. The Gilfillans play the Penn Power All-Stars at Dean Park Field. The Water Company meets the National Pants at the Water Company Field.

GIRLS SOFTBALL BATTLES TONIGHT

The following schedule will be carried out in the City Girls' softball league tonight, with all games starting at 6 o'clock.

Checkers vs West Pittsburg at West Pittsburg.

Arenas vs Kingstons at Cedar Street Field.

Junedales vs All-Stars at Liberty Street Playgrounds.

A. C. W. A. WIN GAME

The A. C. W. A. team of the Utility league defeated the Penn Power Merchandisers last night in a City Utility league game 18 to 7 at Dean park field. The winning pitcher was Kolodjy and the loser was Chamberlin.

—BUY IN NEW CASTLE—

GAME IS CALLED OFF

The scheduled Croton-Red Sox game in the city baseball league last night was called off a second time by wet grounds. It will be played at a later date.

Clark Shaughnessy, Stanford's new football coach, and his assistants, are studying every play Stanford and its opponents have used in the last three years.

Post And Molner High In Shoots

2000 Loads Shot; Largest Crowd Yet To Witness Shoots

More than two thousand shells were shot last night when the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association held a trap and skeet shoot on their illuminated ranges at the fair grounds. The results were:

Class A trapshoot high, T. C. Post, 24 out of 25; second, W. Henry Rodgers, 23 of 25. Beginners high, Tom Kelley, 10 of 25. Ladies event, high, Mrs. Wiley Cooper, New Bedford, 8 of 25.

Skeet shoot high, Frank Molner, Akron. Beginners high, George Duncan.

The crowd which witnessed the trap and skeet shoots last night was the largest ever in the history of the city. The next shoot will be held July 10.

Sports World Ramblings

Sports potpourri:—Norman Robinson, star center-fielder for the Ryantown club, is slated to receive a tryout with the Butler Yankees of the Penn-State circuit. The youth, about 19 and blessed with diamond talent, stands an excellent chance of advancing, according to local sandlot bigwigs. . . .

What's this game of baseball coming to, a cry babies' game? Events of the past few weeks indicate that the majors are over-crowded with prima donnas who have unusually touchy feelings. Unless something is done to alleviate the latest condition, baseball is slated for a series of headaches which deserve no place in the game. . . .

In the near future, a manager will have to study the disposition of every player, to learn the things that might offend a player. Offending the player may mean that he will quit the team, go home and stay there. Why not break up the practice of catering to players? . . .

If a player has a legitimate beef, he has a right to do something about it. But, when a player gets sore because a manager looks cross or does not smile at him sincerely, that has no place in baseball. A few disciplinary measures would soon cause some of the players to realize that it's about time to put away the toys. . . .

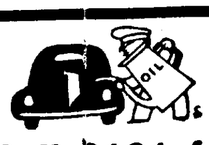

The Booklyn Dodgers are living up to their monicker—the dizziest team in baseball. One of the most popular clubs, Brooklyn is proving a cross word puzzle. An almost unbeatable aggregation on the road, the Dodgers can't find the winning formula at home. To date, Brooklyn has copped 16 against 16 defeats at Ebbets Field. On foreign terrain, the Dodgers have tucked in 18 triumphs against five setbacks. . .

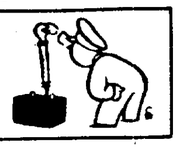

Although little mention is made of the fact, "Ham" Schulte, second sacker for the lowly Phillies, is one of the slickest infielders in the big show. He covers more ground than a circus tent. He was charged with his first miscue last Saturday. He had accepted 200 chances before making an error. . . .

The word is out that American League teams fear the Brownies. Hitherfore a "pop-in", the St. Loos are considered formidable foes. Fred Haney seems to have injected hustle into the club, a trait unknown in the Brownie set up in past seasons. With Radcliff, Hoag, McQuinn, Berardino and Clift murdering the ball, the Browns may even elevate themselves, especially if they get a bit of pitching support. The Browns already have clouted more than 50 homers. . .

According to Manhattan drum beaters, fans throughout the country are having a Roman holiday at the expense of Joe McCarthy, Yankee pilot. After the champs lose, which is a habit anymore, fans wait in the stands while the Yanks and their foreman walk across the field. Then comes a cacaphony of genuine Bronx cheers. McCarthy is taking it like a trouper. . . .

YOUR PENNZIP DEALER OFFERS YOU THIS NEW KIND OF DRIVING THRILL
... With NEW PennZip "Z"—The Stepped-up, Regular Priced Gasoline
MORE PEP AND POWER. With power-wasting impurities purged, PennZip "Z" burns clean—gives livelier pickup and plenty of "no-knock" power for hills and traffic.
QUICKER STARTING. PennZip "Z" has a low initial boiling point which enables it to fire at the first flash of the spark—gets you off to a flying start with less battery drain, less wasted gas, less oil dilution.
PRUNES OUT MOTOR "ROUGHNESS." PennZip "Z" has a higher octane rating which means smooth, even-running motor performance . . . and extra mileage.
TRY A TANKFUL OF PENNZIP "Z" TODAY!
YOU ALWAYS GET NEW GASOLINE
Here's Why:
1. Rushed direct from refinery to you. No danger of weak or "faded" gasoline with PennZip "Z." You get it at the peak of perfection.
2. No "yearly models"—PennZip "Z" is improved continually to give you the best gasoline day in and day out.
...AND ITS PERFECT PARTNER, PENNZOIL, THE ANTI-SLUDGE PENNSYLVANIA OIL

Here's a money-saving tip! For performance, team PennZip "Z" up with PennZoil, the oil that lets your motor run smoother, easier.
NEW Self Return Key Ring!

Here's a key ring you can't lose. With your name and address stamped into it, the new plastic key ring brings keys back to you by mail! Send 10c to The Pennzoil Company, Oil City, Pa., or see your PennZip dealer for order blank.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

When you see a man in woe,
Walk right up and say "Hullo",
Say "Hullo" and "Howdy Do"
"How's the world a usin' you?"
Slap the fellow on the back,
Bring your hand down with a wack,
Don't wait for the crowd to go,
Walk right up and say "Hullo".

Is he dressed in rags or sho'?
Walk right up and say "Hullo"
Rags is but a cotton roll
Just for wrappin' up a soul,
And a soul is worth a true
Hale and hearty "Howdy Do".
Don't wait for the crowd to go
Walk right up and say "Hullo".

Say "Hullo" and "Howdy Do"
Other folks are as good as you,
When big vessels meet, they say
They salute and sail away,
Just the same are you and me
Lonesome ships upon the sea,
Each one sailing his own jog
For a port beyond the fog,
Let your speaking trumpet blow
Lift your horn and cry "Hullo".

When you leave your house of clay
Wandering in the far away,
When you travel through the strange country
Far beyond the range,
Then the friends you've cheered will know
Who ye be and say "Hullo".

Doesn't that old sun make you feel grand . . . let's hope that we continue to have a little sun so that we can all get caught up with the sun tanning. A little sun never hurt anyone . . . just be careful not to overdo it. The M. D. claims that a bad case of sunburn is just as bad as an oil or fire burn. So have fun but take care of your body, it's the only one you have.

July and August are real vacation months . . . hundreds of thousands of working people will take to the open roads . . . some will go west, others east, and we people here in New Castle will see a great many of them since we are on one of the main roads. Try to help these travelers all you can . . . advise them correctly or tell them where they can be advised thusly. There is nothing that leaves a better taste in a tourist's mouth than to find a courteous town. Our police are on their toes and have pledged their support . . . if you do the same, all will go well.

Athletics Trim Hustling Browns

Browns Slide Out Of First Division As Yanks Defeat Cleveland

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 27.—If the Browns continue to flirt with the first division as they have been doing lately, they will almost surely succeed in having their pilot, little Fred Haney, named as the manager of the year.

Fred has done a remarkable job with the club. When the season opened, the baseball wise men took a look at Fred's nice assortment of cast-offs, promptly picked them to wind up in the American league cellar and bookies immediately quoted 100 to 1 against their chances.

"What," everybody asked, "is poor Haney going to use for pitchers?"

Well, Fred's pitchers may be nothing to write home about but he has them turning in an occasional good game and when they do his club wins. What's more to the point, the Browns are improving all the time under Fred's guidance and if they finish fifth he will have worked wonders.

Pirates-Phils Split

His charges didn't do so well yesterday when George Caster, the losingest pitcher in either league, set them down, 9 to 4, largely by virtue of Sam Chapman's base-clogged homer.

The defeat dropped them out of the first division and sent the Yanks up there. With Red Ruffing giving only six hits and Joe DiMaggio driving in all the runs, the Yanks trimmed the Indians, 3-1. The White Sox came from behind in the ninth to nose out the Senators, 7-6, and when young Johnny Gorsica blew in the ninth, the Red Sox beat the Tigers, 3-1.

The only daylight games in the National were played by the Phils and Pirates, the Phils taking the opener, 4-2, and dropping the nightcap, 11-6. The Giants topped the Cards 10 to 9 in the 10th inning of a night game.

TIGERS DEFEAT ST. JOSEPH 6-3

The West Side Tigers defeated the St. Joseph team last night 6 to 3 in a postponed City league game at Lee avenue field. Smith on the hill for the Tigers allowed the Saints but four hits. The Tigers only had six hits off of Father Schirra.

The game was a pitching battle all the way, with the McCormickmen having three big innings, the first, second and sixth to tally all of their runs. Paul Morrison with a homer was the feature hitter in the game. Other extra-base hitters were Bevan, Magusiak and Carey.

MAN INNOCENTLY USED MARIHUANA IN REGULAR DIET

(International News Service)

SAN JOSE, Cal.—This is the sad story of Louie Devich, 65, and "Mary Huana".

Devich found some strange, spicy weeds growing in his back garden. Experimentation disclosed that the weeds, when ground up, mingled well with the sauce on the Devich macaroni, spaghetti and ravioli. Soon the weed was a staple product in the Devich menu.

Came a state narcotic agent, Leo Rice.

"Where's the marihuana?" demanded Rice.

"Mary Huana, Mary Huana? Never heard of her," replied Devich promptly. "You must have the wrong house."

Rice located two jars full of the pulverized weed and arrested Devich.

Before a jury, Devich told his sad tale. He said he had no idea that the weed was the powerful drug, marihuana.

The jury acquitted him.

BRUCELLOSIS IS GROWING HEALTH MENACE TO U. S.

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—A rapidly growing health menace in the United States today is brucellosis or undulant fever—an ailment caused by drinking infected milk or handling infected cattle.

There have been 20,000 cases of the disease recorded in this country during the last 10 years—1,000 of them in Pennsylvania. But only 112 cases were reported in the United States in 1927.

Warning of spread of the fever most common in rural areas where milk may not be pasteurized, was sounded by Dr. Harrison F. Flippin of the University of Pennsylvania Medical school.

Brucellosis is often confused with tuberculosis, Dr. Flippin said, because of parallel symptoms such as running fever, weakness, sweating and loss of weight. Fever sufferers have been sent to tuberculosis sanatoriums by mistake in some instances, he added.

AMBULANCE HITS BUMP AND BABY COUGHS UP PIN

(International News Service)

OAKLAND, Cal.— June 19—Baby Richard swallowed two pins,
And forthwith cried in pain,
Bound for the doctor, the car hit a bump,
And he coughed them right up again.

This little jingle tells the adventure of Richard French, 11-month old son of Mrs. Ann French.

While his mother was dressing him he reached and grabbed not one, but two safety pins, swallowed them both. Frantic with fear, Mrs French called a police ambulance to rush the baby to the county hospital.

Sirens screaming, the ambulance raced through the street, suddenly the ambulance hit a bump, Richard coughed—out came a pin. The ambulance hit another bump, Richard coughed once more, and out came the other pin.

PLEA FOR BETTER ANESTHETISTS IS MADE BY DOCTOR

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O.—A plea for better anesthetists has been made by Dr. M. I. Alexrod, head of the department of anesthesia, Detroit osteopathic hospital.

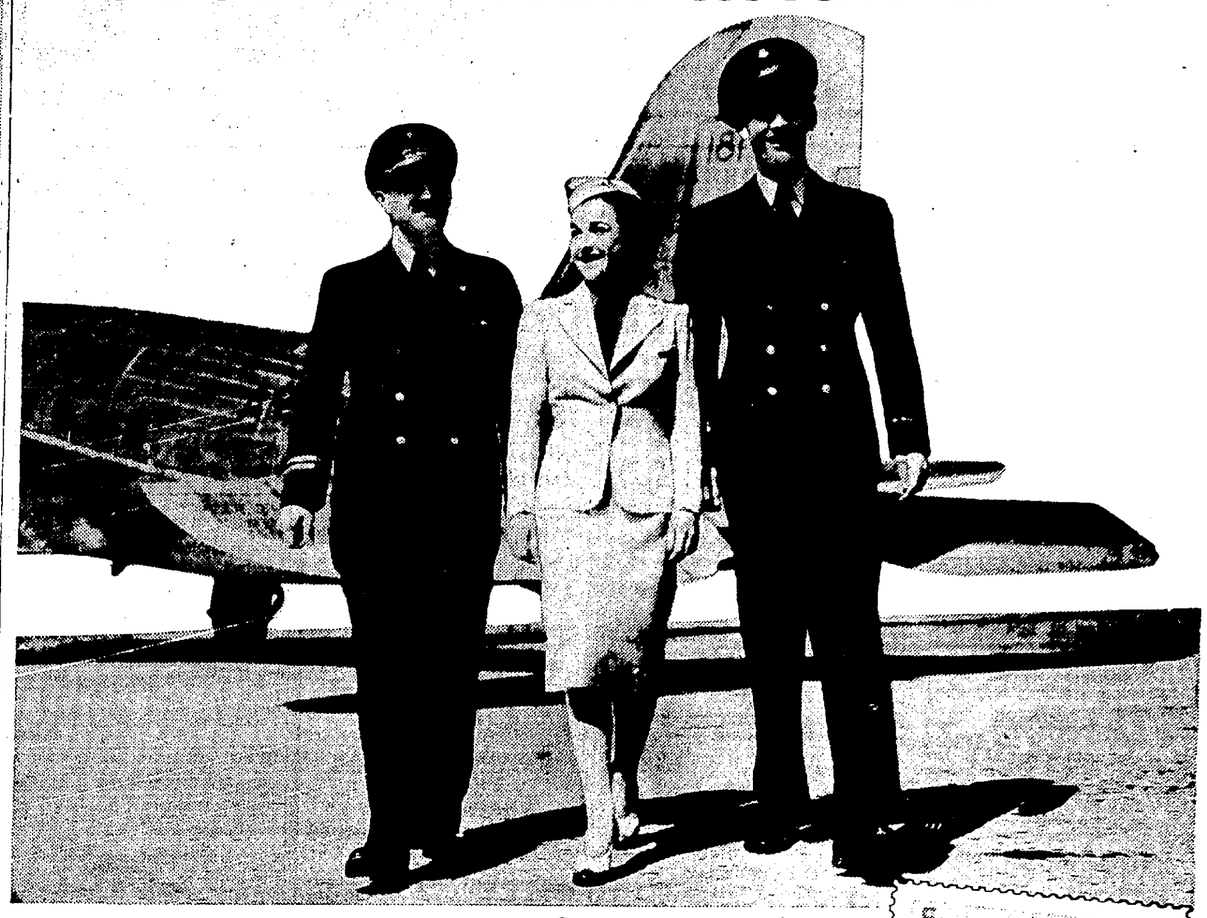

Speaking before the convention of the Ohio Society of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, Dr. Axelrod said some hospital patients may suffer as long as six months after surgical operations because of improper administration of anesthetics.

Tremendous advances in anesthesia during the last decade have made possible many types of chest and brain surgery, he said, and have enabled surgeons to perform operations requiring a great length of time.

Stock Market Rallies Today

Gains Of From 1 To 3 Points Chalked Up By Leaders In Market

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, June 27.—A new rally was recorded in the stock market today, lifting prices 1 to as much as 3 points at their morning highs.

The list was buoyant from the opening and continuing to display a firm undertone despite light profit-taking toward the end of the first hour. Utilities, aviations, chemical and steels were the best groups.

Trading generally, however, was comparatively light as Wall Street awaited this afternoon's balloting to choose the Republican presidential nominee. Sales in the first hour totaled 170,000 shares.

Douglas Aircraft led its group upward with an extreme gain of better than 3 points, while American Air Lines rose more than 2. United Aircraft, Lockheed and Glenn L. Martin each advanced at least a point.

In the chemicals DuPont spurted more than 2 and down about half as much. North American Co. climbed a point, with other utilities doing nearly as well. Chrysler was up a point and General Motors about as much. Westinghouse Electric ran up more than 2 at one time.

Bethlehem advanced more than a point in the first half-hour, but lost part of its gain later. U. S. Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube were fractionally higher.

Advances of a point or more were chalked up by American Car & Foundry, Great Northern Ry. preferred, Kennecott, Libby-Owens-Ford, American Tobacco "B," Industrial Rayon and Loft.

Junior Red Cross Report In Ellwood

Active Health Program Is Being Carried Out In City Report Shows

ELLWOOD CITY, June 27—The annual report of Junior Red Cross activities in Ellwood City shows a most active health program being carried out.

Superintendent J. Ellis Bell assisted by Mrs. Allen Crowe, chairman of Junior Red Cross and all the sponsors throughout the Ellwood City schools have been responsible for this excellent program. The report shows the following:

The Chapter cooperated with Miss Edith Shremp, school nurse and supplied capsules for all under-privileged children.

Miss Shremp's report shows 118 students receiving these capsules. Of this total 113 gained in weight and seven increased thir attendance, one improved in general health and one appeared to be stronger.

The other health program has been carried on with students requiring glasses. The Junior Red Cross of Hartman school has made it possible for ten pupils to be seen by a specialist.

There were six vision cases. Five of the cases were fitted with glasses and on our way home after receiving the glasses several of the girls remarked in great surprise, "Oh, I can see to read the signs along the road." The doctor has reported her case to the oculist at Cleveland Clinic and if he believes he can do anything for her, arrangements will be made for her to go to the Clinic

The other four cases were hearing defects. Two cases had wax removed from ears, third case treated and advised how to care for ear during the summer and the fourth case is being seen every two weeks by the doctor and results are noted for the better.

The North Side building has cared for seven eye examinations and glasses for three pupils were needed.

In September they also paid for medicine for a pupil who has epileptic seizures. This pupil has had fewer seizures since treatment has been started.

The West End building aided two pupils to have vision analysis and one was fitted with glasses.

This working fund is the means of aiding a number of pupils to do better school work and also make life more pleasant for them.

Mrs. Russell Vorhees, Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Mrs. Henry Stoner of this city and Mrs. Ross Stackman of Bells Landing were special guests.

Cards passed the hours in an enjoyable manner with the nice prizes going to Mrs. Howard Fleeger, Mrs. Ralph Thompson and Mrs. Ewing Curry. In serving a refreshing lunch, the hostess was aided by Mrs. Vorhees and Mrs. Fleeger.

On Wednesday, July 10, the group will gather at the home of Mrs. Leslie Mortenson, California avenue, for a tureen supper.

ROCK POINT CLUB MEETS WEDNESDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, June 27.—Mrs. Joseph Matheny was hostess to members of the Rock Point club on Wednesday afternoon at the Gabler home on the Wampum road.

The afternoon was spent quilting with cooling refreshments being served by the hostess' daughter, Mrs. Violet Chapman, and Mrs. John Gabler.

Next Wednesday afternoon the club will be entertained at the Matheny home on the Wampum road.

MODERN MATRONS MEET FOR PICNIC

ELLWOOD CITY, June 27.—Members of the Modern Matrons club were pleasantly entertained for a picnic supper last evening at the summer cottage of Mrs. James Marshall, at Shadyrest. Families of members shared as special guests.

After the tempting dinner, the evening was devoted to playing cards.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

When you see a man in woe,
Walk right up and say "Hullo",
Say "Hullo" and "Howdy Do"
"How's the world a usin' you?"
Slap the fellow on the back,
Bring your hand down with a wack,
Don't wait for the crowd to go,
Walk right up and say "Hullo".

Is he dressed in rags or sho'?
Walk right up and say "Hullo"
Rags is but a cotton roll
Just for wrappin' up a soul,
And a soul is worth a true
Hale and hearty "Howdy Do".
Don't wait for the crowd to go
Walk right up and say "Hullo".

Say "Hullo" and "Howdy Do"
Other folks are as good as you,
When big vessels meet, they say
They salute and sail away,
Just the same are you and me
Lonesome ships upon the sea,
Each one sailing his own jog
For a port beyond the fog.
Let your speaking trumpet blow
Lift your horn and cry "Hullo".

When you leave your house of clay
Wandering in the far away,
When you travel through the strange country
Far beyond the range,
Then the friends you've cheered will know
Who ye be and say "Hullo".

Doesn't that old sun make you feel grand . . . let's hope that we continue to have a little sun so that we can all get caught up with the sun tanning. A little sun never hurt anyone . . . just be careful not to overdo it. The M. D. claims that a bad case of sunburn is just as bad as an oil or fire burn. So have fun but take care of your body, it's the only one you have.

* * *

July and August are real vacation months . . . hundreds of thousands of working people will take to the open roads . . . some will go west, others east, and we people here in New Castle will see a great many of them since we are on one of the main roads. Try to help these travelers all you can . . . advise them correctly or tell them where they can be advised thusly. There is nothing that leaves a better taste in a tourist's mouth than to find a courteous town. Our police are on their toes and have pledged their support . . . if you do the same, all will go well.

Stock Market Rallies Today

Gains Of From 1 To 3 Points Chalked Up By Leaders In Market

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, June 27.—A new rally was recorded in the stock market today, lifting prices 1 to as much as 3 points at their morning highs.

The list was buoyant from the opening and continuing to display a firm undertone despite light profit-taking toward the end of the first hour. Utilities, aviations, chemical and steels were the best groups.

Trading generally, however, was comparatively light as Wall Street awaited this afternoon's balloting to choose the Republican presidential nominee. Sales in the first hour totaled 170,000 shares.

Douglas Aircraft led its group upward with an extreme gain of better than 3 points, while American Air Lines rose more than 2. United Aircraft, Lockheed and Glenn L. Martin each advanced at least a point.

In the chemicals DuPont spurted more than 2 and down about half as much. North American Co. climbed a point, with other utilities doing nearly as well. Chrysler was up a point and General Motors about as much. Westinghouse Electric ran up more than 2 at one time.

Bethlehem advanced more than a point in the first half-hour, but lost part of its gain later. U. S. Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube were fractionally higher.

Advances of a point or more were chalked up by American Car & Foundry, Great Northern Ry. preferred, Kennecott, Libby-Owens-Ford, American Tobacco "B," Industrial Rayon and Loft.

Junior Red Cross Report In Ellwood

Active Health Program Is Being Carried Out In City Report Shows

ELLWOOD CITY, June 27—The annual report of Junior Red Cross activities in Ellwood City shows a most active health program being carried out.

Superintendent J. Ellis Bell assisted by Mrs. Allen Crowe, chairman of Junior Red Cross and all the sponsors throughout the Ellwood City schools have been repsnsible for this excellent program. The report shows the following:

The Chapter cooperated with Miss Edith Shremp, school nurse and supplied capsules for all under-privileged children.

Miss Shremp's report shows 116 students receiving these capsules. Of this total 113 gained in weight and seven increased thir attendance, one improved in general health and one appeared to be stronger.

The other health program has been carried on with students requiring glasses. The Junior Red Cross of Hartman school has made it possible for ten pupils to be seen by a specialist.

There were six vision cases. Five of the cases were fitted with glasses and on our way home after receiving the glasses several of the girls remarked in great surprise, "Oh, I can see to read the signs along the road." The doctor has reported her case to the oculist at Cleveland Clinic and if he believes he can do anything for her, arrangements will be made for her to go to the Clinic

The other four cases were hearing defects. Two cases had wax removed from ears, third case treated and advised how to care for ear during the summer and the fourth case is being seen every two weeks by the doctor and results are noted for the better.

The North Side building has cared for seven eye examinations and glasses for three pupils were needed.

In September they also paid for medicine for a pupil who has epileptic seizures. This pupil has had fewer seizures since treatment has been started.

The West End building aided two pupils to have vision analysis and one was fitted with glasses.

This working fund is the means of aiding a number of pupils to do better school work and also make life more pleasant for them.

Junior C. D. A. Troop Plans Celebration

Arrangements Furthered For District Ralley In This City Sunday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, June 27—Troop Two of the Junior Catholic Daughters of America were pleasantly entertained for the monthly meeting last eventing at the home of Miss Betty Bagosi, of Jefferson avenue.

Arrangements were furthered for the district rally to be held in this city on Sunday afternoon beginning with an initiation service at 2 o'clock at the Elks club and continuing with a field exhibit and picnic supper at Ewing Park grove Butler, New Castle, Midland, Valley Courts and the local units will participate in the gala event.

Bingo was the pleasing diversion of the social hour with the suitable prizes being claimed by Thelma DeTullio, Katherine Walzack, and Angie Port. Miss Bagosi was assisted in serving a refreshing lunch by Miss Betty Paston.

For the next meeting on Wednesday July 24, a picnic was planned to take place at the home of the counsellor, Mrs. Lawrence Desport, of Knox.

Local Fireworks Plant Making Displays For Many Cities On Fourth

Skies of 40 states will be transformed into a galaxy of eye-appealing colors by fireworks manufactured in Lawrence county on Fourth of July night.

Rocco Vitale, of the Vitale Fireworks Company, one of the largest firms of its kind in the United States, today said that the Union township plant is humming with activities as a result of the many orders.

Among other places, the New Castle plant will present displays in Fort Wayne, Indiana, Toledo, Ohio, Harrisburg, Conneaut Lake, Detroit and in about 15 communities throughout the Pittsburgh district.

In addition, the firm will provide fireworks for cities and resorts located from Maine to Idaho to Arizona. The company has also received orders from Florida.

All told, the July Fourth orders amount to approximately $35,000.

The Vitale firm employs about 40 persons.

Reports About 3,500 Americans In England Now

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 27.—American Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy advised the state department in Washington that there are approximately 3,500 American nationals still in England and Eire. Of these, at least 900 definitely desire to return to the United States as soon as transportation can be arranged.

It was stressed that Kennedy's communication to Washington was not in the nature of an appeal for a ship to be dispatched to bring the Americans home. Actually, it was stated, the ambassador was merely advising his home government of the situation prevailing as regards to American citizens abroad within his jurisdiction.

BLACKSNAKE MAKES ATTACK ON NEST OF ROBINS; MEETS DEATH

GROVE CITY, June 27—A stubborn determination to dine on a nest of fledging robins led a five-foot blacksnake to his death on a nearby farm. Reluctant to kill the snake, the farmer dragged the snake out of a tree five times, and each time the snake returned to the attack while the adult robins stood staunchly by the nest.

The farmer finally decided that a dead snake was better than several dead birds, and he despatched the snake with a hoe.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

"Travel America" Via Book Routes

List Of New Books Of Year About Our Own Country Found In Local Library

That this is the year to "travel America," is evident to anyone who reads the news or listens to the news broadcasts. If encouragement for travellers in America were needed it could be found in any of the fine new books which have been coming out this year.

By whatever means you travel or wherever you go, the local public library, suggests you let these books help you to prepare for the trip. If your trip is by the "porchswing or armchair route" it may be enjoyed at no cost whatsoever, and your only passport is your library card.

The library has, in addition to the following list, all the books in that fine series called "The Rivers of America," by Clude B. Davis:

"The Hudson."—Carl Carmer.
"101 American Vacations"—Horace Coon.
"A Southerner Discovers New England"—Jonathan Daniels.
"I Married A Vagabond"—Mrs. P. S. Frauck.
"Summer Roads To Gasp'e"—D C. Hogner.
"I Married Adventure"—Osa Johnson.
"The Land Below the Wind"—Agnes N. Keith.
"So Your'e Seeing New England"—Clara E. Laughlin.

STRAWBERRIES

HARRISBURG.—The size and quality of the 1941 strawberry crop will depend largely upon the care given new plantings this season.

Early runner plants are most productive. One thing that the grower can do at this season to encourage these is to insure an adequate supply of nitrogen. Most plantings will profit by a side dressing of natrate of soda or sulplate of ammonia applied about four weeks after planting.

Stock Market Rallies Today

Gains Of From 1 To 3 Points Chalked Up By Leaders In Market

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, June 27.—A new rally was recorded in the stock market today, lifting prices 1 to as much as 3 points at their morning highs.

The list was buoyant from the opening and continuing to display a firm undertone despite light profit-taking toward the end of the first hour. Utilities, aviations, chemical and steels were the best groups.

Trading generally, however, was comparatively light as Wall Street awaited this afternoon's balloting to choose the Republican presidential nominee. Sales in the first hour totaled 170,000 shares.

Douglas Aircraft led its group upward with an extreme gain of better than 3 points, while American Air Lines rose more than 2. United Aircraft, Lockheed and Glenn L. Martin each advanced at least a point.

In the chemicals DuPont spurted more than 2 and down about half as much. North American Co. climbed a point, with other utilities doing nearly as well. Chrysler was up a point and General Motors about as much. Westinghouse Electric ran up more than 2 at one time.

Bethlehem advanced more than a point in the first half-hour, but lost part of its gain later. U. S. Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube were fractionally higher.

Advances of a point or more were chalked up by American Car & Foundry, Great Northern Ry. preferred, Kennecott, Libby-Owens-Ford, American Tobacco "B," Industrial Rayon and Loft.

Junior Red Cross Report In Ellwood

Active Health Program Is Being Carried Out In City Report Shows

ELLWOOD CITY, June 27—The annual report of Junior Red Cross activities in Ellwood City shows a most active health program being carried out.

Superintendent J. Ellis Bell assisted by Mrs. Allen Crowe, chairman of Junior Red Cross and all the sponsors throughout the Ellwood City schools have been responsible for this excellent program. The report shows the following:

The Chapter cooperated with Miss Edith Shremp, school nurse and supplied capsules for all under-privileged children.

Miss Shremp's report shows 116 students receiving these capsules. Of this total 113 gained in weight and seven increased thir attendance, one improved in general health and one appeared to be stronger.

The other health program has been carried on with students requiring glasses. The Junior Red Cross of Hartman school has made it possible for ten pupils to be seen by a specialist.

There were six vision cases. Five of the cases were fitted with glasses and on our way home after receiving the glasses several of the girls remarked in great surprise, "Oh, I can see to read the signs along the road." The doctor has reported her case to the oculist at Cleveland Clinic and if he believes he can do anything for her, arrangements will be made for her to go to the Clinic.

The other four cases were hearing defects. Two cases had wax removed from ears, third case treated and advised how to care for ear during the summer and the fourth case is being seen every two weeks by the doctor and results are noted for the better.

The North Side building has cared for seven eye examinations and glasses for three pupils were needed.

In September they also paid for medicine for a pupil who has epileptic seizures. This pupil has had fewer seizures since treatment has been started.

The West End building aided two pupils to have vision analysis and one was fitted with glasses.

This working fund is the means of aiding a number of pupils to do better school work and also make life more pleasant for them.

Local Fireworks Plant Making Displays For Many Cities On Fourth

Skies of 40 states will be transformed into a galaxy of eye-appealing colors by fireworks manufactured in Lawrence county on Fourth of July night.

Rocco Vitale, of the Vitale Fireworks Company, one of the largest firms of its kind in the United States, today said that the Union township plant is humming with activities as a result of the many orders.

Among other places, the New Castle plant will present displays in Fort Wayne, Indiana, Toledo, Ohio, Harrisburg, Conneaut Lake, Detroit and in about 15 communities throughout the Pittsburgh district.

In addition, the firm will provide fireworks for cities and resorts located from Maine to Idaho to Arizona. The company has also received orders from Florida.

All told, the July Fourth orders amount to approximately $35,000.

Reports About 3,500 Americans In England Now

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 27.—American Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy advised the state department in Washington that there are approximately 3,500 American nationals still in England and Eire. Of these, at least 900 definitely desire to return to the United States as soon as transportation can be arranged.

It was stressed that Kennedy's communication to Washington was not in the nature of an appeal for a ship to be dispatched to bring the Americans home. Actually, it was stated, the ambassador was merely advising his home government of the situation prevailing as regards to American citizens abroad within his jurisdiction.

New Regulations For Bermuda Entry

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The British embassy announced today that effective July 8 Americans and other foreigners would be required to have passports visaed by British authorities in order to enter Bermuda.

At the same time, it was learned at the state department that the Dominican Republic would require non-nationals to have visaed passports to enter Dominican territory. The ruling will be put into effect July 1.

BLACKSNAKE MAKES ATTACK ON NEST OF ROBINS; MEETS DEATH

GROVE CITY, June 27—A stubborn determination to dine on a nest of fledging robins led a five-foot blacksnake to his death on a nearby farm. Reluctant to kill the snake, the farmer dragged the snake out of a tree five times, and each time the snake returned to the attack while the adult robins stood staunchly by the nest.

The farmer finally decided that a dead snake was better than several dead birds, and he despatched the snake with a hoe.

"Travel America" Via Book Routes

List Of New Books Of Year About Our Own Country Found In Local Library

That this is the year to "travel America," is evident to anyone who reads the news or listens to the news broadcasts. If encouragement for travellers in America were needed it could be found in any of the fine new books which have been coming out this year.

By whatever means you travel or wherever you go, the local public library, suggests you let these books help you to prepare for the trip. If your trip is by the "porchswing or armchair route" it may be enjoyed at no cost whatsoever, and your only passport is your library card.

The library has, in addition to the following list, all the books in that fine series called "The Rivers of America," by Clude B. Davis:

"The Hudson."—Carl Carmer.
"101 American Vacations"—Horace Coon.
"A Southerner Discovers New England"—Jonathan Daniels.
"I Married A Vagabond"—Mrs. P. S. Frauck.
"Summer Roads To Gasp'e"—D. C. Hogner.
"I Married Adventure"—Osa Johnson.
"The Land Below the Wind"—Agnes N. Keith.
"So Your'e Seeing New England"—Clara E. Laughlin.
"Three's A Crew"—Pinkerton.
"Williamsburg"—G. N. Rose.
"Alaska Holiday"—Barrett Willoughby.

HORINKA-VITRIL

Anna Horinka, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Horinka, of Beaver Falls and Joseph Vitril, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Vitril of Newport, were united in marriage at a lovely ceremony Thursday morning in St. John's Roman Catholic church, Monaca. The Rev. John L. Canova officiated, reading the service at 9 o'clock before a large gathering of relatives and friends. Victoria Vosnock, played appropriate music as the bridal party came to the altar. Edith Reda, Beaver Falls, was the bride's only attendant.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother Stephen Horinka. John Vitril, served his brother as best man.

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

IN MEMORIAM

In cherished memory of our beloved daughter and sister, Eleanor L. Crawford, who passed away one year ago today, June 27, 1939, leaving sad and lonely hearts.

"None knew her but to love her,
None named her but to praise."
"To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die."

Sadly missed by mother, father, brothers and sister.

STRAWBERRIES

HARRISBURG.—The size and quality of the 1941 strawberry crop will depend largely upon the care given new plantings this season.

Early runner plants are most productive. One thing that the grower can do at this season to encourage these is to insure an adequate supply of nitrogen. Most plantings will profit by a side dressing of natrate of soda or sulplate of ammonia applied about four weeks after planting.
